OF THE

REPORT OF TRUSTEES.

To the Legislature of the State of New York:

The trustees of the Northern New York Institution for Deaf-Mutes, submit the following report of the work, progress and condition of the institution for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1908.

As we have done in the past, (lest we forget) we again beg to call your attention to the great necessity of adding to our present buildings and facilities a suitable gymnasium for the institution. As we have so frequently urged, the institution has at present no place or building sufficient to afford to the pupils of our school the opportunity of having proper gymnastic exercises, which in the most advanced educational thought are deemed an indispensable part in educational processes. The matter has been already presented to the Legislature and an appropriation asked for, but as yet no action has been taken upon the subject. The exercises which the scholars are now able to take in the industrial building are entirely insufficient, and far greater facilities are imperatively necessary for their proper physical development.

At its last session the Legislature appropriated $5,000, of the $6,800 asked for by us, for furnishings and equipment of the buildings, and for replacing the present electric wiring therein, which has been condemned by the insurance underwriters, for the establishment of a dynamo for an electric lighting plant for the institution and also for rebuilding the laundry building, which had been destroyed by fire, but the appropriation was in terms limited to the reconstruction of the old laundry building.

The laundry building has been rebuilt and is substantially finished, at a cost of about $2,640.33; leaving a balance of $2,359.67 of the $5,000 unexpended. The institution is in great need of all the other things for which the application for the appropriation was made and it is earnestly desired by us that the remainder of said sum of $5,000 be appropriated for the aforesaid purposes.

We beg leave again to call the attention of the Legislature to the great necessity of including in the compulsory education law deaf-mute children, so that they, as well as children having all their faculties, may have the benefit of that law.

The work done in our school has been quite up to its former standard of excellence, and the sanitary and financial conditions and the general health of the school will appear by the reports of the superintendent, treasurer and physician respectively, to which we refer.

We have been very successful in the work of the institution during the last year, and the work of our educational force has been very satisfactory indeed, and we cannot refrain from giving honor and praise to the members of that force, to whom we feel that honor is certainly due.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN P. BADGER,

President.

---

To the Board of Trustees of the Northern New York Institution for Deaf-Mutes:

GENTLEMEN.—The following report for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1908, is respectfully submitted:

So far as health conditions at the institution are concerned, we were extremely fortunate. Not a single case of serious illness was under treatment, not a day's work by a nurse was required, and not even a hospital bed was made for the accommodation of a patient. We have good reason to be grateful for such Providential blessings and it is hoped that by careful devotion to duty, we may merit further special favor.

The whole number of pupils connected with the institution was eighty-seven. Of these forty-four were males and forty-three were females. At present there are thirty-three little ones in the kindergarten, filling the building to its fullest capacity. During the year five new pupils were admitted and seven were dropped from the rolls. Three others are expected at the institution within a week or two.

Our pupils have made commendable progress in school work. Two boys presented themselves for regents' examination in arithmetic and elementary English, and as soon as he passes in spelling one of these will be entitled to a preliminary certificate. The fifth grade took the elementary examinations which are prepared by the State Education Department.

It is expected that two young men will graduate at the close of the present school year: Frederick L. Overton, from Jefferson county, and Robert Paterson, from Washington county. They are young men of splendid character and it is hoped that both will take a collegiate course.

Several changes were made in our corps of teachers. Early in December Miss Knowles was obliged to leave on account of the serious illness of her mother, who afterwards died. Mrs. Mabel Jackman, a graduate of the Potsdam Normal school, was engaged to take her place. The vacancies occasioned by the leaving of the Misses Carter and Margaret Jenkins have been filled by the appointment of Miss E. Melissa Woodhill, a graduate of the Plattsburgh Normal school, and of Miss Hoffman, who was trained at the Scranton Oral School for the Deaf, and by transferring Miss Harwood from the main building to the kindergarten.

The course in manual training has not been changed except to broaden the outline followed last year, by adding stenciling and simple sheet metal work. Last year the highest grade turned out some very commendable pieces, including a hand-carved hall settle, a mirror frame, book-case, and other articles well constructed and beautifully decorated. The girls will continue their work in basketry and leather work will be introduced. Miss Wilde reports that during the past summer many of the girls wore the raffia hats made last year, and that they were both pretty and serviceable. She also points out that as a result of the instruction given in chair caning, one of the boys was able to do the work successfully at home during the summer, and that another boy, who has made good progress in the drawing and painting classes, earned a nice little sum of money by the sale of his water color sketches.

In looking up some of the young men who were once pupils at this institution, it is found that nine of them are following the trade which they learned at school. Such practical results are very gratifying. One of these, Walter J. Kenney, who graduated in the class of 1906, has been put in charge of our own printing office. Our annual report of last year was published under his direction and reflects credit upon his abilities as a printer.

Barbering has been added to our industrial course and it is hoped that instruction in carpentry may be provided in the near future.

The Legislature of 1908 appropriated $5,000 for the reconstruction of our old laundry building, which was partially destroyed by fire last November. As the amount is more than is needed for this purpose and as the bill originally provided for other necessary improvements, it is hoped that an endeavor will be made to secure a reappropriation of the unexpended balance, so that the institution can be supplied with furnishings and equipment, both of which are very much needed. It will probably be conceded that child growth is largely influenced by environment. It is, therefore, our plain duty to make the conditions at school as homelike as possible. This our present income cannot afford, so it is urged that special funds be provided.

It seems necessary to direct attention again to the lack of Normal teachers who have been trained to take up the work of educating the deaf. The needs of the public schools are not neglected, but for our institutions no provision is made by the State. Our teachers must be engaged from any available source. They may have entered some school for the deaf for a year's training as to methods. They may not have done more than to render service for the privilege of observation and occasional substitution in classroom work. And many of them enter the work with lower educational qualifications than our standards should require. Such conditions ought not to exist. Because a child is deaf, his constitutional guarantee of an education ought not to be less valuable than that of his more fortunate brothers and sisters. He has an equally just claim to good teachers, and it ought to be the policy of the State to recognize that claim as a right, not as a charity. The law does not discriminate between the deaf and the hearing child. Then why should the officers of the law? If a normal training is necessary for teachers of hearing children, it is more necessary for teachers of deaf children. Last year there were 1,727 pupils in our schools for the deaf, and although there are twelve normal schools in the State, not one gave any thought to the preparation of teachers for the deaf. The establishment of a department for this purpose in connection with some normal school could be accomplished without difficulty, and it should be done.

Somebody has said, "The greatest good which a boarding school can offer which no public school can give to such a degree, consists in a complete life to live." Analyzed this means that the associations of school life should be of the very best kind — such an association among pupils and teachers as must result in a gratifying standard of conduct and manners. Such an association that the pupils through their teachers can get the highest kind of teaching and of intellectual friendship. Our institutions ought not to be embarrassed by a lack of good teachers, for it is through those women who are qualified by the highest endowments and training, that we can hope to make our schools all that they should be.

Respectfully submitted,

EDWARD C. RIDER,

Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE PHYSICIAN.

To the Board of Trustees of the Northern New York Institution for Deaf-Mutes:

GENTLEMEN.—I have the honor to submit to you my report for the past school year.

I am pleased to report that during the year we have had less sickness in the institution than during any year since I have been connected with the school. We have had no epidemic of any kind, no contagious or infectious cases whatever. We have had no serious cases of any kind. In fact, we have not had a case in the hospital during the year.

The sickness we have had, has been incidental to conditions of the weather, or now and then from indiscretion in eating, which will occasionally occur in spite of watchfulness of the supervisors.

The immunity from sickness has, I think, been due in a large degree to the constant watchfulness and oversight given to the pupils by the superintendent, matron and supervisors. Cases of threatened illness have been reported to me early and what might otherwise have been serious cases have escaped with slight attacks.

The sanitary conditions in and about the school are so closely watched over, and the hygienic care of the little ones so rigidly attended to, that the “ounce of prevention” has been an important factor in the healthfulness of the school, and has reduced greatly the medical care of the pupils during the past year.

Respectfully,

D. R. BELDING,

Physician.

To the Honorable Legislature of the State of New York:

GENTLEMEN.—The Managers of the St. Joseph's Institute for the Improved Instruction of Deaf-Mutes herewith respectfully submits the following brief report of the institution as a whole for the year ending September 30, 1908, to which are annexed the more detailed accounts of superintendents of the three separate schools which, under a general management, comprise the institute, and which are located at Fordham, Brooklyn and Westchester, in the city of New York, the schools at Fordham and Brooklyn being for deaf girls, that at Westchester (Throg's Neck) being the boys' department.

The treasurer's financial statement, reports of attending physicians, and ophthalmologist follow, also list of pupils, legal forms, etc., etc., all of which are annexed hereunto and submitted herewith, being the Thirty-first Annual Report of St. Joseph's Institute.

Total . . . . .	120	95	226	441

For the first time in the school's history the enrollment reached the 500 mark; it is also the first time since the early days of the Boys' Department that the number of girls on the rolls exceeded the number of boys. As the above tables show, the year closed as usual with a few more boys at Westchester than there are girls at Fordham and Brooklyn.

The health report of this family of 504 young folk, ranging from four to twenty years of age, is excellent. Fordham and Brooklyn enjoyed absolute immunity from contagious disease and from serious illness of any kind. At Westchester, seven cases of measles and eleven of chicken pox developed among the small boys. Happily the type was mild, there were no complications and all made good recoveries, as did a case of pneumonia and the numerous lesser aches and ailments, colds, bruises, etc., for which simple remedies, promptly administered, suffice.

The erection of the much needed and therefore ardently desired new building, at Fordham, has been unavoidably postponed. To relieve somewhat the crowded conditions there, a class of twelve little girls with their teacher, were transferred to the Brooklyn school, where they were cordially welcomed and made comfortable. It was also decided to utilize the barn at Fordham for other purposes. The horse was disposed of, carriage, wagon, etc., etc., were stored at Westchester and at a moderate expense, the building was arranged for storing various household materials and for male employees' sleeping rooms. The cottage formerly used by them accommodates some women employees and in case of need, could be used as a quarantine hospital.

For greater protection against fire, a new fire escape was placed on the west side of the Westchester trades building; another on the two-story hospital building at Brooklyn and the one on the school building was improved. Telephone facilities were increased, the alarm system renewed and the "fire drill" practiced regularly.

All other needed repairs recommended by superintendents were authorized. They include plastering, painting, cementing, carpentry, kalsomining, plumbing, repairs of furniture, heating and lighting plants, laundry and other machinery, etc., etc., and the rebuilding of the dock at Westchester.

The educational work of St. Joseph's Institute was carried on progressively. Devotedness to duty has ever characterized our staff, every member of which labored faithfully to advance his or her pupils to the grade limit required, to cultivate habits of neatness, diligence and industry, and to inculcate those high moral principles which, with mental and manual training, form the God-fearing, law-abiding, self-supporting citizen, who will be just and honorable in his intercourse with his fellows.

The superintendents' reports cover the subject more in detail, especially that rendered by Miss O'Connor of Brooklyn, who is also principal of the literary work in the three schools comprising the institute, but we note with pleasure the excellent standing of pupils at the close of the school year last, June, and the recognition given thereto by awarding premiums for conduct, scholarship, drawing and proficiency in industrial work.

The art work deserves commendation, as does the admirable precision with which battalion drill and Butt's Manual were executed by Companies A, B and C, St. Joseph's Cadets at the Westchester School.

Valued outside aid, educational as well as entertaining, was kindly given during the year and is hereby gratefully acknowledged. Several very interesting stereopticon lectures at Fordham and at Westchester were delivered by Rev. M. R. McCarthy, S. J., of Fordham University. Rev. Richard Ormond Hughes of Cathedral College, Manhattan, entertained the Westchester household one Sunday evening in May with his extremely interesting illustrated lecture "A Tour through Ireland," and the Brooklyn school was similarly favored by Rev. C. F. Vitta, who gave several lectures on sacred and historical subjects.

A day at Steeplechase Park, Coney Island, was enjoyed by the three schools, through the kindly courtesy of Mr. George Tilyou, proprietor.

Company A, St. Joseph's Cadets, of Westchester, attended a review of the Xavier Grammar School Cadets, in the 9th Regiment Armory, for which privilege we are indebted to Rev. J. Carney, S. J., of the College of St. Francis Xavier. Through the efforts of Mr. J. J. Tully, Director of Military Tactics, the officers of Companies A and B, St. Joseph's Cadets, attended a "Review" at the West Point Military Academy, Mr. Tully accompanying his subordinates on the trip.

The older girls of Fordham and Brooklyn spent a pleasant afternoon at the New York Hippodrome and had a day's outing together at Coney Island through the friendly efforts of Mrs. R. Pearsall of Brooklyn. Fordham and Westchester pupils attended a matinee performance of "The Teddy Bears" at Blaney's Theatre, by courtesy of the New York World. The Esquimaux Exhibition at Tremont Library was visited and a lecture thereupon attentively followed by Fordham and Westchester pupils of an age to profit thereby.

A repetition of the Washington Birthday entertainment program by New York Catholic Protectory boys, is a much-appreciated favor greatly enjoyed by the Westchester School. It is but one of many which we owe to the unfailing kindness of Rev. Brother Henry, superintendent of the above-named institution. Another was the services of the Protectory Band at our Boys' Department Commencement Exercises in June.

Detailed mention of countless other favors is omitted. In conclusion the management briefly but gratefully acknowledges donations of money, candy, nuts, flowers, fruit and vegetables; books and periodicals, pictures, toys; medals, etc., for premiums; also the courtesy of State, city and county officials; and the faithful, harmonious co-operation of all engaged in the actual work of the Institute. All of which, under God's blessing, achieved success in the past and promises continued future progress in the great work of educating the deaf.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF THE BOYS' DEPARTMENT

To the Board of Managers:

LADIES.— In submitting the yearly report of the Boys' Department of St. Joseph's Institute for the Improved Instruction of Deaf-Mutes, it is a pleasure to state that the high standard of excellence which is the aim of educational work has been maintained, and that the year in review was marked by progressive measures in the various lines or departments comprising the school.

The registration was larger than ever — 250, including thirty-three who were admitted, and twenty-four whose school life at Westchester ended during the year. On September 30, 1908, the enrollment was 226, classified according to provision made for their support as follows:

State pupils .....	101
County pupils .....	104
Private pupils .....	21
Total ..	226

The enrollment at the close of the year divides, according to age, almost evenly into two groups — under 12 and over 12:

5 to 12 years of age.....	114
12 to 19 years of age.....	112
Total ..	226

Of this total, only three are listed as "not deaf; speech defective," 223 are either totally or partially deaf, and of these, sixty are classed as congenitally deaf; 163, adventitiously deaf. The assigned causes of adventitious deafness are:

Abscess in ear, 3; blood poisoning, 1; brain fever, 11; bronchitis, 1; catarrh, 5; convulsions, 10; croup, 1; diphtheria, 4; erysipelas, 2; fall, accident, 10; hydrocephalus, 1; intermittent fever, 2; measles, 10; nervous trouble, 1; paralysis, 2; pneumonia, 2; scarlet fever, 18; shock or fright, 1; spinal meningitis, 61; teething, 1; typhoid fever, 1; unknown, 12; whooping cough, 3; adventitiously deaf, 163; congenitally deaf, 60; not deaf, 3; total, 226.

The health record was excellent. No fatal illness, and not a broken bone in a family of 250 boys is surely cause for thankfulness and is the more remarkable since, as a rule, the constitution has been more or less enfeebled by the serious illness or the unknown cause or influence which destroyed or impaired the sense of hearing. A single case of pneumonia developed and eleven cases of chicken pox and seven cases of measles, among the younger children. These were quarantined and happily nothing more serious appeared, a fact we note with special gratitude, as scarlet fever and diphtheria were alarmingly prevalent last winter.

However, our doctors and nurses were not without duties to perform. Eyes of a few and ears of many required at least daily treatment, not to mention pains and aches, slight colds, cuts, burns, bruises, etc., and numerous visits to the dentist for the relief of aching teeth. We consider it a duty to acknowledge that under God, credit for the year's good record is due our attending physician and infirmarian, and to teachers and supervisors who report any symptoms of illness or indisposition in their charges as soon as such appear, and care promptly given generally prevents serious illness.

The usual holidays excepted, school work was never interrupted, the daily session beginning at 9 A. M. and ending at 3:30 P. M. with a ten minutes' recess forenoon and afternoon, for the kindergarten and primary classes, and a noon recess of an hour and a quarter for all. Military drill and industrial training are given before and after school hours, the time thus employed varying from one to two hours every school day; from two to four hours on Saturdays. There is also a "study hour" for senior and intermediate classes, but ample time is devoted to play, which growing, healthy boys require.

Class work is supplemented by that of sodalities, literary, dramatic and athletic clubs, each helpful in its line, and all promoting our general educational work.

A few changes occurred in our teaching staff. Two resigned in favor of matrimony and two others to accept positions elsewhere at the opening of the current school year. These vacancies were promptly filled and all our staff work faithfully and devotedly, a fact we acknowledge with fullest appreciation. The united efforts of teachers and pupils enjoy, as such efforts must, their due measure of success.

In school and out, every possible encouragement is given to cultivate the reading habit, not only on account of its importance as an aid to language teaching, but to train our pupils to use leisure time profitably as well as pleasantly. Our school library is well stocked and the number of volumes on its shelves increases yearly. The reading room too is well supplied with papers and magazines, many of which are donated and others received from schools for the deaf throughout the country, in exchange for our school paper, ST. JOSEPH OF THE OAKS, which is published monthly in the printing department, the typesetting, presswork, etc., on same, and the stitching, binding, trimming and wrapping for the mail bag being done by pupils of the classes in printing.

Here we must mention the industrial work of the institution, which was excellent and very creditable to teachers and pupils, though we omit a detailed account of the actual work accomplished during the year.

Numerous repairs, ordinary and extraordinary, were made during the year. The dock on Westchester creek had become unsafe and was therefore practically rebuilt. The chapel, basement of main building, stair towers and central stairway from basement to main floor were decorated; the woodwork throughout same was sandpapered and varnished; and the concrete floors in the basement of main and trades buildings were given two coats of a kind of cement paint which settled at once the dust and the dust problem we have been trying to solve since these floors began to wear.

A new fire escape was placed on the west side of the trades or seniors' building with door opening from every floor to landings of same. A small concrete storehouse for paints, etc., was constructed near the boiler house. New fixtures for improved lighting replaced others in several classrooms and in the kitchen. There were also repairs of plumbing and heating plant, laundry and industrial machinery, etc., necessitated by constant use to maintain comfort, order and sanitation throughout the institution.

In conclusion we gratefully acknowledge the prompt consideration and approval given by the managers to recommendations submitted them, the hearty co-operation of teaching and household staff, the generosity of the institution's many kind friends, and above all thanking God for the manifold blessings of the year and trustfully confiding the future to His divine protection,

I have the honor to remain,

Very respectfully yours,

ELLEN E. CLOAK,

Superintendent.

REPORT OF GIRLS' DEPARTMENT

To the Board of Managers:

LADIES.—Notwithstanding the many obstacles that have had to be encountered during the past year, we have great cause for gratitude; there has been no serious illness, and work has gone on regularly in the classroom and in the industrial department. At the close of the scholastic year June 30, 1907, there were 125 names on our lists. Of these, four, whose terms expired, were honorably discharged, two were graduates and received diplomas; nine were withdrawn by relatives to help at home, and one was returned to her relatives on account of ill health. Thirteen of our pupils were transferred to our Brooklyn house owing to want of space here. An Italian child went to Italy with her father. During the year there were twenty-three admitted, making the total number of pupils in school on September 30, 1908, 120.

Unavoidable difficulties have delayed the erection of a new building, in consequence of which improvements had to be made in order to give necessary accommodation. A comfortable sleeping room has been arranged in the upper part of the barn, for the use of the gardener; the cottage formerly occupied by him has been renovated and fitted up for dormitories for some of the employees, and to be used in case of necessity for a quarantine cottage. Two toilets with water supply for the pupils' use, have been built at one end of their playground, which owing to the cutting through of a street, is separated from the main grounds. The driveway at the main entrance to the Institute has been rearranged and a flagged sidewalk laid from house to the entrance gate.

Our pupils of the senior division have joined the Tremont branch of the public library, and are allowed to take books every two weeks; their teachers assist them in selecting instructive as well as interesting reading matter.

Thanks to the kindness of Mr. George C. Tilyou, Manager of Steeplechase park, Coney Island, and to the courtesy of his assistants, our pupils spent a very enjoyable day in the park in September. Mr. Tilyou has arranged Steeplechase park in so admirable a manner, and supplied it with so many interesting amusements, it was quite easy to keep our large number of children together and happily entertained throughout the day.

We are glad to embrace this opportunity of expressing our gratitude to all who have labored with us so devotedly during the past year. We trust that He in whose all powerful hands, the future as well as the present rests, will enable us soon to erect the much-needed building, to carry on our work among the ever-increasing number of His deaf children.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY A. KENNEDY,

Superintendent.

---

To the Board of Managers:

LADIES.—At the opening of the present fiscal year, this branch of St. Joseph's Institute registered a larger number of pupils than ever before, that being due to the transfer of twelve from the Fordham School. Had this change not been made our number would have remained about the same as last year, the new admissions being not much in excess of the discharged. The pupils who left last June have all obtained satisfactory employment. Our lower classes having become overcrowded, we were obliged to form a new class and employ another teacher.

We continued the same course of study as at Westchester and Fordham though we have but eight classes, while in Westchester there are eighteen and in Fordham ten. Two years are spent in preparatory work. The first chiefly in kindergarten occupations, sense training with some speech work, the second in building up a vocabulary—the first step towards language. In the third year, pupils begin to express their ideas in written sentences, and the great task of teaching them to read is begun. We follow a systematic progressive series of lessons, which leads the pupils, step by step, to form the simplest form of sentence structure to the intricacies of technical grammar. The method has been carefully worked out and followed for several years in the three branches of the Institution and results have been very satisfactory.

Only an experienced teacher can fully understand the difficulty of imparting to a deaf child, that knowledge of language which will enable him to grasp the full import of matter, he so easily commits to memory and appears to understand.

The amount of attention given to language, together with that which speech claims, if we would make it a success, must necessarily retard, for some time, a pupil's advancement in common school branches, but the losses can generally be made up later on.

We do no high school work.

At the suggestion of Mr. A. E. Hill, Inspector from the State Educational Department, we have made considerable effort to conform our grade work as much as possible, to that of the syllabus for common schools of the State.

After studying the matter and making the test for more than a year, we have found that it is not profitable, even if possible, to conform more closely than we have been doing, until we reach the eighth or ninth year of our course. Then work of the fifth grade (syllabus), might be taken up but could not be completed in the time given to it by hearing children.

Industrial training claims so much attention that we are obliged to devote to it a portion of the time we would fain give to supplementary reading. There seems to be no remedy — pupils must be furnished with a means of procuring a livelihood after they leave school. It is our duty to provide for that necessity as best we can.

Dressmaking seems to be the most reliable trade for deaf girls. There is always and everywhere a demand for competent workers in that line. It is the only trade we teach. As preparatory work, we have classes in plain, hand and machine sewing. In the dress-making class there are about sixteen pupils, twenty others are learning to sew by machine, fifteen make undergarments by hand, and two classes of little girls, under fourteen years of age, spend one hour a day practicing various kind of stitches. The cooking class consists of from eight to ten girls. The lessons, given Saturday afternoons only, are eagerly followed and much appreciated. It is not probable that any of our pupils will use their skill in cooking as a means of self-support, but they will turn it to account in their own families.

The same may be said of laundry work, in which the older pupils spend one hour a week.

The perfect immunity from contagious diseases or serious illness, that we have enjoyed through the entire year, is in itself a proof of the care taken to safeguard the health of our children.

The attending physician could not be surpassed in devotedness and painstaking kindness to each and every child needing his services. Nurses and supervisors are exact in carrying out his least suggestions and thereby prevent any spread of disease.

Monthly reunions of former pupils have continued as during previous years. The good resulting from these meetings becomes more apparent as time goes on. By means of them, the Institute spreads its protecting influence over the lives of its pupils, long after they have ceased to depend upon it; and as experience gives these young people truer notions of life, they come back with greater confidence than ever to seek advice from those who understand their difficulties, and are always ready to help them out, by showing them how to help themselves.

The success of our year's work is chiefly due to the faithful, conscientious devotedness of our teachers, and all others who have labored with us. But for their co-operation, our efforts would have come to naught.

It remains for us now to express our grateful acknowledgment of the kindness and courtesy of the inspectors representing the Department of Education and the State Board of Charities, whose official visits have been most agreeable and encouraging to teachers and pupils.

We close our report in the firm confidence that the good already accomplished, will, with the blessing of Divine Providence, continue to increase from year to year.

Respectfully submitted,

N. FRANCIS O'CONNOR,

Superintendent.

Physicians' Report

To the Board of Managers:

LADIES.—During the past year St. Joseph's Institute, Fordham, has been free from any very serious diseases. A mild case of diphtheria occurred, which was promptly isolated and its spread to the other children prevented. This case made a good recovery. I cannot commend too highly the care which the ladies of the Institute give these children nor can I thank them sufficiently for their hearty co-operation with me in the discharge of my duty.

Very respectfully,

WM. J. O'BYRNE,
Attending Physician.

To the Board of Managers:

LADIES.—Only one case of serious illness has occurred among the pupils of the Brooklyn Department of the Institute during the past year.

This little patient, shortly after admission, was found to be suffering from a mild attack of typhoid fever. She made an uneventful recovery.

I desire to express my appreciation of the healthful conditions under which the pupils live, and to thank the Superintendent and her assistants for much courtesy and kind co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

RALPH M. MEAD, M. D.,
Attending Physician.

To the Board of Managers:

LADIES.—During the past year we had no fatal illness at the Westchester institution. There were several cases of chicken-pox, one case of lobar pneumonia and seven cases of measles, all of which made complete recoveries.

In so numerous a household I consider the year's health record exceptionally good, largely due to excellent hygienic conditions and to the watchful care given by those in charge to the children in health, indisposition, illness and convalescence.

Very respectfully,

WILLIAM H. POUND, M. D.,
Attending Physician.

Westchester, New York.

Ophthalmologist's Report

To the Ladies of St. Joseph's Institute:

During the past year the eyes of the children at Fordham and Westchester have been in excellent condition.

At Westchester there have been under treatment the following cases:

Conjunctivitis (follicular and simple) . . . . .	5
Trachoma . . . . .	3

At Fordham there have been but a few mild cases of conjunctivitis and but one of trachoma.

Many children have needed and been provided with glasses.

Respectfully submitted,

C. COLE BRADLEY, M. D.

616 Madison avenue.

APPENDIX.

The managers of St. Joseph's Institute for the Improved Instruction of Deaf-Mutes devote their means and energies to further its work. Suitable and convenient accommodations have been provided for the pupils committed to their charge. The welfare of the deaf is the primary object of their work, and their aim and endeavor, that St. Joseph's Institute equal in every respect the best institutions in the country.

Particular attention is given to the industrial training of the pupils. The boys are taught printing, carpentry, shoemaking, tailoring, baking and gardening; and the girls, dressmaking, plain, and fancy sewing, cooking and household duties so that they may be useful, self-reliant and self-supporting men and women.

Idiotic children cannot be admitted to this institution, and offensive, contagious or infectious diseases also preclude admission.

Children over five and under twelve years of age, to be supported at public expense may be admitted to the institution by a certificate from the county supervisor or the overseer of the poor. Those over twelve must secure a certificate of appointment from the Commissioner of Education, at Albany. Application for the admission of private pupils should be made to the Superintendent of whichever branch of the Institute to which admission is sought.

Persons conducting pupils to the institution, or visiting them while there, cannot be provided with board and lodging during their stay.

The girls' department is located at No. 772 East 188th street, Fordham, New York city. It may be reached by way of the Harlem railroad, Third avenue L, or Fordham trolleys. There is also a branch house for girls in Brooklyn, 113 Buffalo avenue, between Dean and Bergen streets, convenient to Ralph avenue station of the Kings County Elevated Railway, and the Bergen street trolleys.

The department for boys is at Westchester, Throg's Neck. It can be reached by way of the New Haven railroad (Harlem River Branch). Trains leave Elevated station at 129th street and Third avenue every hour. Also by trolley from Tremont avenue or West Farms or Westchester avenue trolley from 129th street or along its route, which transfers to the Fort Schuyler line, the terminal of which is but a short walk from the Institution.

FORTY-SECOND ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Trustees and Officers of the Institution for the Improved Instruction of Deaf-Mutes.

(904 LEXINGTON AVENUE, NEW YORK CITY.)

For the Year 1909.

---

THE PRINCIPAL'S REPORT.

To the Board of Trustees:

GENTLEMEN.—I have the honor to submit for your consideration the forty-second annual report of this Institution for the school year ending October 15, 1908.

At the time of my last report, October 15, 1907, there were in attendance at the Institution 219 pupils, with a total of 241 under instruction during the year 1906-7. Since that time 33 have been admitted, of whom 19 are boys and 14 are girls. Forty-two left the Institution, 25 of whom were boys, and 17 were girls, leaving an attendance at this date of 210 — 9 less than on the corresponding date last year. This decrease is due to the large number who graduated and left the Institution to go to work, and to the opening of the public day school in this city — several of the children having taken advantage of the opportunity to go to and from school daily. There is at this time a material decrease in the number of applicants for admission, but there will be no difficulty in keeping the Institution filled, as there are many deaf children in the city not under instruction. Because of the action of the Department of Public Charities of the city appointing only Jewish children to this Institution, we received into school about one out of every five applicants for admission. There are at this date fifteen applications on file unapproved by the Department. Many of the parents did not take the certificates of appointment to the Department, knowing it was useless to try to gain admission.

The total number of pupils who received instruction during the year 1907-08 was 252 — 11 more than during the preceding year. The average number who received instruction in the Institution during the past seven years was 248, with an average attendance of 215.

The following tabulated statement shows the classification of pupils:

Twenty-five pupils were, wholly or in part, cared for by the institution during the vacation months, the average attendance being twenty. As has been the custom, a small staff of supervisors and attendants was retained to care for them. Their vacation was made as pleasant and profitable as possible.

The health of all connected with the institution was exceptionally good. There was no serious sickness, and only a few cases of the usual children's diseases were reported. Israel Rosenfeld, six years old, one year in school, died suddenly at his home during vacation. Thomas McCartney, formerly supervisor of boys, and in recent years night watchman, died suddenly in the institution early in the spring. His place has been filled satisfactorily by the appointment of Thomas Regan.

No radical changes in methods of instruction were made during the year. Our aim is to give the pupils the greatest mental development and the most complete understanding of the English language possible. We believe this is best attained by the use, on the part of the teachers and pupils, of spoken and written language to the entire exclusion of signs and the manual alphabet as a means of instruction. The class-room results each year confirm this opinion. The three examinations taken at the suggestion of the State Educational Department fully demonstrated the ability of our pupils to meet the requirements of that Department. In order to clearly understand the purpose and the results of these examinations, I append a brief statement.

The New York State Education Department several years ago requested institutions for the deaf of the State to try its course of study and syllabus for elementary schools, with a view to having the pupils take the fifth grade examination as a basis upon which a systematic grading of the several schools could be made. We were doubtful of the practicability of such action, and fearful of the results upon the mental development of the pupils, if the syllabus was adhered to as presented by the Department. In order to fully convince ourselves that the course of study of this institution covered practically the same ground in a different manner, and feeling that our course of study was better adapted to the education of the deaf than a course prepared for hearing children, we did not materially alter the course as used in this school, nor did we wholly adopt the elementary syllabus. We adjusted certain parts of our course to meet the requirements of the Department's course, and then took the examination with the following results:

In June, 1907, twenty pupils took the fifth grade examination, nine pupils took the sixth grade, and nine the seventh grade. In some cases the same pupils took the fifth, sixth and seventh grades. All the papers, except those in history, were sent to Albany to be marked. Of the twenty pupils who took the fifth grade examination, sixteen passed seventy-five per cent or more, in arithmetic; sixteen in geography; fifteen in language and twenty in spelling. There was no history examination in this grade. The oldest pupil was eighteen years old, a semi-mute, deaf at ten years of age, and was five years under instruction in the institution; the youngest pupil was twelve years old; deaf at five years of age, and was seven years under instruction. The longest period of instruction for any pupil was eleven years. This child was congenitally deaf. The shortest period for any was three years — a semi-mute. Of the nine pupils who took the sixth grade, nine passed seventy-five percent or more, in language, and eight in arithmetic. The other examinations did not meet the requirements. Of the nine pupils who took the seventh grade examination, four passed in language; eight in arithmetic; seven in geography; three in nature study and agriculture; three in physiology and nine in spelling. This class was the highest grade in school; average age sixteen years; average time in school eight years. The class average in language (Department's marks) was seventy-four percent; in arithmetic ninety-seven and an eighth percent; in geography seventy-nine and five-ninths; in nature study and agriculture seventy-two and four-ninths percent; in physiology sixty-seven and four-ninths percent; in spelling ninety-seven and one-third percent, and in history fifty-four percent. Owing to a misunderstanding in regard to the requirements in history, the papers were not sent to Albany. The percentage as given is the teacher's mark.

The second examination was taken in March, 1908, when the grade questions of January, 1908, were used. The showing in this examination compared favorably with that of March, 1907. These papers were not sent to Albany.

The third examination was taken in June, 1908, when in addition to the regular fifth, sixth and seventh grades, nine pupils took the high school examination in arithmetic and geography. All the papers were sent to the State Education Department to be marked. Twenty-eight pupils took the examination. The class averages (Department marks) in the seventh grade were: English, seventy-four and five-ninths percent; arithmetic, ninety-six and one-eighth percent; geography, seventy-eight and two-thirds percent; history, eighty-two and two-thirds percent; physiology, seventy-four percent; spelling, ninety percent. In the sixth grade: English seventy-six and one-eighth percent; arithmetic, eighty and one-half percent; geography, sixty-one and five-eighths percent; spelling, eighty-four percent. In the fifth grade (same class as took the sixth grade): geography, eighty-three percent; physiology, eighty percent. In the fifth grade (another class): English, sixty-eight percent; arithmetic, ninety-five percent; geography, seventy-eight percent; physiology, sixty-six percent; spelling, eighty-six percent. The class averages of the nine pupils who took the arithmetic and geography of the high school course were eighty-five percent in each branch. It will be observed that the third examination compared very favorably with the first.

These examinations are of little practical value except to show that some deaf children, if given sufficient time in school, can do what some normal children can do. It does not prove that the elementary syllabus and course of study, as arranged by the State Education Department for hearing children, is the proper course of study for the State's deaf children. We have not closely adhered to the Department's course, but have made slight alterations in our course to meet the requirements of the examination. We feel that in adopting a course of study planned for hearing children, we would be handicapped seriously in giving the deaf children that particular kind of mental development necessary in order to have them best fitted for life's work, for the course is not especially adapted to their needs. A few deaf children are able to pass the examinations by following the courses of study planned for deaf children, but will a course planned for hearing children better qualify a deaf child to pass the examinations, and better prepare them to go out into the world? We do not think so. We favor a general examination from a central authority, based upon a course of study planned for deaf children. We cannot entirely set aside the fact that we are educating abnormal children and need special plans and methods, although our object is to make these children as near normal as possible. A course of study for the deaf children of the State could easily be arranged that would lead up to the elementary grade examination, giving those who could never reach the fifth grade a much better chance for a broader development than the elementary syllabus offers. We hope the State Education Department will take steps in that direction. No change in the examinations is needed, nor asked for, but a different course of study is required to prepare the average deaf child to stand the examinations of the average hearing child. In the education of deaf children, the plans and methods of work used with hearing children do not fully meet the needs, even when a much longer term in school is allowed. We hope the Department will continue these examinations.

In June, our advanced class of eight pupils was graduated. The members of the class were as follows:

Annie Bernhardt,	Fannie Mears,
Annie Klein,	Ruth Arnold,
Katie Kreisworth,	James Morrissey,
Libbie Silberman,	Taube Eisenberg.

This class had taken three regular examinations of the State Education Department, embracing the fifth, sixth and seventh grades, and in addition, the arithmetic and geography of the high school examination. Their graduation depended upon their ability to pass the seventh grade. One member of the class, Jack Haff, did not graduate, and was given a certificate of discharge. Some of these pupils had been in the institution only a few years, while others had received their entire education here. The average age was seventeen years; average time in school nine years. Annie Bernhardt and Katie Kreisworth have been employed by the institution. Exercises were conducted in connection with the graduation of the class, and a number of the friends of the Institution were present.

The Levi Goldenberg prizes, awarded to the pupils for the greatest general progress in their respective grades of work, were as follows:

Levi Goldenberg Prizes:

First Prize — Ruth Arnold, $15.

Second Prize — Fred Haberstroh, $10.

Class Prizes — Advanced Grade:

First Class — Annie Klein.

Second Class — (No prize).

Third Class — Abram Kreisworth.

Fourth Class — Mary Hornstein.

Fifth Class — May Erickson.

Class Prizes — Intermediate Grade:

Sixth Class — Katie Goldwater.

Seventh Class — Rose Loebel.

Eighth Class — Annie Lindenschmidt.

Mrs. Paul M. Herzog offered prizes to the pupils who prepared the best original essays on any given subject. The subject chosen was "The Empire State." The prizes were won by Annie Bernhardt and James Morrissey.

The Deaf-Mutes Union League founded two industrial prizes; one for a boy and the other for a girl, doing the best work in the Industrial Department. The prizes were $10 each, and given to Austin Fogarty and Annie Bernhardt.

The Ladies' Auxiliary Committee prizes, and Mrs. Darby's industrial prizes, were awarded as follows:

Sewing: Miss Hart's Class — Annie Hamburger.

Miss von Schuckman's Class — First, Florence Frankenthaler; second, Bella Pusrin; third, Sadie Cohen.

Miss Laporte's Class — Katie Goldwater.

Manual Training: Mr. Powers' Class — Simon Teich.

Miss Hine's Class — First, Samuel Orenstein; second Joseph Griaco; third, Ruben Jacobson.

Carpentry: Mr. Woessner's Class — Ruben Fischel.

Tailoring: Mr. Klein's Class — Samuel Teich.

Cooking: Miss Louise Nesbitt's Class — Estella Kind.

Gymnastic: Mr. Kupfer's Classes — Isidore Greenberger, Ruth Arnold.

These prizes will be distributed, as in former years, on November 29th, the anniversary of the death of Mr. Levi Goldenberg, in whose honor some of the prizes were founded.

The usual examinations were conducted by the principal and teachers, and the regular inspections of the State Board of Charities, the State Education Department and the City Department of Finance were made during the year.

Several changes were made in the corps of instructors. Miss Edith M. La Motte resigned to go to her home in Wilmington, Delaware; Miss Lydia Cooke, for a number of years a faithful teacher in this and other schools for the deaf, resigned to do church work in North Andover, Massachusetts; Miss Mary B. Shaw and Miss Harriet L. Calahan, for a number of years connected with this institution, entered the new day school for the deaf in this city. These vacancies have been filled by the appointment of Miss Grace C. Wheeler, Miss Etta Bishop, Miss Ellen I. Culver, all trained in this school, and Miss Evelyn O. Taylor, as substitute teacher and teacher in training.

The drawing of the eight advanced classes was conducted as usual during the year. At the close of the school term, the Board of Trustees feeling that the school could not afford to continue this work, decided to stop drawing in all the classes. Under Mr. Powers, the work had reach a high degree of usefulness and the pupils greatly enjoyed the exercises. Several of the pupils show great talent in drawing, and it is a source of deep regret to all that it was necessary for the Board to take this action. The classes in calisthenics, for both boys and girls, were conducted as in former years. An excellent exhibition of the work of these classes was given at the closing exercises in June. No part of our work is more important than this, and all the pupils in the main building received instruction under an experienced teacher. The classes average about twenty-five pupils each.

In the Industrial Department instruction has been continued in all the branches of work of former years, except the class of twenty boys in manual training under Mr. Powers, and the six classes in cooking under Miss Louise Nesbitt. These classes were discontinued by the Board of Trustees, feeling that a curtailment of expenses was necessary. No other branches of industrial work have as yet been substituted. An excellent exhibit of the Industrial Department was shown at the closing exercises. Miss Alice V. Hart resigned her position as teacher in sewing; Miss von Schuckmann was placed in charge of her work, and Miss Annie Bernhardt, a graduate of this school, was given the class of small girls. The work of all the industrial classes was of the usual high order, and the amount accomplished compared very favorably with previous years.

I respectfully refer you to the report of Dr. L. M. Michaelis, the attending physician, for a statement in detail as to the health of the pupils, and to the report of Dr. W. W. Newton, Jr., as to the dental operations. Dr. E. L. Meierhoff made his usual inspection of the pupils for infectious eye trouble, and gave the same careful attention to the eyes, ears and throats of the pupils as characterized his work of former years.

In the household only a few changes were made. Mr. J. H. James, steward, left the Institution, and Miss Annie Carroll, for a number of years his assistant, was placed in charge of the work. Miss Roberta Macatee, supervisor of small girls, resigned, and Miss Margaret Clements was appointed to succeed her.

Very slight repairs were made to the building. Through the generosity of Mr. Jacob Fischel, a member of the Board of Trustees, we were enabled to replace the floors of the four large dormitories. Mr. Fischel gave the lumber, and the boys laid the floors. This was a much needed improvement and is appreciated very greatly by all.

By careful purchasing and strict economy, the Institution has been able to maintain its standard at a less cost than the preceding year, although the cost of supplies was much higher. For a detailed statement of receipts and disbursements, I respectfully refer you to the accompanying report of the finance committee.

Our thanks are gratefully tendered to the following persons for special contributions:

REPORT OF THE ATTENDING PHYSICIAN.

To the Board of Trustees:

Gentlemen.—It affords me pleasure to be able to report that during the present year, in addition to a very limited number of cases of trivial ailments among the pupils, I have had under treatment only the following:

Three cases of chicken pox, eleven of German measles and seven of mumps — all uncomplicated, and all recovering satisfactorily.

There have been no deaths among the pupils in the institution during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

L. M. MICHAELIS,

Attending Physician.

REPORT OF THE ATTENDING DENTIST.

To the Board of Trustees:

Gentlemen.—I have the honor to submit my annual report as follows:

Extractions .....	273	Cases of follicular stomatitis re-
Amalgam fillings .....	389	duced.....	2
Cement fillings .....	136	Cases of ulitis reduced.....	4

REPORT OF THE FINANCE COMMITTEE FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDING AUGUST 31, 1908.

To the Association for Improved Instruction of Deaf-Mutes, 904 Lexington Avenue, New York:

Gentlemen:—The Finance Committee reports that through a system of the most rigid economy, the actual expenses for the last fiscal year, as compared with those immediately preceding it, have been somewhat reduced. It is to be doubted, however, whether the economies practiced in some directions during the past year can be continued indefinitely without decreasing the efficiency of the work performed at the institution, or without allow-the building to deteriorate.

A comparative statement for the past and present fiscal years is annexed. It will be seen that the income from private sources is substantially larger than it has heretofore been in any one year, the amount of the donations being the result of persistent efforts on the part of the Board to enable the institution to meet its current obligations. Our income from private sources has again been sufficient to meet the annual interest on the so-called Building Loan Certificates, but none of it has been applied to that purpose this year, owing to the urgency of the demands from other directions. The holders of Building Loan Certificates have again been good enough to defer insistence upon their dues indefinitely at the request of the Committee.

Since the last report of the Finance Committee, Building Loan Certificates to the par value of two thousand dollars ($2,000) have been surrendered, and thanks therefor are due as follows:

Mr. Samuel Sachs.....	$1,000 00
Mr. Ludwig Dreyfus.....	1,000 00
	<hr/>
	<hr/> <hr/>

The present outstanding certificates are of the par value of thirty-seven thousand, seven hundred and fifty dollars ($37,750). Some years ago, the efforts of a special committee resulted in the reduction on the part of practically all certificate holders of their interest from five percent (5%) to three percent (3%), and even this interest has now been withheld during the past two years.

The names of our generous friends for the past year are an-nexed to this report, and our thanks are due to them for aiding the institution to continue its work. Their gifts made it possible for the institution to supplement its deficiency in various directions, and to carry on the work of the institution without materially lessening its efficiency.

The donations were originally placed in a special fund at the disposal of the Treasurer of the institution, and this was utilized to obtain our supplies at the very lowest market prices. It has, however, been deemed best, in order to prevent unnecessary duplication of accounts, to merge the amounts subscribed to this special fund with the regular funds of the institution.

The thanks of the institution are also due to one of the members of its Board, Mr. J. Fischel, for his generosity in supplying the lumber necessary for renewing the floors in the dormitories, and himself superintending the work.

The Committee repeats its prediction of last year, that the institution must either from private or public sources obtain additional assistance, or its efficiency must soon be materially lessened. The income derived from State and counties is not sufficient, in spite of the rigid economy practiced, to meet the cost of teaching, maintaining and clothing the children placed under our care.

We have been enabled through the efficient services of Mr. Charles H. Young, of Westchester county, to collect long past due claims due the institution from the counties of Westchester and Rockland, and our thanks are due to him for the promptness with which the claims were collected, as well as for the generous contribution of his services to the Association without charge of any kind. Due acknowledgment thereof has been made by resolution of the Board, but as these claims had been considered hopeless by us, it is deemed fitting by the Finance Committee to here again note the Association's appreciation of Mr. Young's service.

The vouchers, receipts and books of the Association and of the officers have been carefully examined by the Committee and found correct. The bank books and vouchers of the deposit account have also been carefully audited and found correct and in good order.

For further particulars as to receipts and expenditures, the Committee refers to the annexed schedules in the Treasurer's report.

Respectfully submitted,

ARTHUR LEHMAN, Chairman,

Finance Committee.

Approved by the governor, February 18, 1892; passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section two of chapter three hundred and twenty-five of the laws of eighteen hundred and sixty-three, as heretofore amended, is hereby further amended so as to read as follows:

Any parent, guardian or friend of a deaf-mute child, within this state, over the age of five years and under the age of twelve years, may make application to the overseer of the poor of any town or to any supervisor of the county where such child may be, showing, by satisfactory affidavit or other proof, that the health, morals or comfort of such child may be endangered, or not properly cared for, and thereupon it shall be the duty of such overseer or supervisor to place such child in the New York Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, or in the Institution for the Improved Instruction of Deaf-Mutes, or in the Le Couteulx St. Mary's Institution for the Improved Instruction of Deaf-Mutes in the city of Buffalo, or in the Central New York Institution for Deaf-Mutes in the city of Rome; or in the Albany Home School for the Oral Instruction of the Deaf at Albany, or in any institution in the state for the education of deaf-mutes, as to which the board of state charities shall have made and filed with the superintendent of public instruction a certificate to the effect that said institution has been duly organized and is prepared for the reception and instruction of such pupils.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

REGULATIONS OF THE MEDICAL BOARD.

I. The medical board shall consist of five members, to wit: the regular attending physician, an oculist and aurist, a dermatologist, a surgeon, a consulting physician and the chairman of the house committee of the board of trustees. The latter shall be chairman of the medical board.

II. The members of this board shall be appointed annually by the board of trustees during the months of January in each year, and shall hold their office during the pleasure of the board of trustees. There shall also be appointed a regular dentist to the institution.

III. The duties of the attending physician shall be:

1. To promptly examine each proposed pupil, and report as to his acceptability to the principal.

2. To visit the institution upon Monday and Friday of each week.

3. To make such an examination of each pupil during the month of October in each year, and at such intervals thereafter as shall, in his opinion and the opinion of the medical board, be necessary to properly safeguard the health of the pupils. There shall, however, be not less than three such examinations during each school year.

4. To keep, or cause to be kept, in a book to be provided for that purpose, an accurate record of the medical condition of each pupil in the institution, showing his condition at entrance and at each examination held as above provided for, together with such additional medical history of each of said pupils.

5. To investigate any cases of disease or illness occurring within the institution in pupils or other inmates, and to take such measures as may be proper to protect the health of the pupils and inmates of the institution.

6. To examine into and take measures to safeguard the sanitary condition of the institution and its inmates.

7. To make a report to the regular monthly meeting of the board of trustees of the medical and sanitary condition of the institution and its pupils.

IV. It shall be the duty of the aurist to promptly examine each admitted pupil and to cause the result of his examination to be incorporated in the medical records of the institution. He shall also take such measures to improve the conditions of the organs of the pupils examined by him as his investigation shall show to be proper, provided there is no objection made by the parent or guardian after due notice.

V. It shall be the duty of the various specialist members of the medical board to attend such cases as shall lie within their province; these cases shall be sent to them by the attending physician whenever in his opinion their services shall be required.

VI. There shall be a meeting of the medical board during the month of February in each year, the exact date of which shall be fixed by the chairman. There shall be meetings of the medical board at such other times as the chairman shall consider necessary. A meeting of the board shall be called at any time by the chairman at the request of any two of its members.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

1. This institution is intended for children who are either entirely or partially deaf, in consequence of congenital or adventitious deafness, and who can not be educated in common schools.

2. Candidates for admission must be over five and under fourteen years of age, of ordinary intelligence and constitutional vigor, and free from contagious disease. They must pass a satisfactory medical examination regarding these points.

3. Pay pupils are charged $300 for the scholastic year, payable semi-annually in advance. This sum provides for tuition, board, washing and medical treatment in ordinary cases of sickness. Pay pupils who do not board and lodge in the institution are charged $225 a year.

4. Pupils between the ages of five and twelve years to be supported at public expense are admitted to the institution by a certificate from the county supervisor. Those over twelve must procure, either directly or through the principal of the institution a certificate from the Commissioner of Education at Albany. Blanks and all information as to these requirements will be cheerfully furnished on application to the principal.

5. All pay pupils entering the institution are admitted for the current school year. No deduction will be made from the annual charge in consequence of absence or on any account whatsoever, nor will the tuition fee, or any portion thereof, be refunded in case of withdrawal of pupils before the expiration of the school term.

6. The board of trustees reserves to itself and its officers the right to dismiss any pupil.

7. The regular scholastic work of the school extends from the first Wednesday in September to the third Wednesday in June. The school building is open all the year round.

A deficiency appropriation of $25,000 for the current fiscal year will be required of the present Legislature. The reason for this deficiency is that after the trustees had made their recommendations for appropriations for the current fiscal year, large additions were made to current expense account by reason of substituting paid for unpaid dining-room waiters and other large additions to the salary account, both of members of the Home and civilian officers and employees. Also by reason of the fact that there has been a considerable increase in the cost of many articles used by the Home.

The Home is usually inspected by the soldiers' home committee and is also under the inspection of the government and the State Board of Charities. The Home is inspected twice a year by the United States inspector and three times a year by the State Board of Charities.

The State Board of Charities report has been submitted to this Legislature. This board recommends the appropriations that were submitted to the Fiscal Supervisor, $275,000 for maintenance, transportation, repairs and special appropriations, amounting to $95,530.50.

Among the many interesting matters found in the recent report is the following:

“The close of the canteen worked harm; for the saloons in Belfast street and in the immediate neighborhood of the Home constantly tempt the pensioners and cause overindulgence. This was prevented in the canteen. If a canteen cannot be re-established a law should be enacted prohibiting the issuance of licenses to saloons located within one mile of all homes for soldiers and sailors.”

The State Charities Report also contained the following:

“In consequence of the recent financial depression, the institution is filled to its utmost capacity, and the only way applicants can be received is by the erection of either an additional dormitory building or, as suggested, an annex to the hospital especially for tuberculosis cases. If such tuberculosis pavilion be added, it will be equivalent to the erection of a new dormitory building of equal capacity.

Bath Home has been under its present management since January 1, 1903. Many important changes and large additions to the equipment of the Home have been made.

Your Committee desires to express its appreciation of the most capable management of this Institution.

The State is indeed fortunate to have such able and faithful officers. Many permanent improvements have been made each year. Lack of appropriations caused the abandonment of needed changes. Some of the more important recent improvements were better sanitation, and the ventilation of the dormitories where from forty to eighty men sleep in a single room. Among some other improvements were new bakery, fire protection in the barracks, changes in bathhouse, mess hall, and engineer's department. The more important contemplated improvements: Tuberculosis hospital, outside verandas on old hospital, cold storage equipment in quartermaster's store, addition to main dining-room and more improvements in engineer's department.

The officers of this Home have appreciated the need of a larger and better hospital service. Repeatedly have appropriations for this purpose been denied. There will be a large yearly increase of hospital patients. Spacious porches should be built for those no longer able to walk about the beautiful grounds, wheeled chairs provided so they may be moved about those porches. When they are compelled to take their beds they should have everything found in the best hospital in the land. There are 438 hospital patients, some of whom can walk to medicine-room and to dining-room. Twelve trained nurses and seven civilian nurses at present are on duty at a salary of $25 per month, about one-quarter the sum usually paid competent nurses elsewhere. These are male nurses. Female nurses doubtless could not be obtained. It is estimated that in well-regulated hospitals one nurse can care for about three patients. One hospital in the State has 125 nurses to 300 beds. Special nurses in bad cases assist the regular nurses. In private practice two nurses for one patient is often employed.

In the past intelligent men from the ranks of the well could be chosen to assist in caring for the sick. This help cannot longer be relied upon. It is evident the patients in the hospital of this institution are not receiving the care that patients receive in well-regulated hospitals throughout the State. A large corps of competent nurses should be on duty day and night. All the hospital facilities are inadequate. The buildings are old, the wards poorly lighted and ventilated. A large number of patients is herded together in single rooms, lacking many essentials of the modern hospital.

The erection of a tuberculosis hospital seems quite a necessity. Many tubercular patients are in wards unsuited for this class of patients. Many others are walking about the buildings and grounds, not only hundreds of inmates are in danger, but all of those connected with the institution are exposed to the infection. It is known that under favorable conditions, this dread disease is preventable and curable.

A modern hospital for the treatment of the disease erected here would save some lives, prolong the lives of others and protect those who are more fortunate. Continued indifference to the demand for a better hospital service is a stain upon the State.

The nation has established a liberal system of pensioning for her defenders. Fifty soldiers and sailors' homes have been organized. New York State Home is one of the best. This Legislature will doubtless make every provision for the welfare, comfort and happiness of these few survivors. But for a few years will the State be privileged to minister to the wants and needs of the citizen soldier, once an integral part of the most magnificent military organization the world ever knew.

In the foregoing tables are presented the financial statistics of the institution for the fiscal year. The first table shows the receipts, the second the disbursements, the third their application for maintenance in the customary summarized form, and the fourth the available assets at the close of the year.

The year's receipts show an increase of nearly $7,000 over those for 1907, the increase being made up by State appropriations, by moneys received from counties for clothing and from pay cases. The other items in the table consisting of shop and farm products and the sale of old material each show a slight decrease.

Under the table of disbursements, besides the amount expended for maintenance $103,079.33, is also included the amount $12,817.84 received from all sources other than State appropriations, which under a requirement of the law were forwarded monthly to the State Comptroller. This latter amount by legislative appropriation then became available for the year's maintenance, after being turned into the State treasury.

The expenditures for the year as above noted exceed those for 1907 by over $6,000, the largest of any in the previous history of the institution, and easily attributed to the increased cost of living, and the prevailing rise in wages of employees which became necessary during the year 1907. The expenditures for the year, as compared with those for 1907, as classified under the third table show an increase of $2,071.28 in salaries and wages, of $3,125.45 in provisions, of $1,720.78 in fuel and light, of $633.42 in shop, farm and garden, and of $244.00 in ordinary repairs; a decrease of $1.63 in the expenses of officers and managers, of $539.41 in household stores, of $200.79 for clothing, of $62.15 for hospital and medical supplies, of $89.90 for transportation of inmates, and of $123.94 in miscellaneous.

By special appropriations the expenditures amounted to $5,623.96 of which sum a total of $675.41 was for various purposes in developing, maintaining and extending industries. The larger portion $4,948.55 included $1,580.50 for continuing the improvements to plumbing and shower baths, $1,689.65 for general repairs and equipment, $300.00 for a refrigerator room in connection with the main kitchen, $337.20 for an office safe for books and papers, $41.20 for renewals to the boiler plant, and $1,000 in the purchase of three new pianos for the school rooms.

The plumbing improvements above mentioned and which were under contract at the close of last year consisted of renewals in the toilet rooms on the first and second floors of the children's apartments and of the officers' toilet room on the third floor in the south wing and in the toilet room at the laundry. By the completion of this work shower baths are now provided for the children in all departments of the buildings except at the hospital where it was thought for general uses the tub system would better meet the requirements. The plumbing improvements as contemplated upon the institution premises are now all completed except those at the medical assistant's quarters and at the superintendent's residence, and for which purposes an appropriation was granted by the Legislature of 1908. By the same act appropriations were made for reconstructing the cow stables at Fairmount farm, for the exterior painting of the north wing and the rear walls of the main building, for a new roof upon the stable, and for general repairs and equipment, the whole amount aggregating $4,500. At this writing the exterior painting and the reconstruction of the cow stables are completed, the specifications for the plumbing improvements are being prepared, the contract for the new stable roof has been made and the work is being performed. The cow stables have cement flooring and troughs, new stanchions, and a steel ceiling. A room for aerating the milk is attached to the stables. The plans for the stables were entirely devised by the steward and farmer, and in their arrangement and construction the stables are pronounced "ideal" by both the city and state health authorities.

At the annual meeting of the managers held on October 14th it was unanimously voted to request the following items of appropriation from the next Legislature:

- |   |         |
|---|---------|
| 1. For providing and placing two new 150 H. P. boilers. . . . .   | $7,000 |
| 2. For engines, dynamos, etc., for installing an electric light plant. . . . .  | 7,500   |
| 3. For extending the stonewall fence on Grand avenue to Harbor Brook and continuing with an iron fence around the west and north lines of the institution premises. . . . . | 3,000   |

SOME WORK OF CLASS IN SLOYD.

4. For securing a water supply, fire protection, electric lighting, plumbing, sewage, and cold storage facilities at the Fairmount farm. (Amount to be determined later.)
5. For new school desks, two typewriters, new beds and other furniture.....	$2,000
6. For changing the swing of outside doors in the various buildings. . . . .	500
7. For new fire hose.....	500
8. For repairs and equipment.....	2,500
9. For additional maintenance for the current fiscal year. . . . .	7,500
10. For maintenance the next fiscal year.....	95,000

For the first two items appropriations were requested last year but not obtained. The reasons for the need of the two new boilers and the electric light plant exist in greater force to-day than a year ago and were given in our last year's report as follows: "The renewals to the boiler plant consisted of resetting the boiler purchased (known as No. 4) and repairs to and supplying with new tubes boilers Nos. 5 and 6. These boilers are all old, the last two mentioned we know to have been in use for over thirty years. The insurance company's inspector reported them last summer as hardly worth repairing and after the repairs were made would permit them, including No. 4, to be used at only fifteen pounds pressure. It is believed that if nothing unforeseen happens, these boilers will be serviceable for this season and next but in view of their condition and of possible contingencies the board has decided to request an appropriation of $7,000 to replace them by two of larger capacity, 150 horsepower each. With this appropriation available next summer the new boilers can be secured on a rush order if necessary and if not, a contract for their installation can be made early in the season of 1909.

Owing to the continually increasing cost of electric lighting and the inability to secure a lower rate from the Syracuse Lighting Company the board, at its November meeting, also determined to request an appropriation of $7,500 for the purchase of engines, dynamos, etc., to produce our own electric lighting and for which, upon the installation of the new boilers above mentioned, the power required will be fully provided."

Regarding Item 3 the Board desires to urge the need of the fence as noted. A wall fence extends from Burnet Park along the entire eastern boundary of the institution premises and a short distance up Grand avenue along the southern boundary. A tight high board fence extends the rest of the distance on Grand avenue and along the western boundary. On the northern line there is a barbed wire fence and a partial hedge. The board fence is getting old, tumbling down, and must soon be replaced in some manner. The barbed wire fence is of no practical use in keeping out either pilferers or mischievous boys, and from such persons the institution is in great need of protection. A high iron fence we believe offers the best means of giving the needed protection and we therefore recommend a special appropriation for the purpose.

Concerning Item 4, a water supply, etc., for the Fairmount farm, we quote from our October monthly report as follows: "As a result of the typhoid fever epidemic which prevailed here during the months of August and September and which appeared to have its origin at the Fairmount farm, the investigations by the health authorities, by a committee of the State Board of Charities, and by members of this Board led up very strongly to the importance of a better water supply at the farm.

When the farm was first occupied as a branch of the institution, a windmill was put up at a spring in one of the lower lots on the farm and water was forced from that point to the cottage. A few years thereafter, this supply was found to be inadequate and the quality of the water questionable. Then an attempt was made to find water by a driven well on the hill near the cottage. A small amount of water was secured at this point but it was totally inadequate. A third attempt was made near the barn buildings. Here an abundant supply was secured but after a few years use it was pronounced of doubtful quality. This well was then used for watering stock, and for cleaning and bathing purposes; but the drinking water was carried in cans from the institution in Syracuse until the present windmill well was put in operation on the hill west of the barn buildings. Here water was found in abundance, but at a depth of over a hundred feet. The water from this well has always been pronounced exceptionally pure but the depth of the well makes a very heavy strain upon the mill while in action. It is located upon a very exposed summit and the consequent hard work and severe winds frequently place the mill out of order. Times have occurred when prolonged delays have taken place in getting repairs made to the mill and at other times there has not been sufficient wind for one or two weeks, and the reservoirs became empty. Such an occasion occurred a few weeks ago, and for more than a week the boys had to go without water for bathing, and the cows had to be supplied by hand pumping and carrying water in pails from the old well near the barn.

The main conduit from Skaneateles Lake to the reservoir supplying the city of Syracuse with water was laid about three-quarters of a mile from the Fairmount farm property. Soon after the city of Syracuse began to receive its supply from Skaneateles Lake, the Board made an effort to gain permission to tap the main line near the Fairmount farm but were refused consent on the ground first that legislation would be required, as under the law no water could be taken from the Skaneateles Lake supply outside of the city of Syracuse; second, that the engineers upon whose advice the city of Syracuse must rely would not under any circumstances or conditions permit the tapping of the main conduit line. The same obstacles are still in existence and practically preclude a Skaneateles Lake supply.

Some years later the village of Solvay began supplying itself with water from a pumping station about one-half mile from the Fairmount cottage. An effort was again made by the Board to secure water for the farm from the Solvay supply but the request was refused on the ground that their water supply was not always sufficient for the village consumption.

Within the past year the New York Central Railroad has been laying a conduit line from Otisco Lake to Syracuse and other points along the line of the railroad. The conduit of this line lies right along the south border of the farm and at a trifling distance from the main cottage and barns. The Board has made inquiry of the Otisco Lake Water Company concerning a water supply to the Fairmount farm property. Up to the present time no definite reply has been received, but there is not much doubt in the minds of the Board that an offer will be made to supply the place with water. If the analysis of the water and the rate offered are satisfactory, the Board will proceed to see what will be required to properly supply these premises with the water from Otisco Lake. We are informed that the construction of the line will not be completed until probably some time next spring or summer. However, in anticipation thereof the Board voted to ask the State architect to send a sanitary engineer to look over the Fairmount situation without delay, in order that plans and estimates may be made, and an appropriation for the purpose requested of the next Legislature."

For Item 5 an appropriation is requested to meet new conditions, out-of-date and worn-out desks, beds and other furniture and appliances.

Item 6 was recommended by the State architect as a means of affording greater facility of egress from the buildings in case of fire.

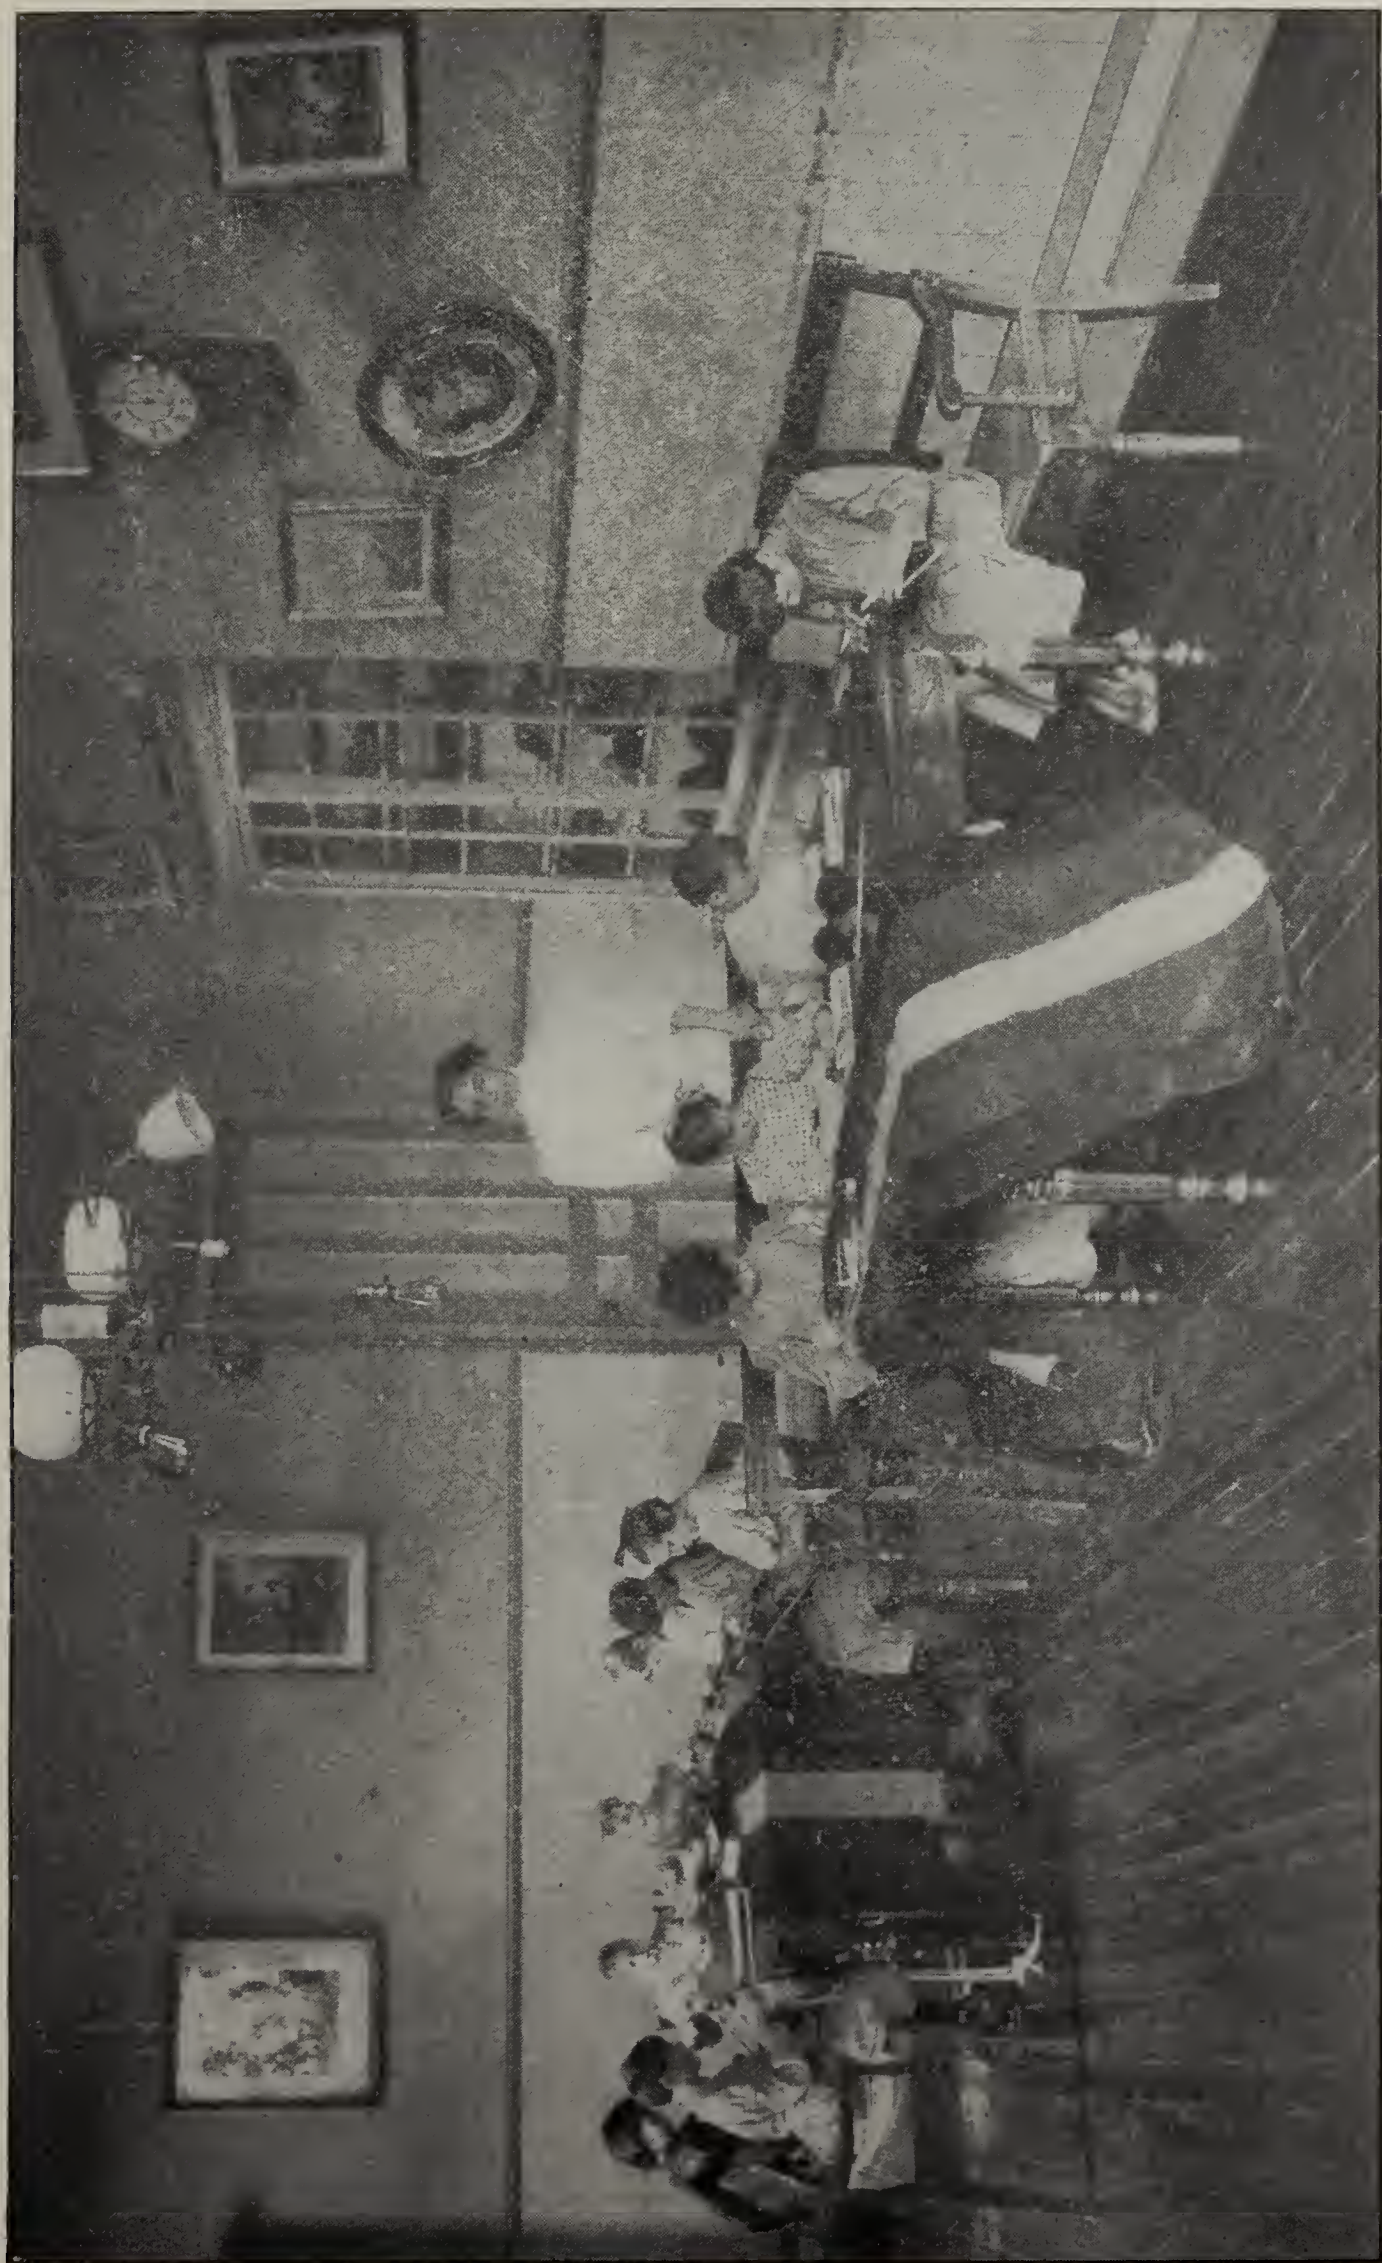

Item 7. No new fire hose has been purchased for many years. It is feared that some we have at present is getting weak with age and might not stand the water pressure if put into actual service.

Item 8. A large amount of general repair work is needed, such as new flooring, steel ceiling, tiling, etc., etc.

Item 9. The increased cost of living and wages coupled with the shortage in the farm crops due to the prolonged drought of the past season makes it evident to the board that the amount appropriated for maintenance will prove quite inadequate. The direct appropriation for maintenance is $86,000 and the indirect, or refund amount is $14,000. The latter amount is about $2,000 more than can be expected for refund through our receipts. The two appropriations therefore, while nominally $100,000 are really but about $98,000. The total cost for the past year was over $103,000. We do not see how it is possible to keep up repairs and the standard of maintenance for less than the amount expended last year.

In its report for last year the Board expressed its gratification in the knowledge "that the recommendation first made by this board in its report for 1903 and repeated in 1904, 1905 and 1906 for the creation and establishment of another asylum for the idiotic, in the eastern part of the State, took on embryonic life at the last legislative session in the appointment of a commission with authority to examine sites and determine the location. The waiting lists at the Craig Colony and the various existing institutions for the idiotic and feeble-minded are all large and there is great need of the institution. It is truly hoped that neither lack of funds nor other causes will delay its early erection and organization." It is now a further source of gratification to know the hope then entertained took on still more tangible shape in a sufficient appropriation by the Legislature of 1908 for the purchase of a large tract of land for the establishment of the institution on the site selected by the Commission near Haverstraw, N. Y. As nothing has occurred in the interval to change our opinion, the observations and recommendations made by the Board at the conclusion of its report last year are repeated in this report.

"There is a fast growing interest, to quite an extent among charity workers and especially so among teachers and principals of the public schools, in the need of a different training for feeble-minded and very backward children, one or more of whom are found in attendance at many of the schools throughout the State. These children drag along in a listless, inattentive way, make very little progress, are teased, tantalized and easily coaxed into mischief or wrong-doing by their brighter companions. Applications for such children are coming to us in steadily increasing numbers, from the sources mentioned. They are out of place in the public schools and should receive the training of an institution or school especially adapted to the purpose. The reasons are many and obvious why such institutions should care for and instruct the two sexes separately and we believe when a new institution for the purpose is established it should be for boys alone. Then, as soon as put in readiness, all teachable boys at this institution should be removed to it and the remaining ones to the custodial institutions. This institution could then be left as a training-school for feeble-minded girls. The location here is a desirable one for girls; it is not so for boys. The site is beautiful and pleasant but the acreage is limited and cannot be extended. It is ample for five hundred girls, but boys need more territory both for recreation and occupation. We believe in a general provision of the State for all classes of its feeble-minded; we believe in schools for the young and teachable, and custodial institutions for the adult and unteachable but whatever the purpose we believe all such institutions should provide for each sex separately and exclusively. In framing a further future policy for the needs of the feeble-minded we trust these recommendations will receive the careful consideration of the State Board of Charities and the Legislature."

In conclusion the Board with deep regret here makes public record of the death of one of its most esteemed members, Mr. William H. Warner, which occurred after a brief illness December 27th, 1907. As a tribute to his memory the resolutions adopted by the board at a special meeting held December 28th, 1907, will be found as an appendix to this report.

The applications received and placed on record for the year were 187 or 41 more than for 1907. Of the number 123 were for boys and 64 for girls and, as will be observed, the proportion for the two sexes was nearly two boys to one girl or greater in that relation than has been the case in previous years. Of the applications received 113 were accepted and placed on file for admission as vacancies occur, and 74 were rejected as being ineligible or in some way unsuitable. Of those rejected ten were over and thirteen under the admissible ages of fourteen and seven, fifteen were epileptic, two were helpless, one was thought to be insane, and thirty-three were considered unteachable. For the latter reason a much larger number were rejected than usual, at the suggestion of the Committee of the State Board of Charities on the Feeble-Minded who expressed the opinion that admissions should be confined more strictly to the teachable class.

The number of admissions during the year was seventy-five, of whom thirty-nine were boys and thirty-six girls, as compared with sixty-two boys and forty-two girls in 1907. The total number of pupils on the rolls was 617 or 28 less than the previous year. The maximum number reached at any one time was 548.

There were discharged during the year thirty-two boys and twenty-four girls, and two boys and four girls died, making a total of sixty-two discharges or forty-two less than for 1907. Of those discharged seventeen boys and four girls were transferred to the Rome asylum, one boy at our request was removed by a county official, one boy and three girls were transferred to Craig Colony and one girl to the Newark asylum. Eleven boys and eleven girls were removed by parents. One girl who was received on trial from a State hospital was found to be insane and returned to the hospital. Two girls were removed by parents to other states, and one girl and two boys who eloped succeeded in obtaining employment sufficient to make themselves satisfactorily self-supporting and were not returned. One girl died as the result of an accident while at home during the summer vacation.

With the exception of another outbreak of typhoid fever during the months of July, August and September, the general health of the institution population was excellent throughout the year. The first three cases of fever occurred in the family of one of the teamsters on the Fairmount farm, the first one about July 13th, the second August 5th, and the third August 10th. On the last date the disease also appeared in one of the boys at the Fairmount farm cottage and two days later in one of the employees here at the institution in Syracuse. Nine more cases followed one another at the institution buildings in the remainder of the month of August and three more in September, making in all seventeen cases, three of whom belonged to the teamster's family, four were employees, and the remaining ten inmates, one from Fairmount and the other nine from the Syracuse premises. Of this number all recovered except two of the inmates and with one exception all were treated and provided for at the institution hospital, extra nurses being employed to assist in the work.

As it was difficult to trace a connection between the teamster's family and the other cases of the disease which occurred, the cause of the disease was a matter of much speculation but the investigations made by the city and State health authorities, and by the managers and superintendent all lead up to the one conclusion that the Fairmount farm property should have a more abundant and more reliable supply of water; and that, as soon as a proper water supply can be secured there, a system of plumbing and sewage should be installed. It is greatly hoped on our part that a way can be found and that the means will be provided to bring about the improvements recommended at Fairmount, with the least possible delay.

As heretofore noted the deaths during the year numbered six which, with an average daily population of 520, shows a mortality rate of only a trifle over one and one-tenth per centum. The average age of those who died was sixteen years. The causes of death will be found upon another page. Among those mentioned was one from erysipelas. The case was that of an imbecile girl of the Mongolian type. In this case the disease first appeared in the hand and gradually extended up the arm in the formation of abscesses and from thence generally over other portions of the body. Four years ago we reported upon three cases of facial erysipelas occurring in children of the Mongolian type in all of whom the disease, after covering the head and face, extended and became general. With the added experience now of another case of this disease among the Mongolian feeble-minded and after again observing its disposition to spread and become general in its character we are about convinced that this is the course it may be expected to follow. Erysipelas is therefore to be considered a disease of an unusually serious nature when once it appears in those of the Mongolian type. In this connection the observations of others engaged in the treatment of diseases among the feeble-minded would be interesting.

The repairs and improvements effected for the past year were as usual mainly accomplished by the carpenter, the painter, the engineer, and the gardner with boys for their assistants.

The carpenter, besides remodeling the cow stables at Fairmount with new stanchions, steel ceiling, and an aerator room, also re-shingled the ice house, built a new platform for milk, and a new closet at the North cottage. At the institution, in addition to the many general repairs of buildings, fences and furniture, steel ceilings were put on in the four sloyd rooms and the tower room, main building, a new platform was made for the pump at the boiler house, cement steps to replace the old wooden ones for the outside cellar stairway at the boys' building, and a combined storm-house and refrigerator room at the girls' building. There were also made at Fairmount one window frame for the shop, one gate, eight window screens, one door for the silo, one wagon reach, one set clothes bars, and one screen door; and for the institution eight flower boxes, one dump box, one large movable wooden screen for the south wing toilet room, nine nightshirt racks for the boys' building and north wing, two vegetables crates, three porch boxes for plants, one wheelbarrow frame for carting ice, four peels for the baker, seventy feet quarter round moulding, two large palm boxes, one meat board, one mirror frame, one set steps for the main kitchen refrigerator, and one pair doors for the boiler house.

The painter's work, besides the re-setting of all broken glass, a large amount of kalsomining, some re-papering, and the re-varnishing of various floors and other woodwork throughout the buildings, comprised the exterior painting of the superintendent's residence, the three porches at the girls' building, the carpenter shop, the farm house, the ladder house, and the aerator building at Fairmount while the interior painting comprised the kitchen, pantry, two closets, three day rooms, the seamstress's room and back stairway at the girls' building; the matron's sitting room, the assistant matron's room, the storerooms, the employees' dining room, three toilet rooms, the south room, the north and south school rooms, and the officers' dining room at the main building; two toilet rooms and the night attendant's room at the south wing; all of the dormitories, three toilet rooms, and the steel ceilings of the two iron stairways at the boys' building; the steel ceilings in the sloyd rooms at the north wing; the kitchen, the bath room, the sterilizing room, the milkcan room, and the steel ceilings in the cow stables at Fairmount.

The chief improvement effected by the engineer was the installation of steam heat in the building known as the "root cellar," by carrying a connection to it under ground from the boys' building. This building was previously heated by several stoves and by one radiator in the meat room which received its heat from the greenhouse boiler. The stoves were all dispensed with and the connection cut off with the greenhouse. By getting rid of the stoves the danger from fire was very much lessened, and the safety of many valuable supplies correspondingly enhanced.

The usual custom of opening the institution to public visitors was continued on thirty-six Friday afternoons during the school year. Upon these occasions at the exercises in the hall 2,242 persons were counted present or an average of sixty-two.

The institution was officially visited during the year as follows: On October 7th by the Hon. William R. Stewart, President of the State Board of Charities; on October 14th by the Hon. Thomas Kirkbride, Commissioner to locate an asylum for the epileptic and feeble-minded, in eastern New York; on October 17th by a committee of the board of supervisors of Erie county; on November 21st by Hon. Dennis McCarthy, Hon. Simon Rosendale and Dr. Stephen Smith, Commissioners of the State Board of Charities; on March 8th by Dr. Alice Johnson, Medical Inspector of the London County Council; on May 7th by Prof. Edwin L. Earp and his class in sociology; on June 9th by the Hon. C. M. Bissell, Fiscal Supervisor; on June 21st by Dr. H. G. Hardt, Superintendent of the Institution for Feeble-Minded at Lincoln, Ill.; on June 25th by the members of the American Association for the Study of the Feeble-Minded; on July 13th by a committee of the board of supervisors of Chautauqua county; on July 26th by Prof. Cyrus D. Mead, Principal of the Indiana School for Feeble-Minded at Fort Wayne, Indiana; and on September 28th by the Hon. Dennis McCarthy, Hon. Simon Rosendale and Dr. Stephen Smith, Commissioners of the State Board of Charities.

Entertainments were furnished the children throughout the year as often as our means permitted and the opportunities offered, as follows: On October 8th the Jubilee Singers; October 30th a Halloween party for the girls; November 19th a stereopticon by Prof. W. D. Lewis; December 23rd an Operetta "Under the Greenwood Tree" by the children; January 3rd music and recitations by Mr. Joseph Lorrain; February 17th recitations and music by Mr. George E. Garretson; March 22d the Syracuse University Glee Club; April 1st music and recitations by the Peterson family; April 14th school exercises, singing classes, medicine ball, ring calisthenics, a flowered hoop drill, sword drill, marching evolutions and dancing; May 4th special music with dancing and refreshments at which 262 were present; June 4th the graphophone by Mr. George G. Worth; July 4th a ball game and lawn picnic party in the afternoon with fireworks in the evening; besides upon nine occasions dancing parties during the months of January, February, March and April, and during the summer months several picnic parties to the park, the lake and other nearby places.

Our thanks are again extended to the publishers of the following periodicals for copies gratuitously sent for the use of the institution through the year: "The Arkansas Optic," Little Rock, Ark.; "The Hospital Record," Canandaigua, N. Y.; "Our Little People," Rochester, N. Y.; "The North Star," Faribault, Minn.; "The Training School and Supplement," Vineland, N. J.; and the "Bulletin of the Iowa State Institutions."

We also extend our thanks to many parents and to other friends of the institution for contributions of money and boxes containing fruit, nuts, candies, toys, etc., at the holiday season. By these gifts our children's pleasure and happiness upon the occasion were greatly enhanced.

A year ago upon the death of Mrs. E. P. Wilbur, the office of matron became vacant. To this office Miss Louise C. Richards was duly appointed after creditably passing a competitive State Civil Service promotion examination. For nineteen years previously Miss Richards had given faithful service as the first assistant matron. She was held in such esteem throughout the institution that when the examination to fill the vacancy was called there was no one to appear in competition with her for the position. The feeling prevailed that by her long period of service under two such ideal matrons as Miss Wood and Mrs. Wilbur she had become exceptionally well fitted and deserved the promotion.

The purpose of the work and objects of this institution, as indicated by the law creating and governing it, is the training of feeble-minded children. In accordance with this purpose and to more distinctly carry it into effect fewer children of the borderline and nonteachable class have been accepted during the past few years. This is especially true for the past year. Besides, every opportunity offered for transfer of the nonteachable and adult class to the custodial institutions has been seized upon and as a result our children average materially younger than formerly and the percentage of teachable children is much larger. In the meantime no additions have been made to our force of teachers while the school classes have been annually increasing in numbers. Some have grown to nearly double their former size and are becoming unwieldy and cumbersome. Many feeble-minded children need individual attention and the less of it can be given by the teacher the larger a class becomes. We think a point has now been reached when more teachers in our work are imperatively demanded and this is recommended and it is hoped will receive the early attention and approval of the managers. Notwithstanding the difficulties in this regard under which the teachers have labored during the year past, they have been earnest and diligent and a satisfactory degree of progress is evident. In the month of June the institution was honored by a visit from the members of the American Association for the Study of the Feeble-minded whose annual meeting was held at Rome, N. Y. Following this visit, after his arrival home, one of the members present and who had spent much time in visiting institutions for the feeble-minded in both this country and Europe wrote: "In the midst of a great rush of work connected with our summer school, I have put off sending you a word of appreciation because I wanted to 'say something nice.' I want to tell you how much I enjoyed your splendidly equipped and well managed institution. The exhibition we saw in the hall was one of the finest things I have ever seen done by feeble-minded children."

A new feature in hand training was introduced in the school work during the year — that of rug weaving. A class of twelve little girls from ten to twelve years of age was placed at this work during one school hour daily. There is no class in the school which appears more interested in its work, each girl seemingly vieing with another to see who will do most and best. The looms secured for beginning the work were small and the strips made are therefore narrow, requiring much sewing together. It is hoped, now that the necessary training is acquired, soon to obtain larger looms and produce more useful products.

The work of the sloyd class is shown on another page in a list of articles made. The teacher reports: "The aim in this department has continued the same as formerly, an earnest effort to improve the boy's mental, moral and physical possibilities in trying to have them work out independently by both reason and illustration the problems given. To begin with, these problems are naturally small and simple, then, as the boy develops the aim is to lead him up gradually to those of larger construction."

In concluding my twenty-fifth annual report I wish to express my thanks to you of the board of managers for your cordial support and co-operation; to the several officers and teachers my commendation for their excellent service and faithful attention to duty; and to employees generally a grateful appreciation of the good work performed in their various relations and departments.

Our work is not always inspiring or encouraging but our faith in its needs and benefits continues. A recent writer has said that the spirit of the teachings of Christianity may be summed up in the one word Helpfulness. To help then the most helpless, one should be imbued with that spirit and, with a reliance upon the Divine Helper we are cheered with the hope that His blessing will surely follow future efforts.

Superintendent.

He shall have the appointment of his co-resident officers, with power to assign them their respective duties, subject to the by-laws. He shall employ, subject to the supervision of the board of managers, such teachers, attendants and assistants as he may think proper and necessary for the economical and efficient carrying into effect of the design of the institution, prescribe their several duties and places, and may discharge any of them. He shall also from time to time, give such orders and instructions as he may judge best calculated to induce good conduct, fidelity and economy in any department of labor and expense, and he is authorized and enjoined to maintain salutary discipline among all who are employed by the institution, and to enforce strict compliance with such instructions and uniform obedience to all the rules and regulations of the institution. He shall further cause full and fair accounts and records of all his doings, and of the entire business and operations of the institution, together with the condition and prospects of the pupils, to be kept regularly, from day to day, in books provided for that purpose; and he shall see that all such accounts and records shall be fully made up the first days of April and October in each year, and that the principal facts and results, with his report thereon, be presented to the board at its semi-annual meetings. He shall conduct the official correspondence of the institution; shall, at the time of the admission of any pupil into the institution, enter in a book, to be provided and kept for that purpose, a minute, with date, of the name and residence of the pupil, and of the person or persons upon whose application he is received; together with a copy of the application, statement, certificate, and all

He may make arrangements subject to the approval of the managers, for the support, maintenance and clothing of pupils admitted to the institution; and should immediately, on the reception of any State pupil, give notice thereof to the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county from which the pupil was sent.

He shall also give notice of the discharge of a pupil by the managers, to the person and in the mode described by law; and shall see to the removal and delivery of such discharged pupil to the proper county and officer.

ARTICLE X.

Of the Pupils.

The design and objects of the institution, as established by the action of the Legislature, are not of a custodial character; but to furnish the means of education to that portion of the youth of the State not provided for in any of its other educational institutions. Those only will, therefore, be received into the institution who are of a proper school-attending age, and for such periods of time as shall, in the estimation of the board of managers, suffice to impart all the education practicable in each particular case, and in conformity with the regulations hereinafter specified.

Children between the ages of seven and fourteen, who are feeble-minded, or so deficient in intelligence as to be incapable of being educated at any ordinary school, and who are not epileptic, paralyzed, helpless, insane or greatly deformed, may be admitted by the superintendent, with the advice and consent of the executive committee. Applications in behalf of others shall be referred to the action of the board of managers.

The parents or next friends of those in whose behalf applications are made for admission as pupils, shall make answers in writing to such questions as the superintendent and committee shall prescribe. They shall, moreover, if of sufficient ability, engage to pay such reasonable sum for the education and support of the pupils, and to furnish them with such proper clothing while in the institution, as shall be stipulated by the superintendent, and they shall, in all cases, be bound to receive them back when required, free of expense to the institution. But no feeble-minded pupil shall be received into the institution without there shall have been first lodged, with the superintendent thereof, a request to that effect, under the hand of the person by whose direction he is sent, stating the age, and place of nativity, if known, of the feeble-minded one, the Christian and surname, the town, or city, and county in which he resides, the ability or otherwise of the pupil, his parents or guardians, to provide for his support, in whole or in part, and if in part only, in what part; and the degree of relationship, or other circumstance of connection between him and the person requesting his admission, which statement shall be verified in writing, by the oath of two disinterested persons, residents of the same county with the feeble-minded one, acquainted with the facts and circumstances so stated, and certified to be creditable by the county judge of the same county. And no feeble-minded pupil shall be received into said institution unless the county judge of the county liable for his support shall certify that such pupil is an eligible and proper candidate for admission to said institution as aforesaid, provided, however, that feeble-minded pupils may be received into said institution upon the application therefor signed officially by any county superintendent of the poor, or by the commissioners of charity of any of the cities of this State where such commissioners exist.

The State pupils in the institution will be selected in equal numbers, as far as may be, from each judicial district, from those whose parents or guardians are unable to provide for their support therein.

The State pupils will be expected to come to the institution provided with a supply of neat and substantial clothing for the first six months, after which period the clothing will be furnished by the institution, at the expense of the respective counties of which they are residents, as in the case of the deaf and dumb and the blind institutions of the State.

A bond will be required in all cases, except the case of a State pupil, to insure the removal of the pupil free of expense to the institution.

All pupils will be received upon trial for one month, at the end of which time a report upon the case will be made to the parents or parties sending them, if requested.

The education furnished by the institution will include not only the simpler elements of instruction usually taught in common schools, where that is practicable, but will embrace a course of training in the more practical matters of every-day life, the cultivation of habits of decency, propriety, self-management and self-reliance, and the development and enlargement of a capacity for useful occupation.

There shall be a vacation during the months of July and August, unless otherwise directed by the board, at which period all pupils must be removed from the institution by the parents or guardians, if required by the superintendent.

By-laws can only be altered at a regular meeting of the board by a majority of the whole board.

NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

COMMISSIONERS OF THE PALISADES INTERSTATE PARK.

---

NEW YORK, March 1, 1909.

To the Legislature of the State of New York:

Pursuant to chapter 690 of the Laws of 1901, the Commissioners of the Palisades Interstate Park have the honor to present to the Legislature their ninth annual report for the year 1908.

The organization of the Commission is as follows:

President, George W. Perkins, New York city, N. Y.

Vice-President, Franklin W. Hopkins, Alpine, N. J.

Secretary, J. Du Pratt White, Nyack, N. Y.

Treasurer, D. McNeely Stauffer, Yonkers, N. Y.

Nathan F. Barrett, New Rochelle, N. Y.

William B. Dana, Englewood, N. J.

Abram De Ronde, Englewood, N. J.

William A. Linn, Hackensack, N. J.

William H. Porter, New York city, N. Y.

Edwin A. Stevens, Hoboken, N. J.

The problem of properly policing a park of twelve miles shore frontage, covered with thick woods and used during the summer months by thousands of campers, has had the careful study and consideration of the Commissioners. The plan adopted consists of a beach patrol of five men, covering the section of the park mostly used by the campers and visitors, and a police launch in charge of the chief marshal patrolling the entire shore. Successful results were obtained by this economical method of policing. Particular attention was given to protecting the water supply from the various springs, and to improving the sanitary conditions in the camps. No disorder of any kind was reported by the marshals. Through its membership in local protective associations the Commissioners can obtain in an emergency any number of men they may require.

By chapter 466 of the Laws of 1908 the Legislature appropriated the sum of $10,000 to reimburse the Commissioners for moneys expended for policing the park lands out of the funds appropriated for the purchase of land. The Commissioners acknowledge receipt of the sum of $7,081.62 of such appropriation, being the amount of reimbursement to which they were entitled at the time of requisition. Vouchers showing these expenditures have been filed with the Comptroller. From the successful results of the present method of policing the park, the Commissioners believe that an appropriation of $2,500 this year will be sufficient to enable them properly to protect the properties and preserve order during the coming season. The Commissioners expect to receive a like amount from the State of New Jersey.

The Commissioners refer to the unique advantages offered to the residents of both States by this beautiful Interstate Park. The number of persons who are enjoying the privileges of camping and day picnicking is increasing so rapidly that the Commissioners have found it necessary to limit each camper to not more than four weeks continuous camping. It will undoubtedly be necessary to make further limitations of this nature. In the past, campers have been permitted to select their own camping sites, if not otherwise appropriated. The Commissioners are now considering the advisability of restricting such camping to one section of the park, leaving the other portion of the park open to day picnickers and visitors. Last season over one thousand permits were issued, nearly double the number of permits issued in the year 1907.

The Commission has received from a private source a contribution of $12,000 for the purchase of land, of which amount $5,000 has been paid in.

The Commissioners have practically completed the acquisition of the lands within their original jurisdiction. There are a few properties still unacquired, the titles to which the Commissioners confidently believe will be closed at an early date. Proceedings have been brought in New Jersey to acquire four properties by condemnation.

The Commissioners hope the Legislature will indicate its policy towards the development of the park, and they feel that the year 1909 is peculiarly appropriate for such declaration of intention. The Commissioners have already recommended the construction of a highway.

HOOK MOUNTAIN.

The Commissioners refer to the recommendations in the eighth annual report with regard to the acquisition and development of the lands within the jurisdiction conferred upon them by chapter 691 of the Laws of 1906.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

GEO. S. PERKINS,

There has been but little serious sickness in the school during the past year. Most of the ailments have been of a minor character, such as colds and slight disturbances of the digestive organs.

No deaths have occurred during the year.

I wish to call special attention to the relief obtained in our several cases operated for removal of enlarged tonsils and adenoid growths. The hearing and articulation showed marked improvement in each case. Their removal frequently changes that mute, blank facial expression so commonly seen, to one of bright intelligence. An early recognition of this condition, with prompt treatment by surgery, would save many cases from deaf-mutism.

Our two cases of appendicitis recovered promptly after operation. One in which the symptoms were very acute was operated at the Arlington Hotel Infirmary, the other was subacute and was operated on at my office and removed the same day to the institution for convalescence.

I again wish to express my thanks and appreciation for the valuable assistance rendered by my colleagues, Drs. W. B. and G. C. Reid, in the surgical work performed.

Many little changes in the hospital and school buildings, as will be noted in the principal's report, have done much toward putting the grounds and buildings in a sanitary condition.

I again wish to express my thanks to the nurse and all that have helped in any way to care for the sick.

Respectfully submitted,

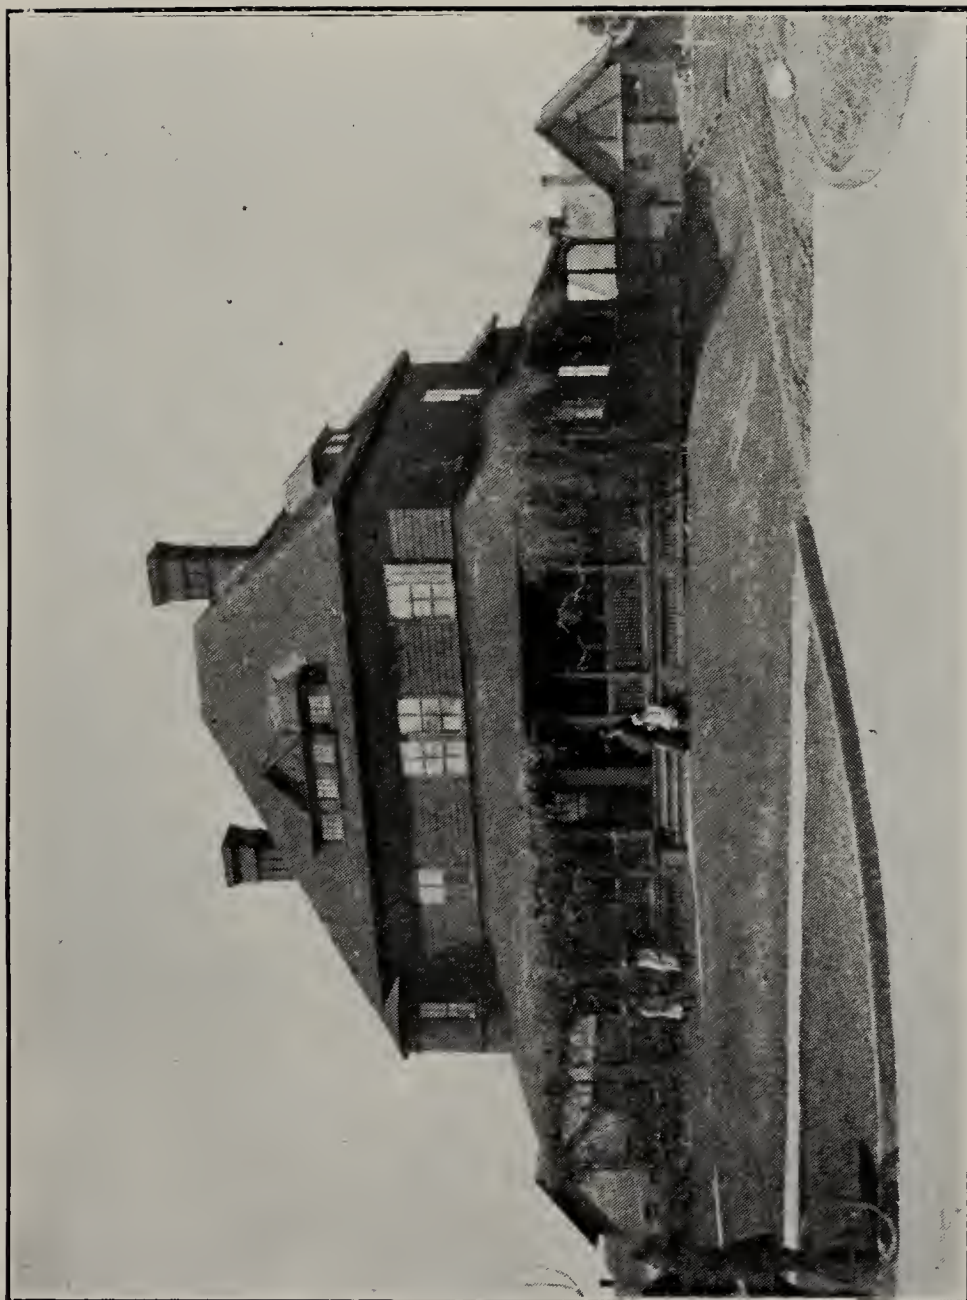

DR. J. O. STRANAHAN,
Attending Physician.

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL.

To the Board of Trustees of the Central New York Institution for Deaf-Mutes:

I take pleasure in submitting herewith for your consideration the thirty-fourth annual report of the principal for the year ending September 30, 1908.

ATTENDANCE AND HEALTH.

During the year 1907-8 there were in attendance at the school a total of 128 pupils, 76 boys and 52 girls. Of these 24 were new pupils, 15 boys and 9 girls, and 27 pupils, 15 boys and 12 girls, severed their connection with the school during the year. On the 1st of October, 1908, 88 pupils, 57 boys and 31 girls, were enrolled in the school as compared with 85 pupils, October 1, 1907, the present enrollment, February 23, 1909, being 111 and the attendance 105.

Of those pupils no longer connected with the school, one completed his course, two moved out of the State, five entered other institutions, seven were considered unsuitable cases to remain longer at school, eleven were returned to their parents and one was expelled from the school.

The pupils were maintained as follows:

	Boys.	Girls.	Total.
By the counties .....	37	10	47
By the State .....	39	41	80
By the institution .....		1	1
	76	52	128

The report of the school physician, Dr. J. O. Stranahan, gives the usual detailed record of the physical condition of the pupils from a medical and sanitary standpoint, and the small number of serious cases of sickness as well as the absence of any fatal disease is a cause for thankfulness. While our sister schools have suffered more or less severely from epidemics, we have been immune up to the present time from such common contagious diseases as mumps, measles, scarlet fever and typhoid fever.

Our healthful location, filtered water, continuous sanitary improvements and watchful care on the part of the nurse and physician, combined with the advantage of a large roomy detached hospital, are doubtless in large measure responsible.

THE HOUSEHOLD.

A few changes have taken place in the officers of the school. Horace G. Hilton, accountant for the past two years, resigned in August to enter the normal department of the Clarke School for the Deaf at Northampton preparatory to becoming a teacher of the deaf. Velton M. Fox, a graduate of the Rome Business Institute, held the position for a short time and was succeeded by Henry W. Wengatz, who acted as accountant until disabled by a fall, November 1st, when he was succeeded by Thomas W. Dooley, a graduate of the Chaffee Business Institute of Oswego. On January 1st C. Ray Stanton of Freeville assumed the duties of the office, and Henry W. Wengatz succeeded S. M. Riis, who succeeded Fred E. Kelley as supervisor of the large boys. Miss Erma J. Kelley, assistant matron, resigned in September and was succeeded by Mrs. Laura M. Tremain. Mrs. Tremain resigned in December to go to Florida for her health and Miss Kelley assumed the duties of assistant matron once more. The vacancies caused by the resignations of Miss Deborah H. Marshall and Miss Gertrude Parker as supervisors were filled by the appointment of Mrs. Margaret Comstock of Hartford, Conn., and Miss Minnie J. Kipp of Ballston Spa, N. Y. Mrs. Anna E. Crill resigned her position as nurse and Mrs. Sarah A. Nolan of Utica was appointed to the vacancy.

LITERARY DEPARTMENT.

Few changes are to be noted in the personnel of the staff of instructors. Mr. William Hamilton resigned in May to engage in other business and the school was fortunately able to secure the services of Mr. O. A. Betts, of Raleigh, N. C., who was a valued member of the faculty in 1906-7. Mr. Betts took up the work again in September, 1908, with the advanced class, and Miss Harriet C. Simpson, of Sioux Falls, S. Dak., was appointed to take the place of Miss Helena L. Bowden, who resigned as she was needed at home. Miss Simpson came to us from the Nebraska School for the Deaf, having had experience at the Oklahoma school. Miss Simpson is the daughter of deaf parents and has had special articulation training and so comes to us well prepared for the work. With the exception of the kindergarten teacher, who has had three years' training in her special work, all of our grade teachers have had special preparation in the teaching of speech before coming to us.

PRINTING OFFICE.

CHARLES L. LASHBROOK.

DRAWING DEPARTMENT.

We are glad to report a resumption of systematic work in drawing in September, 1908, under the instruction of Mrs. Sudie F. Betts. During the school year 1907-8, Miss Laura B. Haff was engaged to take charge of the pupils who showed marked talent in drawing, and she began her work in January, 1908. The grade work was in charge of the regular teachers, and although some creditable drawings were made, the results under a special drawing teacher are much more satisfactory. During the drawing periods, which are forty-five minutes long, twice or three times a week, the grade teacher gives individual articulation work.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

Printing.

During the school year the Register has been published twice a month in our office in addition to the large amount of job work. The printing office has turned out very creditable programs for all special exercises, and its exhibit at the end of the year was a handsome showing of the work of the office. Teachers are urged to make use of the office for printing material for class-room work as far as its resources will allow. The demand for deaf printers is good and the need for an up-to-date equipment for our printing office is strong. A new job press, cylinder newspaper press and a linotype, as well as more fonts of type, are essential, if our printer graduates expect to take positions in competition with hearing apprentices of modern printing offices.

Nineteen boys in two divisions were under instruction for two hours daily and for two hours and a half on Saturday mornings. The following report shows amount and value of work turned out in the printing office during the year. Although the number of pupils was smaller, the value of the work done was greater than in the previous year.

Carpentry.

The class in carpentry was composed of twenty-seven pupils in two divisions. Since the last report the foreman of the shop, Mr. H. H. Chapman resigned on account of illness and Mr. Chas. E. Perry, of Rome, a carpenter of experience as a contractor and builder was engaged to fill the vacancy. Mr. Perry took charge of general outside repair work and Mr. Hamilton acted as assistant in the shop until his retirement in May when he was succeeded by Mr. Howard E. Thompson, who gave special instruction to the boys in cane-seating. Custom chairs or chairs from town were accepted and one-third of the proceeds was given to the pupils who did the caning, quite a number of the boys earning some pin-money in this way, besides learning a trade which would be useful to them at home.

An addition to the carpenter shop houses a boiler which supplies steam to an engine of five horsepower which is a starting point towards furnishing the carpenter shop with the power for the machinery which should be installed there in the near future. At present a turning lathe and corundum wheels have been connected with the power and steam is supplied the shop for heating purposes, the engineer having fitted the room with the necessary pipes.

The carpenter shop record begins from January 1, 1908, only, so the following statement represents the value of work done from January 1, up to October 1, 1908, a period of nine months, only.

Electricity.

For a part of the year one pupil was employed with the engineer in electrical construction, becoming quite proficient in detecting breaks and making extensions to the system.

Cooking.

The cooking class of nineteen girls in two divisions continued their work for an hour a week throughout the year, samples of their work being on exhibition and relished at the closing exercises. The instructor is still hampered by the lack of gas connections and a gas range, as the work has to be carried on in the institution kitchen under difficulties.

Ironing.

Twenty-eight of the older girls received instruction in ironing for two-hour periods three days of the week.

Sewing.

The class in garment making was composed of twenty pupils in two divisions and the amount of work turned out was large considering the interruptions of the pupils on account of other industrial assignments.

There were twenty-three pupils in the class in plain sewing in two divisions, the junior division being under instruction for two hours daily. The vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Hamilton in May was filled by the appointment of Helen E. Fish, A. B., of Mystic, Conn., a graduate of Gallaudet College.

Method of Instruction.

The general system of instruction used is known as the combined American System, under which all known methods may be used for the attainment of a common object. While speech and speech-reading are regarded as very important, mental development and the acquisition of language and general knowledge are regarded as still more important. The method adopted for each pupil is the one which seems, after a thorough trial, best suited to his particular needs. Especial attention is given to oral instruction, seven of the eight teachers being trained instructors of articulation and every child is given abundant opportunity to learn to speak and is encouraged to make use of his vocal powers.

Lectures.

The course of monthly lectures by the teachers has been continued, the subjects being Cuba, the Queen of the Antilles (stereopticon), Mr. Thompson; Great Britain and Ireland (stereopticon), Mr. Hamilton; The Chariot Race from Ben-Hur, Miss McNamara; Merchant of Venice, Miss Bowden; Yellowstone National Park (stereopticon), Miss O'Connor; Juan and Juanita, narrative, Miss Gent, and a description of Trenton Falls by Miss Hicks; Manhattan and the Valley of the Hudson (stereopticon), Miss Stewart. In addition to these Owen Lovejoy, Secretary of the National Child Labor Committee, addressed the school on Child Labor, and William G. Jones of New York city, a very talented deaf lecturer gave a rendition of Shakespeare's King Lear in the chapel in a way which will never be forgotten by those who witnessed it.

Peet Literary Society.

Regular semi-monthly literary meetings have been held throughout the year under the direction of the executive committee, and under the direct supervision of one of the teachers, who acts as a committee, assisted by older pupils in making up programs of interest and profit to the members. During the past year fifteen regular meetings were held and there were rendered eighteen recitations, readings and stories, one declamation, one shadowgraph entertainment, eight talks on current events, four debates, one essay and one tableau evening.

The play of Daniel Boone, written and staged by Mr. Hilton, was given in March and netted nearly thirty dollars for the hospital fund.

Teachers' Meetings.

At the regular meetings of the faculty during the year, the following subjects were discussed: Writing and Drawing—when and how they should be taught, Miss Bowden; Useful Devices in the Schoolroom, Miss Gent; Waste in Education, Miss O'Connor; How to Teach Observation, Miss Stewart; Methods of Conducting a Recitation, Mr. Thompson; Language Work, Miss McNamara; How Should We Teach Geography, Mr. Hamilton, and News Items, Miss Hicks.

Special Occasions.

The monthly socials in charge of committees of teachers have been continued and are happy occasions. The pupils were taken to the county fair by the courtesy of the managers and the programs for special occasions throughout the year were successfully carried out.

Repairs and Improvements.

I invite your especial attention to the amount expended for repairs from October 1, 1907, to October 1, 1908, aggregating the sum of $3,810.79. The amount disbursed in the previous fiscal year was $1,130.08. In the year of 1905-6, but $116.01 was expended. The money paid out for repairs from October 1, 1901, to October 1, 1906, a period of five years, was $1,687.64, a little more than one-third of what was found absolutely necessary to keep the plant in proper repair for the two years ending October 1, 1908. There are nine buildings in the school plant, all of them requiring much more in the way of repairs than the school could afford, considering the heavy annual interest and discount charge and the increasing cost of provisions and supplies, but the time had come when repairs were absolutely necessary to the health and welfare of the school. The money was expended wisely under your direction and the improvements made are a source of pride and great satisfaction to all connected with the school. In default of an endowment fund or a building fund or the passing of a bill by the Legislature to defray our indebtedness, it has been found necessary to draw upon the general funds of the school, the receipts for tuition and support of pupils, which were not intended to be expended for repairs and improvements.

Main Building.

The front steps to the main entrance which were badly decayed have been replaced by steps made of cement, which give an impressive and permanent appearance to the entrance to the administration building.

On the second floor one of the vacant school rooms has been converted into a living-room and a living-room south of the chapel has been painted.

Through the generosity of the members of the Peet Literary Society an improvement of considerable importance in the auditorium has been made possible. The gloomy, long, old-fashioned stationary benches which have seen service in the chapel for the last twenty years, have been replaced by one hundred and fifty-six portable folding chairs, finished in dark oak, at a cost of nearly two hundred dollars. This improvement makes possible the use of the chapel for a large variety of purposes and was hailed with delight by all. A handsome drop curtain with a local scene — the Palisades of the Mohawk — painted on it was also purchased by the society at a cost of over sixty dollars, and makes the formerly bare and cheerless chapel much more pleasant and attractive. A fine oak pulpit costing $23.50 was also presented to the school by the society, while two platform chairs were donated by the "Adelphians," ten members of an organization formerly connected with the school. A bust of Rev. Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet, the founder of the first permanent school for the deaf in America, was donated by the King's Daughters, and the Do Ye Next Thyng Band, our two girls' organizations, as was also a medallion portrait of Rev. Thomas Gallaudet, D.D., L. H. D., who was a member and vice-president of the Board of Trustees from 1875 to 1902, the year of his death. These works of art were executed by Elmer Hannan, a deaf sculptor, and adorn the chapel platform in conspicuous positions.

The ceiling and pipes in the pupils' dining-room were painted white and the teachers' dining-room was wainscoted and the lower part of the wall covered with dark red burlap. An additional basement linen closet north of the pupils' dining-room was painted.

The unsightly tin ventilators on the ceiling of the pupils' dining-room, which no longer served any useful purpose were removed.

The addition of plants, pictures and half curtains make the dining-rooms much more attractive.

In the kitchen a cake closet has been built and installed.

New silver has been purchased for the teachers' and officers' dining-room.

The border of the floor of the reception-room and library was painted brown and two substantial rugs have replaced the worn-out reception-room carpet.

In the laundry, a large washer a new engine, body ironer, starch cooker, gas ironer, dry room and mangle have been installed and a cement floor laid.

Wornout window shades have been replaced.

New conductor pipes and gutters were placed and repairs made on the tin roofs where needed. The roof on the rear of the main building was painted.

Door and hatchway has been made from the pupils' dining-room for the convenience of the help.

Repairs to the boiler in the main building.

Boys' Building.

New shower bath with cement floor in the basement, doing away with the antiquated bathtub system which has been used for a generation.

Larger tank for hot water; an 82-gallon tank has been installed.

Removal of partitions in west end of basement thereby admitting more light and air into what was formerly a dark, dangerous spot.

New window cut through in the west end of basement.

All partitions painted in the basement.

Front and rear doors rehung to swing outwardly.

Iron beds re-enameled.

Partitions and floor of night closet and officers' bathroom painted and several rooms in boys' dormitory kalsomined.

New conductor pipes and gutters, tin roof repaired and painted.

Front porch repaired and painted, iron hand rails put up.

Girls' Building.

Washbasins for large girls removed from basement to the second floor.

Bathtub for teachers and officers moved from basement to the second floor.

Bathtubs scraped and re-enameled.

Basement vacated as living quarters for the employees.

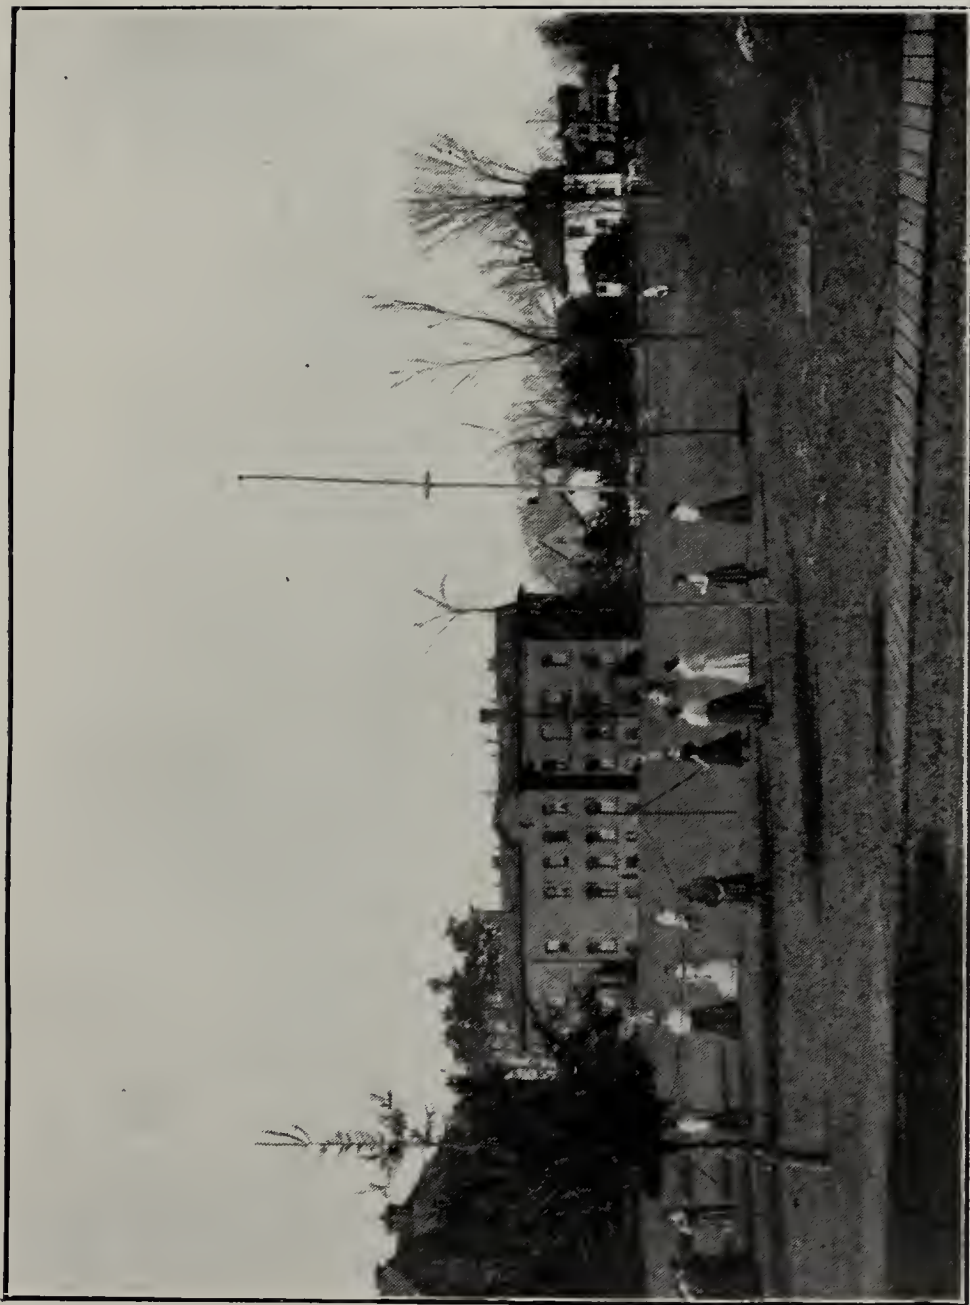

Lavatory for small girls' fixed up in the room adjoining their dormitory on the north, a hard wood floor laid and the walls wainscoted and painted. A closet installed in connection with the lavatory.

A new lavatory and toilet room for the older girls has been prepared on the second floor and a new bathroom with toilet facilities for the lady teachers and officers has been installed in the same room. A hard wood floor has been laid and the room painted blue and a long mirror placed above the washbasins.

Rooms which needed it were kalsomined.

Rubber matting on the hall, first floor, the back stairs and leading to the side entrance.

The front and side doors hung to swing outwardly.

PLAY GROUND.

The front and side entrances, which were in bad condition, were rebuilt and painted. Iron hand rails, side entrance.

The roof, window casings and outside doors were painted and the windows put in good order.

New gutters and conductor pipes and repairing of the roof.

New furnishings for matron's room.

Hospital.

The hospital fund having been increased to eighty dollars since the last report, made possible the purchase of twelve common chairs, four rockers, one invalid's chair, a couch, a three-light chandelier and linoleum floor covering for the reception-room. A wainscoting was put up, repairs made to walls and ceiling and the reception-room painted. An umbrella and hat rack and clock were also purchased.

A cinder walk has been laid to the hospital. This is only a makeshift until a permanently serviceable walk of flagging or cement can be laid.

Carpenter Shop.

Boiler-room added to carpenter shop and old boiler and engine taken from laundry installed. New corundum wheels, belting and shafting. Carpenter shop piped for heat.

New conductor pipe and gutters and roof repaired and painted.

The Grounds.

A cinder walk was laid south of the girls' building.

General Improvements.

Individual soap containers have been installed in the boys' building, girls' building and the hospital. The use of liquid soap has been found to be more cleanly, expeditious and economical.

Aluminum combs have been installed.

Four germ-proof filters are now in use, one in the main building with a capacity of thirty gallons an hour, and one each with a capacity of ten gallons an hour in the boys' building, girls' building and the hospital.

Name of the School.

The movement towards simplification and conciseness in the names of our schools continues and soon the New York schools will be conspicuous for the unwieldy and unexact corporate names of schools. I am advised that a Supreme Court order could be secured at a comparatively small expense changing the name of the school from the Central New York Institution for Deaf-Mutes to the Rome School for the Deaf and I earnestly recommend that this be done.

The Thirty-fourth Commencement.

There was one graduate, Carl G. Ayling of Syracuse, at the June commencement exercises. There was a large attendance and certificates attesting the completion of a five years' course as a State pupil were awarded to Crosby Benson, Izetta Walker, Julia Craft and Maud Tugaw. Eight year certificates were awarded to Pearl Beach, Jennie Carleton and Ralph Tugaw.

The graduate presented an essay on "The Education of the Deaf," and an address was made by Hon. Albert R. Kessinger, Mayor of Rome.

The Robinson Prize of five dollars in gold awarded to the pupil who had made the most improvement in the use of English during the year was given to Alice Malecki of Utica.

The Chamberlain Memorial Prize, consisting of five dollars in gold given to graduate who showed the highest excellence in all the studies pursued in the school was awarded to Carl G. Ayling of Syracuse.

The principal's prize, a Webster's High School Dictionary, given to the pupil who used the English language most faithfully throughout the year, was awarded to Mae A. Evans of Afton.

The matron awarded three prizes, to the girl who made the most improvement in dressmaking, to Anna Wiegand of East Postenkill, a parasol; to the girl making the greatest improvement in conduct, outside of school during the year, to Adella Nelson of Union, a parasol; to the girl who has kept her room in the best order, to Maud Tugaw of Lyons Dale, a hand bag.

The head supervisor of the boys gave the following prizes: For the boy who made the greatest improvement in conduct outside of school, Harry Simon of Syracuse, a fishing rod; for the boy who made his bed the best during the year, Howard Bedell of Troy, a penknife.

Prizes given by the foreman of the printing office to the pupil who has made the best all around improvement during the term, to Elery Race of South Owego, a book.

To the pupil making the most marked improvement in Class B, to Orville Teats of Red Hook, a book.

The baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, June 7th, was preached by Rev. A. L. Byron-Curtiss, rector of St. Joseph's Episcopal Church, and was interpreted by the Principal.

The Rome Alumni Association held a reception in the school parlors the evening of Commencement Day at which the faculty and officers of the school were guests.

Acknowledgments.

The thanks of the school are especially due this year to the organizations of the pupils for the handsome donations they have made and also to the trustees and members of the corporation who remembered the school with Christmas gifts. Friends have contributed illustrated magazines and games which have given the pupils much pleasure and profit.

In closing this report, I desire to express my appreciation of the continued interest and wise counsel of your honorable board in the detailed work of the school and I feel grateful likewise to the teachers, officers and employees for their hearty co-operation in everything tending to the advancement of the school.

Respectfully submitted,

EDWARD PERKINS CLARKE,

Principal.

---

The institution provides for pupils in all respects, traveling expenses, and, in the case of State and pay pupils, clothing excepted, at a rate of $300 per annum. Clothing will be furnished by the institution, if desired, at an additional charge. Payments must be guaranteed. Day pupils will be received at a charge of $100 per annum, including books and stationery, payable semi-annually in advance.

The regular term of admission is at the commencement of the term, which begins the third Wednesday of September. Pupils are received at other times by special arrangement.

No deduction will be made from the annual charge in consequence of absence on any account whatever, except sickness, nor for the vacation.

Satisfactory security will be required for the punctual payment of bills and the suitable clothing for pupils. In case of pupils supported by their parents or friends a bond may be required, the form of which is annexed to this report.

The selection of pupils over twelve years of age to be supported at the public expense is made by the Commissioner of Education at Albany, to whom communications on this subject can be addressed.

Parents having deaf children under twelve years of age and over five may secure their admission to the institution as county pupils by certificate of an overseer of the poor or supervisor of the county.

Should objection exist to the admission of any individual, the board may reserve to themselves or their officers a discretionary power to reject the application.

The above terms are to be understood as embracing the entire annual expense to which each pupil is subjected. Stationery and necessary school books are furnished by the institution. No extra charge is made, in case of sickness, for ordinary medical attendance, medicine, or other necessary provisions.

It is suggested to the parents and friends of deaf children that the names of familiar objects may be taught them with comparative ease before their admission, and that the possession of such knowledge in any degree materially facilitates their subsequent advancement. To be able to write an easy hand, or at least to form letters with a pen, is likewise a qualification very desirable.

In the case of each pupil entering the institution it is necessary to obtain written answers to the following questions: Particular attention to this subject is requested

1. Name of the pupil in full.
2. Residence, town, county, State.
3. When was he born?
4. Where was he born?
5. Was he born deaf?
6. At what age was hearing lost?
7. By what disease or accident did he become deaf?
8. Is the above the physician's opinion?
9. Is the deafness total or partial?
10. Have any attempts been made to communicate instruction?
11. Is there ability to articulate or read on the lips?
12. Is he laboring under any bodily infirmity, defective vision, eruption, malformation of limbs, glandular swelling, rupture, epilepsy, cholera or palsy?
13. Has he shown any sign of mental imbecility, idiocy or insanity?
- 13-a. Is he cleanly?
14. Has he ever used ardent spirits, opium or tobacco?

SITUATION OF THE INSTITUTION.

The Institution is located very centrally in the State, at Rome, in Oneida county, and is directly accessible from all points on the New York Central and Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg railroads; from points on the Utica and Black River and Adirondack railroads to Utica, and thence by the Central; from south central points by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad to Utica or Syracuse; thence by the Central to Rome; also via the New York, Ontario and Western railroad from the south.

The Institution buildings, consisting of three large, well-lighted and ventilated brick structures, with the necessary out-buildings for shops and hospital, are situated on Madison street, on a plot of six and a half acres, in a healthful location.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The Central New York Institution for Deaf-Mutes was incorporated in 1875 and has since been in successful operation. Pupils five years of age and upward are received from all parts of the State of New York, at the expense of the counties of the State. The Institution employs the kindergarten method for its very young pupils. Instruction is given to the boys in wood-working, type-setting, carpentry, painting, glazing and cane-seating, and the girls are taught plain sewing, dressmaking, cooking, ironing and light housework. The buildings are lighted by electricity and heated by steam. The hospital is separate from the other buildings. The Institution is a progressive school for the education of the deaf, and all persons knowing of deaf children are earnestly requested to write to the principal, that they may be placed under instruction at once. Address all communications regarding the admission of pupils to the principal, Elbert A. Gruver, Rome, N. Y.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION.

Location.

The Central New York Institution for Deaf-Mutes is ideally situated, located as it is in the central part of New York State at Rome, in Oneida county. Excluding New York city, very nearly one-fifth of the entire population of the Empire State lives in the counties directly tributary to the school. It is most convenient of access from all points to the New York Central and the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg railroads; from points on the Utica and Black River and Adirondack railroads to Utica, and thence by the Central; from south-central points by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad to Utica or Syracuse, thence by the Central to Rome; the Utica and Mohawk Valley railroad from Little Falls, and via the New York, Ontario and Western railroad to Clinton.

The Institution is situated at No. 713 North Madison street, on the Belt Line of street cars, on a plot of six and a half acres, in a healthful and beautiful part of the city of Rome. The plant consists of nine buildings, the Main Building, the Boys' and Girls' Buildings, three large, well-lighted and well-ventilated brick structures, a detached hospital, laundry and shops.

Object.

The Central New York Institution for Deaf-Mutes was incorporated in 1875. It is not charitable, eleemosynary, correctional or reformatory. Patronized by the State and counties, through appointments by the Commissioner of Education or supervisors of counties, it is practically a part of the general system of education and subject to the supervision of the State Educational Department. It is no more charitable, correctional or reformatory than is Cornell University, which for educational reasons, receives State patronage. The Institution is not a home, hospital or an asylum and weak-minded children cannot be received. All those admitted must be able to dress and otherwise take care of themselves. The school is not a place of detention and the care bestowed is what would naturally be exercised over a number of pupils for their school term. Pupils are free to come and go, subject of course, to reasonable regulations. The Institution is organized separately from the general educational system, because deaf children cannot be instructed with hearing children in the common schools of the State. The object of the Institution is to provide a thoro education for children who are too deaf to be properly instructed in the public schools of the State. Its aim is to train such children to become useful citizens, men and women who will be a credit to themselves, their parents and the community in which they live.

Terms of Admission.

Pupils five years of age and upward may be received from any part of the State. The school has a kindergarten department under the care of a carefully trained teacher in which the youngest pupils receive such instruction as is adapted to their needs. Children are educated in the Institution at the expense of the State and counties. Those under twelve years of age are known as county pupils and are appointed by the Supervisors or overseers of counties. Those over twelve are appointed by the Commissioner of Education, Albany, and are known as State pupils. All persons knowing of deaf children who are not in school are earnestly requested to write to the principal sending the name, age and sex of the child and the post office address of the parents in order that the necessary information blank may be forwarded to the parents to be filled out. Upon receipt of the information blank by the principal, a certificate of admission will be sent to the parent which needs to be signed by a supervisor or overseer of the county and returned to the principal, after which the child may be admitted as a pupil. Tuition, board, lodging, clothing and medical attendance including nursing in ordinary sickness are provided by the institution. Stationery and necessary school books are furnished by the Institution.

The regular time of admission is at the commencement of the term which begins the third Wednesday in September and closes the second Wednesday in June. Upon application, pupils will be received at any time.

When pupils are admitted and parents accompany them to the school they are requested not to linger and prolong leave-taking with their children. It only causes discomfort for all concerned and particularly for the parent. The child will be tenderly cared for, and if left with us without delay, will be quite happy and contented with the others in a few days and often in a few hours.

Trades Taught.

Industrial training is provided for the pupils as far as the resources of the school permit. This paper is a sample of the work done in the printing office. Pupils are instructed in the various details of the "art preservative" so that at graduation they are in possession of a good working knowledge of the trade. The boys are given instruction in wood-working, printing, glazing and cane-seating, and the girls are taught plain-sewing, dress-making, ironing and general housework. Classes are also instructed in drawing and water color.

Sickness and Correspondence.

In case of serious illness of pupils, letters will be sent frequently to parents or guardians. In the absence of letters, parents or friends of pupils may be sure they are doing well.

Pupils write home regularly twice a month. To cover the postage, sixteen two-cent stamps or the money for them, must be furnished by the parents. Parents who desire to hear from their children more frequently must provide additional postage.

Letters, packages and telegrams for pupils, should be addressed to the Central New York Institution for Deaf-Mutes, Rome, N. Y., in care of the Principal, in order to insure delivery promptly. Write the pupil's name plainly in ink upon the package and pre-pay express packages and telegrams in every case.

Change of Address.

Parents or guardians changing their address should immediately inform the Principal of their new address. This is very important.

Letters of Inquiry.

All business letters or letters of inquiry in regard to pupils (concerning their progress in school, health, financial matters, etc.) must be addressed to the Principal and not to teachers, officers or employees; otherwise no attention will be paid to such communications.

Methods of Instruction.

The general system of instruction used in this Institution is known as the Combined or American system, under which all known methods may be used for the attainment of a common object. While speech and speech-reading are regarded as very important, mental development and the acquisition of language and general knowledge are regarded as still more important. The method adapted for each pupil is the one which seems, after a thorough trial, best suited to his particular needs.

The course of instruction includes the branches commonly taught in the grammar schools of the state. Pupils who have the necessary ability are encouraged to prepare for college.

MISCELLANEOUS.Sending and Care of Money.*

The Principal is not responsible for money sent to the pupil directly, but all money or packages received by him for pupils will be promptly acknowledged. All money for pupils should be handed to the Principal who will be responsible for its safe keeping until needed for use.

Contagious Disease.

In order to prevent the communication of infection by letter, we request the parents that if any contagious disease breaks out in the family of any pupil, not to send any letters direct from home to the child. Spare us from any danger through carelessness in this regard.

Religious and Moral Instruction.

The Institution is nonsectarian but moral and religious instruction are provided, the nature of the instruction being general, such as is accepted by all churches and creeds.

Board at the Institution.

The Institution is not a hotel and is not prepared to board or lodge relatives or friends of the pupils. Ample accommodations can be secured at some one of the hotels or boarding-houses in town.

Visiting.

Parents or friends of the pupils may visit with them at any time upon application to the office. Parents or friends taking pupils home must invariably first notify the Principal who will have the pupils sent to meet the parents in the reception room of the main building. Upon returning to school, children should be left at the office in the main building.

Visitors are not only allowed but welcomed at the school and will be gladly shown through the various departments of the Institution any day except Saturday and Sunday from 8:00 to 12:30 a. m. and from 2:00 p. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Parents and friends of deaf children are warned against quack doctors who insert fake advertisements in the papers and magazines for the purpose of unloading upon the gullible public medicines and appliances purporting to cure deafness and who only want money for which they give no return. Thousands of dollars are wasted annually in this way for which the slightest equivalent is not only not forthcoming but in many cases positive injury is done the child. Consult a well-known physician only in case of adventitious deafness and be guided by his advice. In the event of the possibility of improving the hearing of any child, every facility is offered at the Institution for the benefit of the pupil, so that no child should be deprived of his school time for treatment which can be supplied here without interrupting the education of child.

Suspension of Pupils.

The principal has power to suspend or expel a pupil of the Institution whenever he may deem it necessary for the maintenance of discipline.

Vaccination.

Every pupil who has not been vaccinated before being received into the Institution shall be vaccinated without delay.

MARCH 24, 1909.

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT.

---

To the Honorable, the Legislature of the State of New York, and George B. McClellan, Mayor of the City of New York:

In accordance with the charter under which the Jewish Protective and Aid Society was incorporated, the managers beg to submit herewith the following report for the year 1908, which is their second annual report:

In April, 1907, the institution at Hawthorne, New York, established by this society, was opened for the reception of male children under the age of sixteen, committed to our care by the children's parts of the Court of Special Sessions of the city of New York.

This society has erected an institution upon the theory that the central administration, synagogue and school buildings would be adequate to provide for a very much larger number of children than the six initial cottages could provide for.

Each of these had accommodations, upon the advanced cottage system, for thirty children, so that the capacity at the outset was limited to 180 children.

After the most thorough investigation it was determined that each cottage should be divided into two dormitories, each dormitory accommodating fifteen boys and each containing the necessary parlors, assembly and play rooms.

In the hope and contemplation of increased accommodations the buildings devoted to synagogue, dining-rooms, schoolrooms and general administration were planned and built to ultimately care for at least 500 boys. One of the financial problems remaining was the erection of a sufficient number of cottages to house all of the Jewish male children under the age of sixteen who, from the children's courts, should properly be committed to our institution.

The problem was new and difficult, but it has met, if I may say so, with unusual success at the outset.

A year ago I reserved commendation of the practical administration of this institution, for I thought that we should have a substantial demonstration before praise was accorded.

Now that almost two years have passed since our superintendent took charge of the children actually admitted, I desire to express the undivided appreciation of the board of managers for the able, industrious, thoughtful and high-minded labors of our superintendent, Mr. John Klein.

Coming to us as he did with a ripe experience, nevertheless he was confronted with new and complex problems.

Giving to this difficult undertaking the highest degree of interest and enthusiasm he has conducted the daily administration of our institution with unusual success. New as our institution has been it has merited the highest commendation from the State Board of Charities for, in the report of that body, it is recorded that we are in the first class, with no criticisms.

Therefore I take this opportunity on behalf of my fellow-managers and myself, of expressing to our superintendent our satisfaction and appreciation at the manner in which he has performed the duties of his office, and I desire him to know that he has commanded by his practical work the regard of every man responsibly charged with the administration of the affairs of our institution.

I may in this connection also say in a personal way that I feel under very deep obligations to my fellow-officers and managers who have made my task so easy and to whose disinterested and patriotic services the present condition of the institution is entirely due.

I should have great difficulty in singling out my associates by name for fear that I might omit mention of the services of some particular member of the board of officers or managers; but in the many associations with which I have been privileged to be connected, I can say without reservation that I know of no men who have given more of their time, thought, conscientious devotion and means than the gentlemen with whom I am associated in the conduct of this institution.

It has been unusually hard, however, to interest the Jewish community in the work in which we are engaged. We have been accustomed, with pardonable pride, to think that the life of the city produces few children of our own faith who may be designated as delinquent children. Yet we must face the cold fact that there are sufficient, indeed too many, children coming under this head to require our attention.

Our commitments have been as follows:

For burglary . . . . .	5	For disorderly conduct. . . . .	1
For grand larceny. . . . .	3	For no proper guardianship. . . . .	5
For petit larceny . . . . .	5

I refer you for further details to the report of our superintendent, but suffice it to say that in addition to the children who were committed to our care, numbering in all since April, 1907, 199, there were still 130 Jewish delinquent boys who were committed to non-Jewish institutions during the past year.

This total of 130 was, however, not the real total. From conversation had with the justices sitting in the children's court I am sure that there were more than these 130 boys whom these justices felt ought to be committed. Yet the justices of the children's court were confronted with the problem of sending these young Jewish delinquents to the House of Refuge or suspending sentence, or placing them on probation. Rather than commit these children to the House of Refuge (which is properly for more hardened cases), they placed them on probation or suspended sentence in cases which should properly have been sent to us. I should say that in all 250 Jewish children should have come to us last year who either were committed to non-Jewish institutions or were set at large on suspension of sentence or probation.

We are thus confronted with the necessity of erecting at the earliest possible date at least four more cottages.

We are advised by our architects that these cottages, of a character similar to those which have already been established, can be constructed and furnished at a cost of $60,000 in all.

We therefore earnestly appeal to the great Jewish community for contributions sufficient to build at least four cottages.

Thereby we shall be enabled to accommodate 120 more boys and more nearly approach the rapidly increasing requirements of our very dense population.

I am pleased to state that the hospital, made possible by the generosity of Mrs. Caroline Neustadter, has now been completed.

From the report of the superintendent it will appear that we have made some progress in the establishment of classes in carpentry, telegraphy, farming, gardening and instrumental music; yet we strongly feel that a trade school is an absolute necessity.

Our problem is not merely to educate the child religiously, morally and intellectually, but to give him a means whereby he can earn an honest living after he leaves our institution.

Our work will have been only half done if we send the child out into the world with better ideals and nobler aspirations. Our work can only be completely done if we place in his hands a means of earning a living.

We are all agreed that these children must be equipped to do something more than work as unskilled laborers. We wish them to be artisans and mechanics. We wish them, in great measure, to be able to live by the skilled product of their hands, and to that end to establish a trade school in the largest sense of the term.

Wherefore we appeal to every member of our community to give such contribution for this purpose as the circumstances of the donor may justify.

Like most philanthropic institutions we have also acquired the luxury of a mortgage — this particular one being in the sum of $75,000. It is rather unusual for a Jewish institution to be obligated for the payment of a mortgage. Yet, the directors believed that rather than delay the completion of the institution it was wiser to borrow money. Speaking on behalf of my associates, I confess that the existence of this mortgage is something of a humiliation, and we are hopeful that sufficient contributions will be made to us to discharge this mortgage at an early date.

Therefore I appeal to our public for funds sufficient: 1st, to discharge our mortgage; 2d, to establish a trade school; and 3d, to establish not less than four cottages constructed on the plan of the present cottages.

It is the idea of our institution to start a boy who comes to us upon the theory that he represents a plus or the right possibilities of a good citizen. Instead of requiring him to earn his way up to commendation, we start him with the thought that his conduct is good and if he sustains it, he can in due course earn his discharge.

Thus his career is divided into three sections of twenty-six weeks, or a year and a half in total, and if he behaves himself he will, at the expiration of that time, earn three stripes, one for each period of twenty-six weeks, and thus be enabled to go out in the world freed from the restraint of our system. We believe that this method is better than to start him at zero and make him affirmatively earn sufficient marks or other evidences of efficiency to entitle him to discharge.

By law the child is under our control whether in actual custody or otherwise until he shall have reached his majority; that is to say, twenty-one years of age.

We feel, therefore, a corresponding responsibility, and now that these children have begun to earn their discharges, the problem of obtaining employment for them is one of paramount importance.

It must be remembered that many of these children are not fundamentally bad, but have been cast into temptation by lack of proper surroundings. The history of child life and child delinquency is full of instances where children committed and detained have ultimately become good citizens, and therefore we ask the aid of every employer to assist in finally setting upon the right path these children whom we educate religiously, morally and physically for the great work of adult life.

Thus far our discharges have been so few, owing to the youth of our institution, that that problem is still in its initial stages, but we cannot succeed unless from the great employers of labor we have the fullest co-operation and unless we can convince them of that of which we ourselves are fully convinced; namely, that a child discharged from our institution may be trusted in the fullest degree and not infrequently may be trusted to a greater extent than the child that has not been subjected to discipline such as ours.

In this connection it must be remembered that from the superb healthful country surroundings of our institution we build up physically the child of the crowded street; we give to him a new energy and that incites an ambition to which he and his parents may have been strangers; we bring him close enough to develop in him a genuine tendency toward real manhood. In the same regard we consider as a pivotal point in the education of our children the inculcation of religious thought and religious observance.

We believe that an understanding of the fundamental principles of the ancient faith to which he belongs is not only an integral but a necessary part of the education of the children committed to our care. Those of you who have not taken the opportunity to visit our institution will be amazed at the pleasure and alacrity with which our children come into the synagogue and participate in the holy services there rendered.

We seek to instill in the child the ordinary fundamentals of fair dealing. We try to make him do the square thing by the other boys and so conduct himself that no one of his associates may say he is mean or underhanded. Besides all this, we use every effort to make him appreciative of the advantages of American citizenship; to make him understand the privileges of a free country; the traditions of its great purposes and its great men. We make the child salute the flag, a ceremony in which all the children are always interested; and so far as it is in our power, we make clear to him the meaning and the inspiration of the lives of accepted American statesmen.

Thus we endeavor to send out into the world, not Jewish Americans, but good American citizens of the Jewish faith, able to do their fair part in the affairs of men and to contribute their share toward the maintenance and further progress of the free country in which we reside.

But our problem is not confined to the children who are committed to our care. One of the great advances of modern times lies in the probation system. This is a system whereby the child (usually a first offender) obtains a fair opportunity before it is separated from its parents or guardians. The courts are realizing that under an adequate and properly administered system of probation children may be taught the simple responsibilities of life, and parents at the same time may be made to understand the obligations they owe to their children as well as the community at large.

We have been fortunate in having a parole officer, who, acting under the direction of our superintendent, has so conducted himself as to merit the co-operation of the children's court, and who has evidenced a genuine interest in the life and affairs of the children over whom he has immediate supervision.

It is our purpose, however, not merely to supervise the children discharged or paroled from our institution, but also the children placed on parole by the children's court.

The problem is not easy, for it requires a great number of persons to carry it out effectively.

We therefore consider ourselves fortunate in having now started on the so called "Big brother idea."

The big brother idea is briefly this: An older youth or man charges himself with the responsibility of caring for one boy. He gives to that boy all of the value of his own moral and sympathetic nature. He takes an interest in that boy and seeks to lead him into the paths of right conduct.

Already under our probation committee we have been able to enlist the services of a number of high-minded young men, and I would mention them here were it not that the value of the system lies in the quiet of the work and the lack of exploitation.

I am quite sure that in the audience which it is my privilege now to address there is not an inconsiderable number of young men who have charged themselves with the duty of being a big brother either to one of the children paroled or probationed from the children's court, or one of the children paroled after service in our institution.

This big brother idea is still in its infancy; is still experimental; and yet while not fully tested, it seems the only practicable method whereby the large number of children properly subject to supervision must be ultimately taken care of.

While our work has thus far been confined to the children committed by the children's court of Manhattan and the Bronx, I feel that our duty will not have been fully performed unless we comprehend within our plan every Jewish child in the whole greater city.

Ideally and theoretically we should take any child committed by any court in this jurisdiction in the greater city, and yet we are constrained, for practical reasons, to take only those children that we can accommodate. I appeal, therefore, to the good citizens of the borough of Brooklyn to provide for themselves at least one cottage where we can care for thirty children. I wish to say to you who are here assembled that it is the duty of the borough of Brooklyn to provide at least one cottage for the children of Brooklyn, as we of the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx have already provided four cottages for the children sent to us by our local court.

I pause to mention the names of members who have died and to extend to their families our sympathy and our appreciation of their support: Louis Clark, Jr., S. W. Glazier, Louis H. Hyman, Louis A. Heinsheimer, Nathan Kempner, Gibson Putzel, Sigmund Rosenwald, Alfred Schiffer, Solomon Smith, August Weil, Nathan Wise, Alfred R. Wolff.

It has been the established policy of the State of New York to require that a child should be sent, wherever practicable, to institutions of like faith to that of its parents. The State, treating a child as a ward, has recognized the necessity of an upbringing the same as would be accorded by a capable and conscientious parent. But while the State contributes some share toward the maintenance of such institutions, there it stops, and it remains for private philanthropic enterprise to supply what the State fails to do.

My friends, I therefore appeal with all the emphasis that I can express for the fullest measure of your support for further cottages to provide for children throughout the greater city. I appeal to each subdivision of our community to do what it can to the highest extent of its capacity to provide us with the means to care for and educate these unfortunate children.

I believe that modern thought is agreed on the proposition that the best work is to be done at the foundation; that the child is now as indeed it ever has been, "The father of the man." Make healthy, moral and good citizens of your children and your institutions for the aged and infirm will correspondingly decrease.

For every child that you make self-supporting, you transmute a dependent family into an independent family. For every son that you make a capable citizen, you release an infirm and aged parent from public or private charity. For every dollar that you expend in the making of a good child out of a bad child you reap a thousand-fold return, not only morally but economically.

It is with deep gratitude to my associates who have honored me with the great privilege of presiding over this institution and this meeting that I appeal on their behalf, and upon behalf of the institution, and upon behalf of the great work in which we are engaged, for the highest support for the Jewish Protectory and Aid Society, and I shall have been remiss in my duty if I have failed to excite your earnest attention to the problems we have in hand.

In conclusion I may call your attention to that fact that in addition to the work which I have attempted to describe, we have taken over the labors of the Jewish Prisoners Aid Society; and that while our work is initially with the children, our responsibility extends to any Jewish prisoner of whatever age, committed by whatever court. We approach that work in the spirit of doing all we can to make good citizens out of the men and women who have violated the laws of the nation and of the State, and our highest aspiration is that in the end all men shall say that we have not only enjoyed our fair share of the advantages of American citizenship, but also that we have borne our fair share of its responsibilities.

One hundred and thirty Jewish delinquent boys were committed by the children's court to non-Jewish institutions during the past year. Only nineteen were committed to the Hawthorne School, because our present cottages were filled, and we could accept a new boy only on the discharge of some inmate.

GENERAL SURVEY.

The second year of the history of the Hawthorne School is a thing of the past. It has been a year of activity and growth, attended with such problems and difficulties as are to be expected in an institution which is still in the formative period.

During the year we have been placed by the State Board of Charities in Class 1, which they describe as meaning "practically without a defect." This honor we feel to be a splendid reward for past effort, as well as a great incentive to future achievement.

There have been other encouragements. We have a larger, more experienced, and therefore a more efficient staff. There have been extension and improvement in the various forms of activity. Gifts of many needed things have been received. There has been no death nor serious sickness among the boys, and their attitude of mind toward the training they are here receiving is cause for thankfulness. That but one boy is away from the school without leave certainly shows a spirit of contentment.

Since this is the first reformatory institution ever conducted by the Jewish community, to many of whom the work is unfamiliar, it may be pertinent to explain the methods by which we hope to bring about the reformation of wayward and delinquent boys.

The first step is purely physical — thorough examinations by our attending physician, dentist and oculist. Is the boy perfectly well? In most cases he is not. If he does not actually show imperfect vision, deafness, difficult respiration, or other bodily defect, he may be undersized, underfed, anæmic. Quite likely he is listless; acts lazy, and seems good for nothing. At the beginning he may be irritable, sullen, distrustful. After a few weeks, however, he feels different. He is clean and well dressed. He has all he wants of food that nourishes. His teeth have been attended to. He has glasses, if his eyes trouble him. He does not realize it, but pure air, regular habits and days full of wholesome activity are affecting him — both in mind and in body. He begins to appreciate the comforts of his surroundings and the friendliness of his associates. His mind is led each day to the worship of his Creator, as the source of all good gifts. His intimate relationship with others affords frequent opportunity for the exercise of self-control, personal honor, sympathy and helpfulness; for the cultivation of conscience and the development of will. His nature expands. Those who are studying him learn of his personality and his peculiarities. He may hate school, but enjoy manual training; he may have no patience with indoor occupations, but manifest interest in gardening. Here, then, is an avenue through which he can be reached. One boy who lately came to us, resentful and bitter, showed his first glimmering of interest when told that we have a boy choir. He has a good voice and likes to sing. Is it not possible, therefore, that through this endowment will lie the way to his final reformation?

Such are our beginnings with each boy. It remains to continue the work, till habits of thought and action are permanently established in the right direction. This, of course, takes time. It takes patience, and it takes ingenuity. The boy must not lose interest. He must not tire of the place. He must have incentives to good behavior, and he must feel pride in his present progress, as well as ambition for his future.

One of our means toward these ends is the boy's conduct record. He starts his life here with a perfect standing. As long as he behaves himself, he stays in the first grade, and receives many privileges; but if his rank be lowered, these privileges are withdrawn. Moreover, twenty-six weeks of first grade rating, win an honor stripe, to be worn on his coat sleeve, and three such stripes make him eligible for parole. Thus it is seen that it will take a year and a half of good behavior for a boy to earn his parole, and that each week in which he loses rank for misconduct lengthens his term for that period.

Among other incentives to good deportment are the holding of offices in various clubs, military rank, etc., etc. Six cadet officers now have a special table, and special sleeping rooms. In time we hope for an Honor Cottage for such boys as show greatest superiority in character and deportment.

From the time a boy enters this school until the day he leaves his future career is a matter of careful consideration. As far as our means permit we train him so that he may earn a livelihood in whatever way his aptitude seems to lie. We now have classes in carpentry, telegraphy, farming and gardening, and instrumental music. A few boys are receiving instruction in the bakery, the dairy, and in chicken raising. At the power house some are being taught the work connected with the steam plant, the engines, the dynamos, and the refrigerating machine. We greatly need a trades school, where a thorough apprenticeship in various trades (not including those of the sweatshop variety), can be secured. Of this further mention will be made.

Our authority over a boy does not terminate till he reaches the age of twenty-one. We are keeping close watch over those who have thus far been paroled, and it is a pleasure to report that all are doing well. One graduate is now in the employ of the school. We have a special officer who looks after paroled boys. He also visits the children's court every day, examining the cases of such Jewish boys as are arraigned, or placed on parole, visiting these in their homes and maintaining general oversight.

DETAILS OF THE WORK.

The boys of our school are constantly employed. From six o'clock in the morning till eight at night there is always something on hand, either of work or of play. All boys under fourteen years of age attend school both morning and afternoons. Those over fourteen spend half a day in school and the other half in some trades class. Until recently we have been obliged to have boys assist in the work of the laundry, kitchen and dining-hall. Now, however, this work is all done by hired help, thus giving much greater opportunity to the boys for the acquisition of useful knowledge. This is a great step in advance, for most of the boys are backward in their studies and need all the schooling that it is possible to give them.

Our schools are conducted along the lines of the New York city public schools, and satisfactory results are being shown. In addition to secular studies every boy has three hours of instruction weekly in Hebrew, biblical history and religion, under the direction of Dr. Prokesch, our resident rabbi. Details of all this work will be found in his reports, which follow. One hour of training in singing is given each evening to different boys by our music teacher, and our choir has become a valued feature at all services.

The telegraph class is making good headway. The class in carpentry is proving itself invaluable to the school as well as to the boys who are receiving this training. During the past year, beside attending to all the repairs on the place, they have built four large chicken houses, with runs, large enough to accommodate two hundred chickens; a rustic arbor, book racks for the synagogue pews, window boxes for flowers, fly screens, frames for hotbeds, and a variety of other needed articles. Beside these, an old cottage on the farm has been put in good condition, and now makes a pleasant home for one of our employees.

This carpentry class has advanced to a point where we may well consider the expediency of erecting a cottage with its help. Practical work of this kind is the best sort of training, and the project is advisable from an economical standpoint, for we could in this way provide a home for thirty more boys at comparatively small expense.

The agricultural classes have been made up of two groups of twenty boys each, one working forenoons and the other afternoons, under the direction of a practical farmer who is a graduate of the Hungarian Altenburg Farm School. Although entirely unaccustomed to farm work, the majority of the boys manifested deep interest in all its branches, and it is believed that as they became accustomed to it and gain the experience necessary to carry it on successfully, many will be led to take up agricultural work as a means of livelihood on leaving this school.

In addition to the regular classes in farming and gardening each of our 180 boys was given a plot, six by ten feet in size, to cultivate under the direction of one of our house fathers, who is a graduate of the National Farm School at Doylestown, Pa. These gardens were a great success. The boys were full of enthusiasm, and spent most of their spare time in caring for their little farms. The radishes, lettuce, peas, beans, etc., which they raised, were used as special treats for the boys of their cottage or as gifts to parents. On their admission to the school none of the boys had any knowledge of gardening. Now every boy understands how to prepare the soil and raise many small garden vegetables. The benefit of this instruction can hardly be over-estimated, and I regard it as one of the most helpful and practical as well as pleasing features of our work.

The amount contributed by the Baron De Hirsch Fund for this agricultural training amounted to $650.

Although much of the crop suffered because of the extreme drought, the result as a whole was very satisfactory, our total crop being as follows:

400 bushels of potatoes.	1,000 pumpkins.
10,000 heads of cabbage.	6,000 sweet corn.
60 bushels of tomatoes.	400 bushels of field corn.
1,500 bunches of radishes.	120 bushels of oats.
20 barrels of winter radishes.	15 bushels of peppers.
18 bushels of onions.	35 tons of No. 1 hay.
3,000 heads of lettuce.	30 tons of No. 2 hay.
10 bushels of peas.	10 tons of corn stalks.
24 bushels of beets.	6 barrels of pears.
4 barrels of musk melons.	60 barrels of apples.
40 barrels of cucumbers.	5 barrels of cider vinegar.
24 bushels of marrow beans.	21,900 quarts of milk.
90 bushels of turnips.

The boys who compose the brass band, twenty-six in number, are being trained by Mr. Samuel Lehman and his assistants, who generously donate their time and services. Further instruction is given by one of our house fathers. The instruments for this band were given by our managers and are greatly appreciated.

One of the important features of our daily routine is the military drill, which is made very attractive to the boys by the guns and swords presented by the managers. This drill is invaluable as a means of physical improvement and of discipline, besides furnishing a pleasant diversion to the more serious pursuits of the day.

Fire drills are held semi-monthly, at which a fire brigade, composed of boys, is taught the use of fire apparatus. We are now able to get all the boys out of the school building, and turn a stream of water upon it, in less than two minutes after the alarm is sounded.

Interspersed with these various activities, are hours for play. Baseball, football and athletic contests are popular during the summer. In winter there is coasting and sliding, the building of snow forts, etc., etc. Evenings in the cottages are made pleasant by books, games and weekly club meetings, at which the boys have recitations and debates. We have had occasional entertainments. Mr. Ash furnished one pleasing concert, and there have been some plays given by the boys that were exceptionally good. The stereopticon donated by Messrs. Marshall, Schiff and Lewisohn, and the Victor phonograph, the gift of Mr. Jacob Wertheim, have been means of additional entertainment. We ought to have more illustrated lectures of an interesting and instructive character. With a first class stereopticon it would be easy to arrange for such entertainments, and this suggestion is made in the hope that it may appeal to some friend of the school.

Religious holidays have been suitably observed, as well as those of a patriotic character. Washington's Birthday we are making "Parents' Day." A play suitable to the occasion is being prepared by the boys, and all parents will receive an invitation to attend this entertainment. The Fourth of July is to be "Old Home Day" for our graduates. All boys who are discharged or paroled are invited to visit the school on that day. We expect to entertain them with athletic games, baseball and fireworks. Our fireworks this year were donated by Mr. Samuel B. Hamburger, and were the crowning feature of a happy day.

OUR NEEDS.

Our greatest anxiety in connection with the work of the past twelvemonth has been our need of more cottages. At the beginning of the year all of our six cottages were filled; and throughout this entire period we have been able to take new boys only when a vacancy occurred through the discharge of some inmate. There were fifteen such discharges. Meanwhile large numbers of Jewish boys were committed by the court to non-Jewish institutions, because we had no room for them. These facts speak for themselves. It is hoped that this condition will be corrected in part during the coming spring, by the erection of more buildings. A modified form of the cottages already erected, large enough to accommodate thirty boys, and fully furnished, can be built for $15,000.

Another important point to be considered in this connection is the decrease in per capita expense with an increase in population. On a basis of five hundred boys, which our school building, synagogue and dining-hall are built to accommodate, we would be practically self-supporting. At present, our per capita expense exceeds our allowance for maintenance from the city of New York by $108 per year, thus imposing heavy burdens on those who have already given liberally for the erection and support of our school, and draining a source of income which might better be used for permanent additions in the way of buildings and equipment.

There are ways in which this per capita expense may wisely be kept down, such as constant guarding against wastefulness, discrimination in buying, etc., etc. It is poor policy to economize, beyond a certain point, on the boys themselves. They must have suitable clothing, and such food as is needed by a growing boy. In summer we provide a good quality of knit underwear, cotton shirts and suits of a neat and serviceable material. In winter the boys wear undergarments of warm Canton flannel, thick socks, "hickory" shirts and heavy suits of corduroy. A resident cobbler has kept shoes in excellent repair.

A substantial bill of fare is provided, and the boys show a steady gain in weight. Their general health is excellent. In spite of the rigors of severe winter weather, colds, tonsilitis, influenzas, etc., etc., are almost unknown among us. Except for one mild case of diphtheria, the source of which was traced to the home of the patient's parents, there has been practically no sickness in the school.

Our great need of a trades school has already been mentioned. A suitable one can be built and equipped for $70,000, and it is earnestly hoped that the advantages of such a school, with classes in printing, plumbing, painting, bricklaying, and other suitable trades, will not long be withheld from the boys. For $1,000 a class in printing could be started now, and this would be a valuable addition to our present industries.

We need a new dairy, and a larger herd of cattle. If, in addition to supplying our tables with certified milk, we could also furnish them with butter, beef and veal, besides securing the advantage of enrichment of the soil from the herd, it would be a profitable investment. We have ample pasturage and sufficient land to raise all necessary feed.

We need a larger hennery. Already we have the beginning of a good chicken farm, but an enlargement would be advantageous. Last year we raised, with incubators, four hundred chickens. We could easily raise two thousand more this year, thus adding valuable food products to those already obtained from the place. Chicken raising is a profitable business when it is not necessary to hire extra help to do the work, and when much of the food is furnished by table scraps, which, in a great family like ours, are abundant. In a place like this, chickens may almost be called "by-products."

A gymnasium outfit would be a valuable addition. The boys need all the physical training they can get, and such an equipment would not only add to their health, but would greatly increase their sources of enjoyment.

Among the needs of a year ago were mentioned band instruments, military outfit and a library. The instruments and military outfit have been supplied, and a good start made on the library. Many other valuable gifts have been received.

Through the efforts of Mr. Ash, we have become members of the New York Circulating Library, and now have six hundred books which can be kept for six months, and then exchanged for others. Besides this, the managers and other friends of the school, have donated books and magazines. Gifts of this sort are greatly appreciated.

In 1907, Mrs. Caroline Neustadter gave $15,000 for the erection and equipment of a hospital. This building was put up during the past year. It is of cement and conforms in style to the other buildings of the school. Surgical instruments and other equipment for this hospital have been ordered, and will be fully adequate to whatever needs may arise. We have now in use a full set of test lenses, ophthalmometer, and other necessary apparatus for examining eyes.

That the community and the public generally feel interested in our school, is manifested by the large number of people who have visited it during the past year. One hundred and fifty members of the Society of Jewish Social Workers of Greater New York held their annual meeting here in May, and we have had visits from the Summer School of Philanthropy, a class in sociology from Cornell University, besides many men and women of prominence in philanthropic and other lines.

The Superintendent is to be found every Thursday afternoon at the New York office in the Hebrew Charities building, 356 Second avenue. By this arrangement the parents of the boys, who wish to confer with him, are spared the (to them) long and expensive trip to Hawthorne; while he gains in the opportunity afforded for a better acquaintance with the boys' relatives.

In conclusion I wish to thank the board of managers for the cordial support and hearty co-operation extended to me at all times.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN KLEIN,

Superintendent.

REPORT ON RELIGIOUS WORK.

To the President and Board of Managers of the Jewish Protectory and Aid Society:

Recognizing the need of bringing religious influences to bear upon the pupils of an institution like the Hawthorne School, the trustees have naturally laid great stress upon the religious instruction of the pupils under their charge. Most of the boys so far committed, either through lack of proper guardianship, or more probably through their unruliness and waywardness, were at their entrance absolutely devoid of a knowledge of the religion of their fathers. It has, therefore, been found necessary to teach them the main principles of Judaism, to give them an acquaintance with Jewish history and the Bible, and some knowledge of the Hebrew language. To accomplish this each boy receives every week at least three hours' religious instruction. The subjects taught are:

1. Hebrew.—(a) Hebrew reading and writing; (b) translation of Hebrew prayers; (c) singing of Hebrew hymns.

2. History.—(a) Biblical history; (2) books of the Bible and their contents; (c) short biographies of great men in Israel.

3. Religion.—(a) Feasts and fasts; (b) Jewish observances; (c) ten commandments; (d) principles of faith; (e) the Jewish calendar; (f) bar mitzvah (confirmation); (g) mourning observances (Kaddish, Jahrzeit), etc.

For formal instruction in the above branches, the pupils are divided into six classes, graded according to their knowledge and ability.

Not only in the religious education, but also in the observances of Judaism, the pupils of the Hawthorne School receive a wholesome training. As most of the boys were born in this country and come from Russian, Roumanian, Hungarian and Galician parents, to whom most of them will return when discharged, the religious observances must be such as may appeal to the pupils and not be strange and objectionable to their parents. The principle adopted has, therefore, been to reproduce as far as possible the relation existing between the pupil, his parents, and his teachers, where the child grows up normally in its Jewish home. The services are conducted as nearly as possible like those in a well regulated synagogue, with only such modifications as would inevitably be demanded in services calculated for a congregation composed entirely of young people.

The pupils assemble in the synagogue daily for the morning service, for which the Singer prayer book is now introduced. The prayers are recited partly in Hebrew and partly in English. A well trained choir of the inmates, and congregational singing add to the beauty, solemnity, and attractiveness of the services. Brief addresses are made by the chaplain during the week, to which a moral lesson based either upon the daily Pentateuch readings, or upon some occurrence in the Hawthorne School is connected. At the Sabbath and the holiday services a longer and more formal sermon is delivered.

Sabbaths, festivals and holy days are properly observed. After the services in the synagogue on Friday evening and on the eve of the holidays, when the children assemble in the common dining-hall, the Kiddush is recited by the chaplain. Hitherto the grace before and after meals has been said by the boys on all occasions only in English. Since about one hundred and twenty-five boys can now read Hebrew and about one-half of the pupils can translate the Hebrew into English, these prayers will be recited hereafter once a day in Hebrew.

The festivals and minor holidays are marked by special celebrations and appropriate ceremonials. An entertainment with a Chanukah play was held at Chanukah, and another is planned for Purim. The Sabbaths and holidays are also distinguished by meals, abstention from work and secular study.

Boys are prepared for their Bar Mitzvah and are called up on such occasions in the usual way to the reading of the Torah.

The chaplain mingles with the boys as much as possible, watches the development of their character advises them, talks to them privately whenever opportunity offers. He is with them on Sundays when parents or relatives call, and occasionally visits the parents at their own homes in order to become acquainted with the environment, the mode of living, and the whole moral atmosphere in which the boys have been reared. Such information cannot but help the chaplain to ascertain the individual faults of the pupils and the causes of their waywardness, and helps in his efforts to eradicate the evil before it is too late and to uplift his young flock to the normal standard of morality.

Respectfully submitted,

S. Z. PROKESCH,

Chaplain.

REPORT ON SECULAR EDUCATION.

To the President and Board of Managers of the Jewish Protectory and Aid Society:

The course of secular instruction, exclusive of industrial training, is now rearranged so as to provide for the boys under fourteen years of age five hours' instruction daily, such as is given in the public schools. For those between fourteen and sixteen, a half day's schooling is provided, the other half being given to learning a trade. To those over sixteen years, the half day's school instruction will be devoted to a course of training in business methods, whilst the rest of the day is given to industrial pursuits.

As the number of backward children in an institution like the Hawthorne School is proportionately greater than that in an ordinary school, such pupils naturally require special consideration. To try to impart to them all the subjects of the public school curriculum would be a perfect waste of time. The best and most practical instruction for them is a constant training in the rudiments of reading, writing and arithmetic.

In order to carry out this readjustment, a change and increase in the faculty was necessary. The three whole day classes will be under the care of the original teachers, whilst for the two half day classes a new teacher has been provided. In addition to these the services of other teachers will be utilized for the business course, for the training of the backward boys, and for teaching drawing and elecution. Special provision has also been made for the instruction of vocal and instrumental music. Under these arrangements the pupils of the Hawthorne School are bound to make great and rapid progress, and every hope may be entertained for satisfactory results.

Respectfully submitted,

S. Z. PROKESCH,

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

To the President and Board of Managers of the Jewish Protectory and Aid Society:

During the past year the general health of the boys has been very good indeed, which goes to show that they have had good care, and an occasional attack of indigestion indicates that they will overload their stomachs with the good things provided for them.

The only contagious disease was diphtheria and only one case of that due to the prompt measures taken in isolating him in the hospital.

The other cases were:

Colitis . . . . .	1 case	Herpes foster . . . . .	1 case
Hand burned . . . . .	1 case	Dermatitis from ivy poison.
Abscess ear . . . . .	2 cases		12 cases
Tonsillitis . . . . .	8 cases	Rheumatism . . . . .	2 cases
Cellulitis hand . . . . .	1 case	Abscess axilla . . . . .	1 case
Cellulitis foot . . . . .	1 case	Eczema . . . . .	6 cases
Abscess neck . . . . .	3 cases	Fractured arm . . . . .	2 cases

There have been no deaths.

ERNEST N. WILCOX, M. D.

DENTIST'S REPORT.

*To the President and Board of Managers of the Jewish Protect-
ory and Aid Society:*

DEAR SIRS.—During the year 1908 I made sixteen visits to the school, filling 142 and extracting 172 teeth.

At present the boys' teeth are in a very satisfactory condition.

Very respectfully,

C. C. WEYANT, D. D. S.

REPORT OF OCULIST.

To the President and Board of Managers of the Jewish Protectory and Aid Society:

During the year 1908 we have equipped ourselves with the latest model Javal ophthalmometer, trial case, and other instruments that are needed in the treatment and care of the eyes.

We have continued our systematic examination of the eyes of the boys, and wherever glasses or treatment were indicated have furnished the same.

Our hope is during the coming year to enlarge the scope of our examinations and to devote more time to the nose, throat and ear than we have been able to in the past.

Yours respectfully,
 ARCHIE L. OBERDORFER,
Ophthalmologist and Aurist.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE STATE RACING COMMISSION 1908.

To the Legislature:

Pursuant to the direction of the statute, requiring an annual report of its proceedings, with such recommendations as it shall deem desirable, the State Racing Commission makes the following report for the year 1908:

I.

The racing associations which applied for and received licenses from the Commission, to conduct running race and steeplechase meetings, and the number of days' racing conducted by each during the year, were as follows:

	Days
Coney Island Jockey Club.....	26
Brooklyn Jockey Club.....	28
Westchester Racing Association.....	24
Brighton Beach Racing Association.....	20
Saratoga Racing Association.....	15
Queens County Jockey Club.....	18
Metropolitan Jockey Club.....	17
Empire City Racing Association.....	16
United Hunts Racing Association (Steeplechase).....	1
Total.....	165

The Buffalo Racing Association also applied for and received a license, but subsequently determined not to hold its meeting. None of the other racing associations, except the Brooklyn Jockey Club, held race meetings on the full number of days which were assigned to them by the Jockey Club; and the total number of days' racing conducted during the year under the jurisdiction of the Commission was 71 less than in the year 1907.

II.

The attendance at the races, the purses and prizes distributed to horse owners and the amount of taxes paid to the State Comptroller for the benefit of the agricultural societies, fell far below 1907, and far below any other recent year. We report the facts to be as follows:

The gross receipts of all the racing associations holding meetings under our licenses in the year 1907 were $4,928,583.20, and in the year 1908 were $1,549,336.90.

The moneys distributed among the owners of the competing horses were, in 1907, $2,645,000, and in 1908 were $1,580,000. These figures are notable in that they show first, that although the gross receipts in 1908 fell off to the extent of $3,379,246.30, the moneys paid out for purses and prizes only decreased by the sum of $1,065,000; and second, that the moneys distributed for purses and premiums alone exceeded the total gross receipts of the racing associations.

The amount of the 5 per cent. tax on the gross receipts of the racing associations for 1908 was $77,466.84, being less than for any year since 1897. The following statement shows how the amount was made up, and a detailed comparison thereof with the tax paid for 1907:

RACING TAX OF 1908 COMPARED WITH THAT OF 1907.

The auction sales of thoroughbred yearlings in New York during the year were, in point of number, about 50 per cent., and in point of value, about 25 per cent., of the sales of 1907.

Since the enactment of the law of 1908, hereinafter referred to, upwards of 500 thoroughbred horses have been exported from here to England, France, Germany, Canada, Mexico, Ireland and the Argentine Republic.

III.

The Breeding Bureau, heretofore established by the Jockey Club, has been continued during the year, and with excellent results.

The number of thoroughbred stallions belonging to the Breeding Bureau, at public service at the end of the year 1908, was 47, distributed through 37 counties. The foals for 1908 which have been reported to the Bureau, number 481.

The individual excellence of many of the horses so distributed throughout the State, and standing at nominal prices, is shown by the fact that at the National Horse Show held in November, 1908, at New York city, four of the Breeding Bureau stallions, viz.,

Shot Gun, Watercolor, Advance Guard and Rensselaer, took the first, second, third and fourth prizes, respectively, in the class for thoroughbred stallions, in which class there were 11 entries. A large number of foals of 1908 took prizes at the annual fairs of the agricultural societies throughout the State, and many excellent reports in respect of them were received by the Jockey Club.

In connection with the work of the Breeding Bureau money prizes aggregating $5,100 were offered, of which $1,800 was contributed by the Jockey Club itself, and the balance by the Coney Island, Brooklyn and Westchester Racing Associations. These prizes were offered for mares and colts of various classes, and were paid out and distributed through 35 different agricultural societies.

A list of the thoroughbred stallions now in service, belonging to the Jockey Club, is as follows:

IV.

The Racing Law of 1895 was amended at the session of the Legislature of 1908, by the repeal of section 17 thereof. This amendment removed the provision, theretofore existing, that the penalty for registering and recording bets on races taking place upon a race track operating under the license of the Commission, where no memorandum or token was exchanged, should be a forfeiture of the winnings, to be collected by civil process, and such acts should not be criminal. The sole effect, therefore, of the legislation of 1908, was to put the licensed race tracks in the same situation as every other place in the State, in respect of recording and registering bets. Section 351 of the Penal Code was amended at the same time; but no substantial change was made in it, except as to the penalty for its violation — which penalty was reduced from the grade of a felony to a misdemeanor. The amendment to the Penal Code did not purport to make any substantive change, and did not make any act criminal which was not criminal before, except in respect of the race tracks.

The ultimate effect of this legislation cannot be accurately foretold, but the facts and figures hereinbefore set out indicate the effect which has been already felt by the racing associations and the horse owners.

The State Racing Commission cannot refrain from expressing its sincere regret at the enactment of the Law of 1908; and we fear that, if it remains in force, it will seriously cripple, if not absolutely destroy, thoroughbred racing of high class in this State.

Respectfully submitted,

FORTY-SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE NEW YORK CATHOLIC PROTECTORY

NEW YORK, December, 31st, 1908.

and to the Honorable Board of Aldermen of the City of New York.

The Charter of our Institution calls for a detailed report to your Honorable Bodies each year, of the number and circumstances of children received and discharged, of their industrial occupations and the financial condition of the Institution. The reports of the Rev. Brother Rector and Sister Superior, the Director of St. Philip's Home, the Placing Out Bureau and the Lincoln Agricultural School, with those of the physicians transmitted herewith, will inform you of the conditions, and reveal at the same time the spirit which animates all those charged with the work entrusted to the Protectory.

We are confident that the Justices of the Children's Court do not look upon the children sent to us as criminals committed for punishment, but rather as neglected and wayward boys who need training and education to prepare them for a better life than that to which they have been accustomed. Nor do they realize that the conviction of a specified crime places upon them a stigma which is likely to affect their future conduct and which may prevent them from entering an honorable career. This conviction of even petty offenses conveys to good people not acquainted with conditions, the idea that the boys of the Protectory are incorrigible and that the Institution covers only a special class. This impression, which works injury to the children, can only be removed by the adoption of different methods by the court or a revision of the laws governing its practice. We believe that the time is ripe for the preparation of an adequate juvenile court law which should repeal the legislation heretofore enacted and provide for the commitment of children under sixteen years of age, either as dependent and neglected or wayward.

The Institution has been represented by members of the Board and Rev. Christian Brothers at the Conference for the Education of Backward, Truant and Delinquent Children, and the National Conference of Charities and Correction held at Richmond, Va., in May last, and also at the State Conference of Charities and Correction at Elmira in November. At these Conferences, the various methods of caring for children have been constantly discussed, and the exchange of views has exerted a salutary influence on the conduct of institutions, tending to improvement in educational methods, in placing out work and in the after-care of those discharged. A paper read by Rev. Brother Barnabas, at Richmond, on the "Care of Homeless Boys" as exemplified in the management of St. Philip's Home, made a deep impression, and revealed to the Conference the progress made by the Protectory in the care of boys through this Home and the Placing Out Bureau.

From time to time we hear lamentations over the fact that New York sustains and educates so many of its dependent children by the agency of private institutions. This system, the causes for its establishment and justification for its existence and continuance, has been fully discussed on many occasions. We do not wish to repeat the arguments here, and will only refer to a recent objection that "the public exercises no effective control over private institutions because an elected officer is not charged with their direction." It should be remembered that the State Board of Charities has, through its rules, absolute control over the admission and retention of children in institutions as public charges, and the Board of Estimate and Apportionment has control over the payment of moneys for their support. Powers of inspection are given by law and exercised frequently by the State Board of Charities, the Comptroller of the City and the Commissioner of Charities. The Board of Estimate is composed entirely of elected officers. Can it be conceived that any one officer would exercise authority in such matters as effective and wise as the officials named?

In our last report we referred to the fact that in nine years the Protectory has received and discharged over sixteen thousand children. Since its organization in 1863, it has favored the placing of children without proper family ties in free homes, and not a year has elapsed without the placement of a large number. In recent years, our system has been perfected and the visitation of the children has been more frequent. In our opinion, the residence of such children in the institution should be only for the time required to prepare them for placement, and in the case of children committed because of misfortune or disability of parents, they should be returned to their homes as soon as the disability is removed. If the improvement in the home should be too long delayed, then would arise the question of placing out.

The Committee charged with the construction of the Agricultural School at Somers Centre has given attention during the year to methods of housing boys. Although no general plan has been prepared for the transfer of a large number of boys, such has been the anxiety to develop the work, that authority was given for the construction of two buildings which would provide, with the houses already on the premises, for the care of two hundred boys. These houses are now in course of construction and will be ready for occupancy in July next.

Our relations with sister societies and with the Justices of the Children's Court have been most agreeable. Their cooperation has been constant and helpful.

The Rev. Brother Henry and Sister Antoninus have earnestly cooperated in all measures for the promotion of the welfare of the children in our charge. May God give them abundant reward and bless the future work of the Protectory!

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE B. ROBINSON,

President.

Report of the Director of the Male Department

---

NEW YORK, October 1st, 1908.

To the President and Members of the Board of Managers of the New York Catholic Protectory.

GENTLEMEN :

It is with great pleasure that I report that during the past year we have striven to maintain a high standard of efficiency in the work of the Institution.

We fully realize the weighty responsibility that rests upon us for the development and training of the boys and the confidence that is placed in the Protectory that it will do its work in the most satisfactory manner.

Our work is difficult and trying. We have to deal for the most part with those who are not always willing to see the evil of their ways and correspond with the efforts made for their improvement.

The thinking people of our nation deplore the lack of thoughtfulness and earnestness as shown in the lives of the many. These characteristics are displayed in a very marked degree in our young people. The life of the great City, with its incessant noise and restlessness, has a very deleterious effect on the young. They seem never to be happy unless they are surrounded by noise or immersed in frivolity. They acquire a very unquiet spirit which unfits them for study and continuous occupations, and thus they are lead more easily into mischief and wrongdoing that oblige public authority to send them away from home and present environments.

The widespread interest in youth is shown by legislative enactments to safeguard the child in every way, and by the varied studies that have been and are being made on every phase of child life. His physical, mental and moral make-up are subjects that have attracted the attention of the learned, the student of philanthropy and all those who are zealous for the child's well-being.

The boy has been with us a long time, but from the many new theories that have been proposed concerning him it would seem as if we had but just discovered him.

All efforts to bring out the best in the child should receive the heartiest encouragement and should be cordially welcomed, but it is to be feared that many people, seeing the effects of the marvelous discoveries in the various departments of scientific research, conclude that new and undeveloped powers may yet be discovered, that they may greatly benefit the young and lead more effectually to his training and reformation. The intelligent application of what is best in modern pedagogy to the training of the child with the best that practical experience has demonstrated as of the highest value, will produce the finest results, and preclude failure that fanciful theories, elaborated by unpractical speculators, usually bring about.

Modern psychology has revealed little of practical value, though its exponents promised great developments when first it appeared on the horizon of the educational world.

We are all familiar with the expression, "A sound mind in a sound body," and we feel and understand how great a truth often lies within it; but the idea that has seized so many of the people, that children are made wayward because of mild physical defects, is not borne out by our experience here. Nearly every child coming to the Institution is in better physical condition after he has been here a while than when he entered. This has been the history of the Institution for years. It is our duty to do all we can to benefit the boy, and we are thankful to your Honorable Body for placing at the disposal of the Institution a group of medical experts who are giving close and admirable attention to the physical needs of the children—Dr. J. W. Droogan as attending physician ; Dr. C. C. Bradley as ophthalmologist ; Dr. M. Tierney as otologist and laryngologist, and Dr. Xiques as dentist, each attending to the boys not only on their entrance to the Institution but all through their stay here.

It matters not what a boy has done before his entrance here, he should feel that those charged with his training are deeply interested in his welfare and are only seeking his real benefit. If there be good in him and he is willing to do better and correct his faults he should find a manly encouragement.

The boys realize that the Brothers are interested in their welfare, and place confidence in them. Every effort is made to build up good character. Sound moral and religious instruction is imparted and every possible influence is brought to bear upon the boys for their present and future well-being.

The scholastic training of the boys has been carefully supervised and tested by frequent examinations by Rev. Bro. E. Victor, Auxiliary Visitor, and a corps of examiners, who visit the class-room independently of the monthly examinations made by the principals of the schools. Dr. Lorenzo Ullo, by his series of lectures on education, stimulated the boys to renewed efforts by his admirable exposition of the meaning and worth of education.

The work of the class-rooms has been finely supplemented by the courses of lectures provided by the Board of Education, which for several years has made the Protectory one of the lecture centers.

Several series of lectures on religious, moral, historical and geographical subjects were provided by the Institution, and others were given by Rev. Bro. Potamian, on astronomy and submarine cables ; Rev. Bro. Baldwin and Rev. Bro. Virgil lectured on American History and kindred topics.

The church societies of St. Raymond and Our Lady of Good Counsel gave several dramatic performances of great artistic value.

All the religious and national holidays were celebrated in a becoming manner. Many of our young wards need to be thoroughly imbued with our national customs and institutions. Owing to the foreign atmosphere in which many of them have been brought up, the cultivation of the national spirit is of prime importance.

It has been my privilege to spend a few months abroad, and I have made good use of the opportunities to visit several of the institutions engaged in work similar to our own. Nowhere have I found so cheerful and contented expressions as among our own boys. It does not, therefore, surprise me that this characteristic of the Protectory has so often been commented upon by people from various parts of the world who have visited the Protectory.

Cardinal Logue, while in this country, visited the Institution, a reception was accorded him, and an address of welcome was delivered by one of our boys. Before leaving the country he expressed his thanks, and when he reached Ireland his first public utterance contained a glowing encomium on the Institution. This was all the more remarkable, as it was the only institution that he mentioned on that occasion, though he had visited many while in the country.

The various forms of manual and vocational training have gone on during the year with great profit to the boys, and it is very pleasing to know that the principles which have been guiding motives for the working of the Institution along the lines of industrial training have recently received the approval of the highest educational authorities of the country.

Music has ever had an important place in the training of our children. The boys of our Band had an opportunity of taking part in almost every form of public celebration. It appeared not only in New York, but in various other places. It was at the final session of the Legislature, by request. Besides being a source of pleasure to the boys, it is also a means later on in life of an increase in their income.

The Orchestra is doing good work. The Violin Class numbers more than a hundred boys. The Choirs of both Senior and Junior Departments have given satisfaction by the sweetness and skilfulness of their singing, and the execution of difficult pieces of music shows careful training.

The new bakery has given general satisfaction. The new kitchen in the Junior Department is in operation. All needed improvements have been made about the house, and the road made through the property has proved of great usefulness since the street in front of the Main Building has gone through the process of widening.

The House of Reception and Eye Department, consisting of portable buildings put up some years ago, cannot last much longer, and one of the needs of the future is to provide buildings to replace them.

We cannot fail to thank our devoted Chaplains, Rev. Father John Hopkins and Rev. Father Walter Gilmore, who are doing so much for the moral and spiritual welfare of the boys. Rev. Father Coogan, who had been one of our Chaplains for three years and who had endeared himself to all, was appointed to parish work, much to the regret of all connected with the Protectory.

Our annual retreat was a great success. The boys were most attentive and listened carefully to the instructions given them by the Rev. Father Cahill and Rev. Father John Dominick, members of the Order of St. Dominic. The moral instruction given to the children, not only during the time of retreat but all through the year, by the Rev. Chaplains on Sundays, and by the Brothers in the class-rooms, makes them understand the infinite act of God in creating them, the value of their souls, and how Almighty God preserves them with such great care and with anxious love.

To Mr. Michael J. Ryan, our band-master ; Mr. Chas. Van Ghele, our violin instructor ; and Mr. Joseph Marcks, our organist and choir-master, we offer our congratulations on the progress made by the boys during the past year.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to Mr. George B. Robinson, President of the Institution, for the interest he takes in our boys and for his encouraging words. To Rev. Brother Joseph, Provincial, our thanks are due for his kindly words and for the sympathy he has always shown for the poor, vagrant and delinquent child ; and to your Honorable Body we are ever grateful for the wise liberality you have always displayed towards the needs of the Institution.

While in the Protectory, the children are changed greatly for the better. All are impressed by seeing the altered condition of our boys when they leave the Institution. They are sad-looking objects when they are sent here from the courts. They come to us unclean, downcast, and with an air of bad habits imprinted on their countenances. When discharged from the Institution their skin is clear, their eyes are bright and many of them are attractive in their manners and polite, not only to their superiors but to their companions as well.

And this change is brought about by constantly showing the child wherein he has failed and what he should do to correct his evil ways. He is taught to think and reflect on the horror of sin ; he is told how to examine his conscience, to try to ascertain how matters are between Almighty God and himself, and then to resolve to amend what is wrong ; and as prayer is all-powerful in driving away all despondent thoughts and filling us with hope for our future home, we teach the children how to pray. Is there any wonder, then, with these means of grace offered the child, that his very appearance is changed for the better ?

Respectfully submitted,

BROTHER HENRY, Rector.

Report of the Directress of the Female Department

---

NEW YORK, October 1st, 1908.

To the President and Board of Managers of the New York
Catholic Protectory.

GENTLEMEN :

Though, strictly speaking, there is little variety in the annual history of an institution, still no two years seem exactly alike. In this respect, the Protectory, during the year 1908, is not an exception. Many interesting events have occurred to enliven the months and make life brighter and happier for the dear children intrusted to our care. In particular, the visits of the Visiting Committee have proved a decided encouragement to the teaching staff as well as a great incentive to increased efforts on the part of the pupils.

Other visitors who have pleasantly broken the monotony of the school year were Inspectors of the State Board of Charities, members of the Summer and Winter Schools in Philanthropy, of the Monday Club of Brooklyn, and the Teachers' College, New York City.

A very pleasant interlude was given by Mr. Robert J. Hoguet, by the presentation to the school, on Washington's Birthday, of a beautiful silk United States flag. On March 4th this trophy was awarded, by the donor, to the most deserving class, appropriate ceremonies accompanying the act.

The Right Rev. Thomas F. Cusack, Auxiliary Bishop of New York, came on May 15th to administer the Sacrament of Confirmation to a band of children. The ceremonies took place in the Chapel of the Male Department, but his kind and wise words of advice made a deep impression on all.

His Eminence, Cardinal Logue, also paused for a brief space to give his blessing to our numerous family. Though the visit was but in passing, it left sunshine and happy memories at the Protectory.

The course of lectures provided by the Board of Education has been both profitable and entertaining. The stereopticon and musical evenings and visits to places of interest in the vicinity have also served to diversify the time.

But to come back to everyday life. Divine Providence has blessed us with good health ; and, at the risk of repetition, we must say that this state of things is due, under God, to much exercise in the open air, superior bathing facilities, excellent food, and to the generous material provision in every way of our kind Managers.

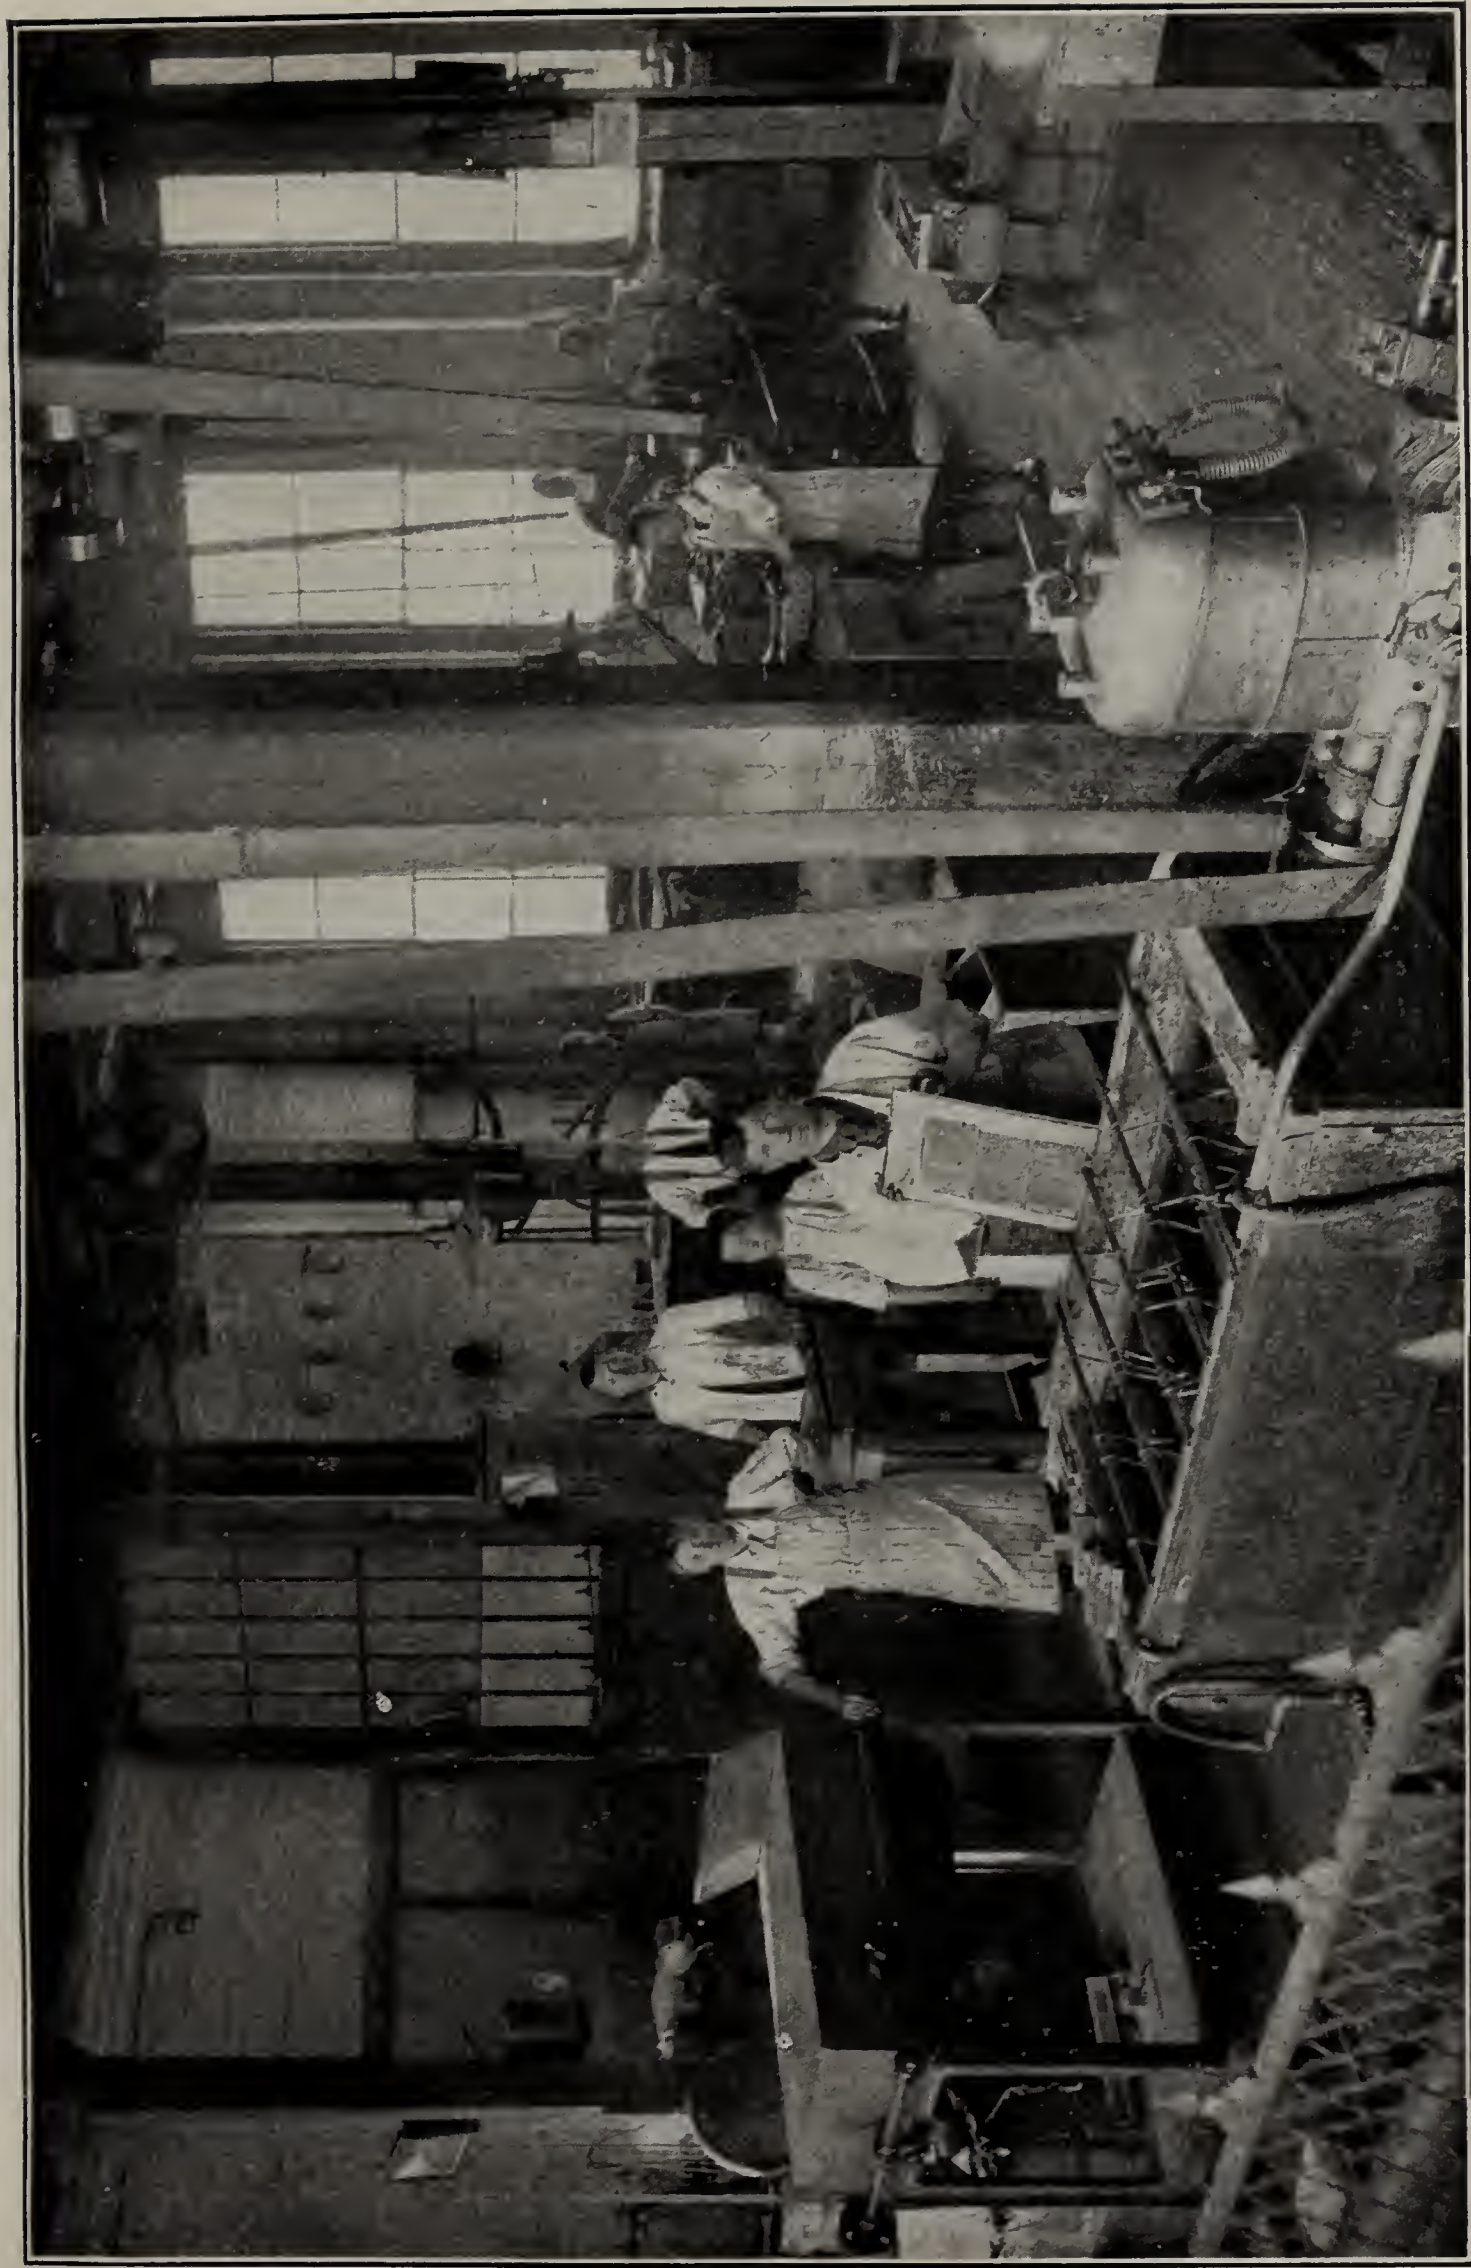

The farm crop also has been abundant, and our household has thus been well supplied with fresh vegetables.

In the educational department, we have made considerable progress. Classes are now being prepared for the Regents examinations ; and though the studies are the same as before, the prospect of these tests creates a flutter of excitement which is helpful to more strenuous effort.

An experienced principal has been appointed, whose sole duty it is to supervise the grades, to visit the classes daily, to study the special needs and capacities of the pupils, and to encourage and aid the teachers in every possible way.

Doctor James Lee, District Superintendent of Schools, visited our classes on May 7th. We quote from his remarks the following :

“We this day visited all the classes and inspected and examined the instruction and discipline. In every class commendable work was found. The results showed excellent preparation and presentation, to be compared favorably with well-graded schools.”

The curriculum in music is that prepared for the New York Catholic schools. Sight reading in singing is taught by a competent professor, beginning with Grade 1 A and continuing throughout the course, according to the ability of the pupils. In the higher classes the study of Church music and part singing is attempted.

The monthly reunions, at which the progress of the pupils in music as well as in all other branches is made public, and at which suitable testimonials are awarded to the deserving, have proved most helpful.

Industrial training is not neglected. The girls are still taught sewing, cooking and other branches of domestic economy. In these they often acquire sufficient skill to enable them to assume any of the ordinary duties of the household. This training also fits them to become afterwards self-supporting as well as to take intelligent charge of their own homes when in after life Providence so blesses them.

Much care and thought is given to the subject of recreation. Opportunities of outdoor exercise abound, and various helps, such as swings and games in summer, sleds and skates in winter, are provided.

When the weather precludes open air play the recreation hours are beguiled with singing, dancing and indoor games. At such times especially occasions offer for instruction in good manners and in the little courtesies of social life, a difficult branch of education and one that requires much practice.

The moral training of our wards is always in progress, from the early hour of morning prayer, in which they invoke the blessing of their Creator on the day, until the evening hymn before retiring, by which they beg His protection for the night. Lessons of piety and charity, of honesty and truth, of obedience and industry, of self-reliance and self-respect, are constantly inculcated as occasions arise. Added to these are the regular daily instructions on all points connected with their moral and spiritual life, which cannot fail to bear fruit not alone in the present, but even more, perhaps, in later years.

Annually, the exercises of a spiritual retreat are given by an experienced clergyman. These few days are really a spiritual and moral education in themselves. No words could express their value to each individual character.

We cannot omit a special mention of our little boys, forming a most interesting and important part of our family. They are remarkably healthy and enjoy every moment of life, there being no need to plan amusements for them. They are intelligent also, and do themselves credit in the class-room.

The usual repairs and improvements in plumbing, painting, etc., so necessary and unavoidable in extensive buildings, have been steadily carried on.

Six arc lamps have been located on the grounds, thus contributing to greater safety at night.

In concluding our Report, we desire to extend our sincere thanks to our Chaplains, Rev. J. J. Hopkins and Rev. W. Gilmore, for their untiring zeal in behalf of the spiritual welfare of the children; to Dr. R. A. Joyce, Dr. C. C. Bradley, Dr. Miles J. Tierney, and Dr. W. H. Stack, for their kind and skillful treatment of the inmates.

To our honored President, Mr. G. B. Robinson, and the Gentlemen of the Board, whose devotion to the cause of dependent children neither years nor anxieties seem to lessen, we offer the expression of sincere gratitude and appreciation. Any suggestion on our part tending to the welfare of our household ever meets with a prompt and generous response.

May their noble example live long after them, and draw down upon them and their successors the blessing of the Father of the Poor.

Respectfully,

SISTER M. ANTONINUS.

Including the boys in the Institution on regular commitments and those received on short sentences, the Male Department of the Protectory during the past year had in its charge some three thousand wards. This population was for the greater part drawn from the poorer districts of New York and Brooklyn. The homes of the boys in the majority of instances had been located in the small, unhygienic rooms of unsanitary tenements. Former tenants of these quarters, numerous and rapidly succeeding one another, had left implanted the seeds of various diseases, more especially those of tuberculosis. In this manner the disease was conveyed to the later occupants. Such boys, often already encumbered by inheritance with a mental or physical stigma, or both—a contributing factor in their impaired condition being deficient food and their own irregular and vicious habits—furnish in large measure the youthful institutional type of the larger cities.

In their case, pulmonary tuberculosis is many times quiescent, but upon examination at the time of admission, evidence of its occurrence at some stage of their existence is much more frequently present than absent. As a consequence of these circumstances, the boys upon reception are often found to be, in varying degrees, of unsound constitution.

From the above list it will be observed that severe contagions and infections were a common happening. This fact was to be expected, as the origin of the boys and their number supply a fruitful soil for such diseases. Had these diseases developed among the boys during their lowered vitality at the time of their arrival at the Protectory, however, a much higher death-rate would have been certain to follow. But three deaths resulted. One, accidental in character, was caused by a fractured skull received in the course of a forbidden form of play. The other two were in reality chronic forms of brain inflammation which probably had their inception in a preceding generation.

Laundry

That the mortality was no greater, that there were no infections, acute in nature, terminating fatally, may be attributed to the greatly improved health of the boys, which equipped them with the increased resistance necessary to successfully combat disease. Regular living, a cheerful environment, wholesome and abundant food, together with excellent ventilation of school and work rooms and dormitories, are the means that made possible of accomplishment the present low mortality.

On an exceptional occasion, where tuberculosis did not respond to the measures within reach, and where the presence of the affected boy would have been detrimental to the other inmates, his transfer to a special hospital was effected, as required by the Health Law. Such removals were rare, however. In the case of the various acute and chronic pulmonary diseases, sanatorium treatment, necessarily somewhat limited in character, was employed. The rapid and lasting improvement that followed out-of-door living and sleeping, with the addition of generous feeding, furnishes positive proof that marked benefit may be derived from this method near at hand, without the necessity of, in impractical instances, suggesting the removal of tuberculous patients to distant and expensive health resorts.

The gratifying result of the year's work in this department is largely due to the intelligent and earnest aid rendered by the Brother Infirmarian and his assistants, whose devotion merits the highest commendation. Nor would complete credit be accorded without a reference to the efficient and faithful services of the Resident Nurse.

We have had very few cases of sickness during the past year, taking into consideration the large number of children under our care. Cases of diphtheria, whooping cough, and scarlatina made their appearance and were prevented from spreading to other inmates by prompt measures of isolation and disinfection.

The cases of tuberculosis of lungs were removed to hospital as soon as a diagnosis was made.

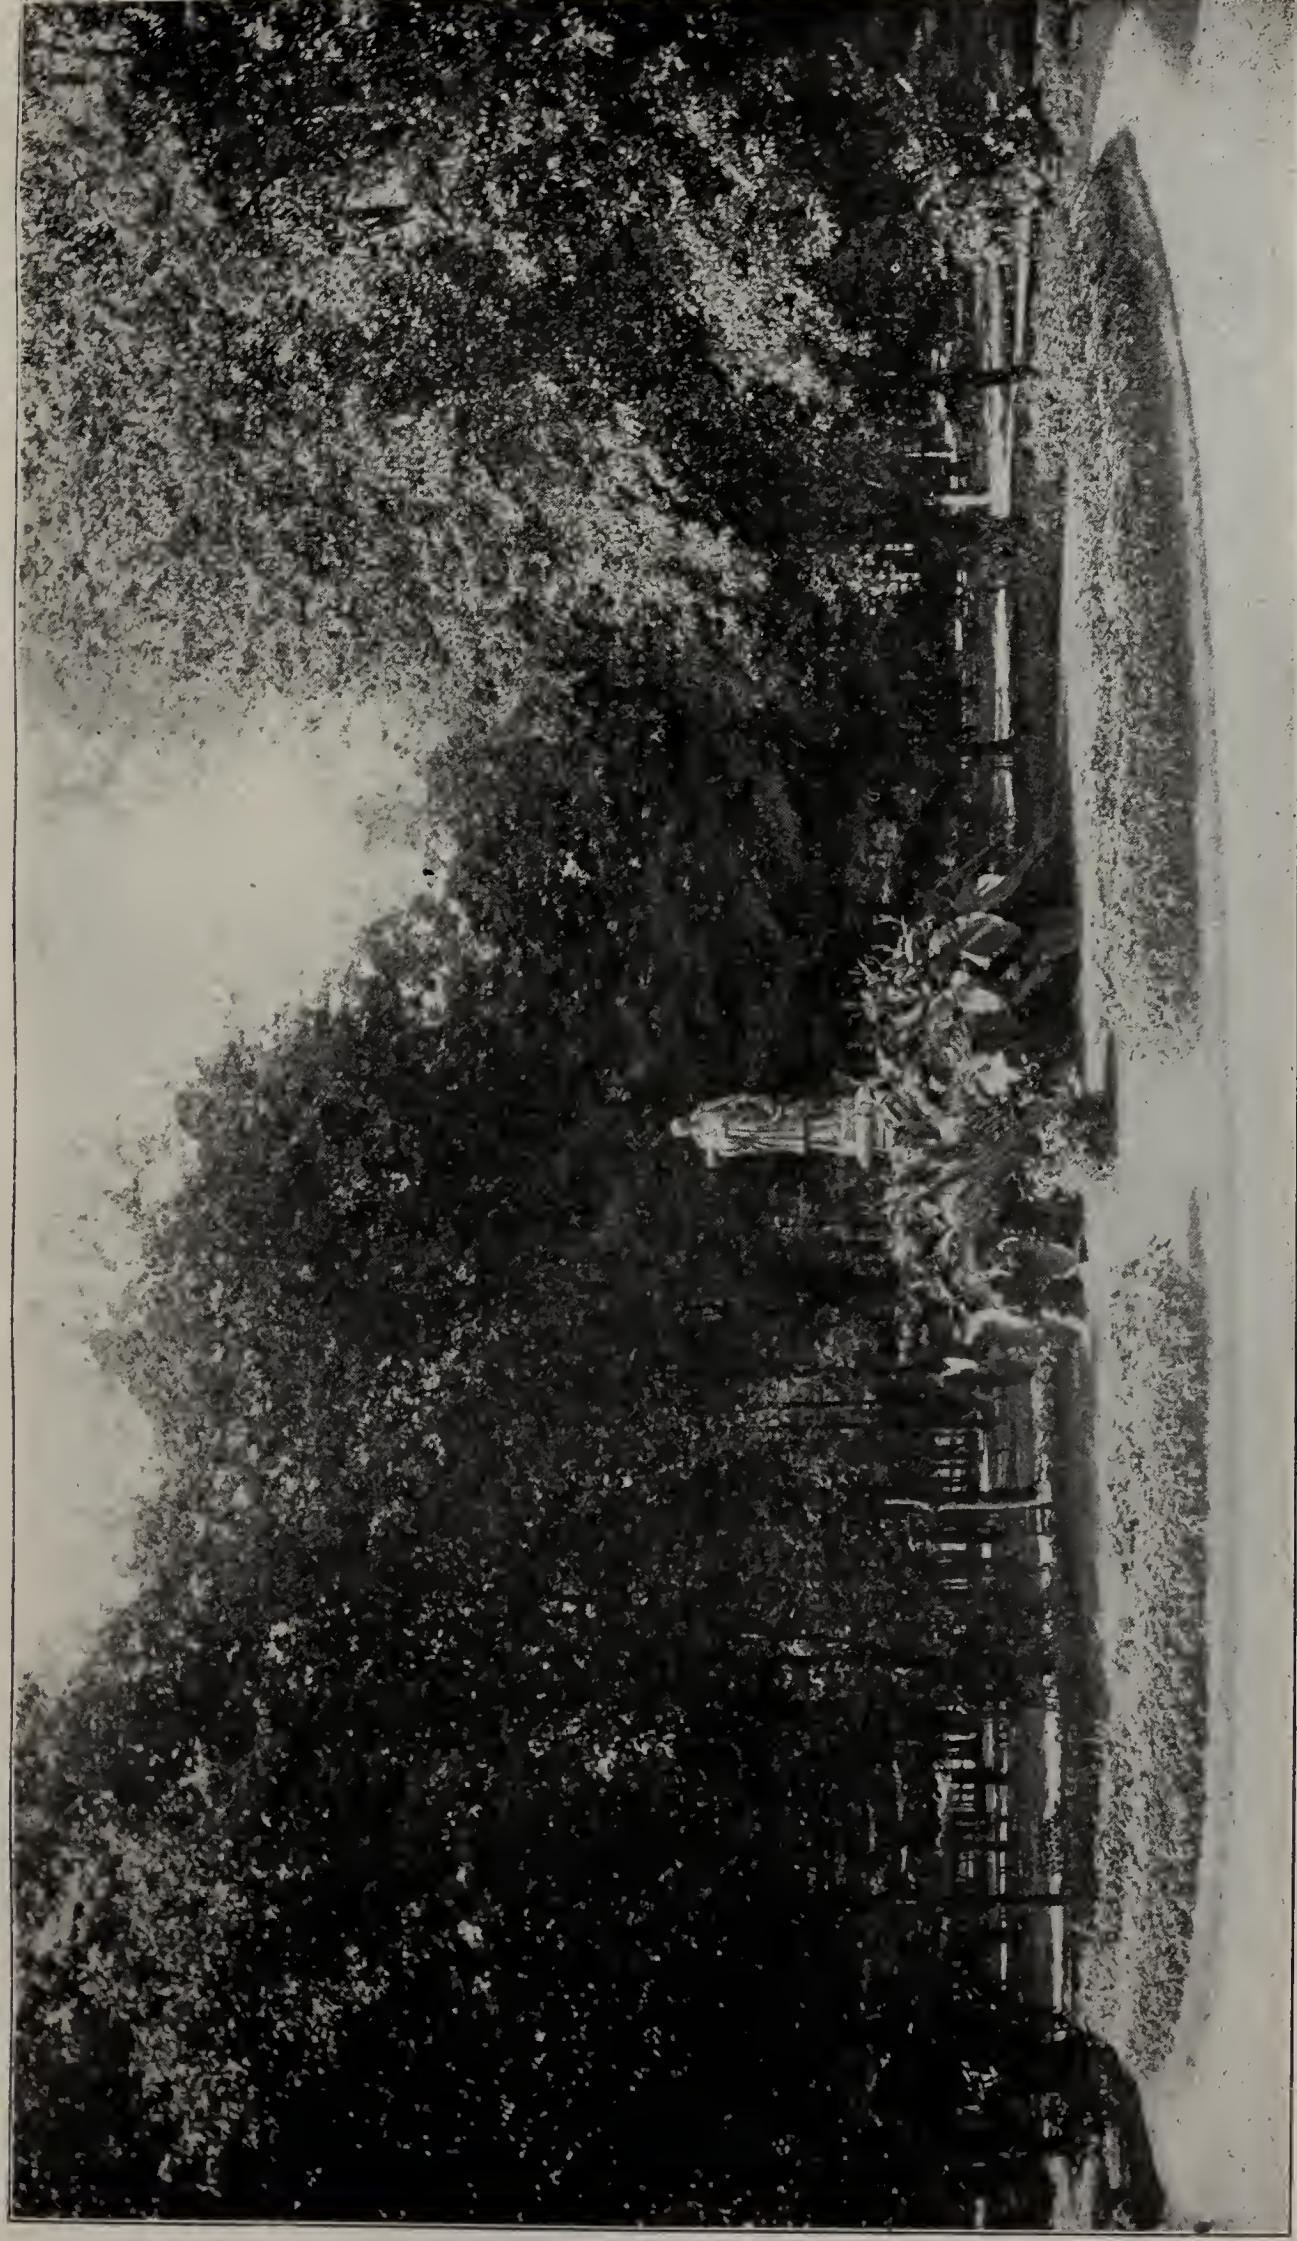

Every window and door in our Infirmary has been screened. We have been furnished with electric fans, and it is not too much to say that our Infirmary is a model one, and nothing is spared to give our little ones all the care that can be bestowed upon them by our Sisters and the Board of Managers.

During the year 1908 the total number of diseases above tabulated reached the sum of 379 out of 1,688 children committed, almost 23 per cent., as against the previous year of 482 diseases in children of 2,362, a percentage of 20 and a fraction. Therefore it will be seen, though there were 1,095 children more committed in the year 1907, the general health was also of a higher standard than the year 1908, which the percentages and figures above indicate and prove. The advent of a few contagious diseases necessitated the immediate transferring of the patients to the hospital, which was promptly attended to by the Board of Health. Other ailments which could not be properly taken care of or required too much attention at the Protectory also were sent to the hospital for treatment.

Regarding St. Philip's Home, a few minor injuries were seen, outside of which the general health of the children has been better than ever, evidently due to their outdoor exercise together with the good care and attention received through Brother Barnabas at their Summer Home.

Report of the Attending Ophthalmologist

NEW YORK, October 1st, 1908.

To the President and Board of Managers of the New York Catholic Protectory.

GENTLEMEN :

The following is the report of the Ophthalmological cases treated in the Male and Female Departments of the New York Catholic Protectory, at Westchester, from October 1st, 1907, to September 30th, 1908 :

During the year, 129 of the newly-admitted children showed Trachoma, and 162 some other form of conjunctival disease. Of the Trachoma cases treated during the year (167), there have been 131 discharged cured.

During the year 13 of the newly-admitted children showed Trachoma and 14 some other form of conjunctival disease.

In the Male Department, 8.8 per cent. showed Trachoma on admission, and 12 per cent. some other form of conjunctival disease, making a total of 20 per cent.

In the Female Department, 4.6 per cent. showed Trachoma on admission, and 5.3 per cent. some other form of conjunctival disease, making a total of 9.9 per cent.

In 1907, the percentage was, in the girls admitted.....	7.6

The increase in the percentages during the past year can only be explained by the larger number of children received.

The short terms of many of the children have made it impossible to effect a cure in many of them before their discharge.

still practiced, and the frequent inspections of the general household makes the discovery of relapsed cases positive.

On entrance, the vision of each child is tested and the result recorded. Later, the eyes of the children showing visual defects are more carefully tested and glasses prescribed, where they are considered necessary, particularly for those showing myopia, or that were suffering from eye strain, either in school or at work.

Children with defective vision, particularly those that were myopic, were given work which could not possibly entail eye strain or injury. Of the newly-admitted boys, 133 showed defective vision (9 per cent.); of these, 75 showed defective vision in both eyes, 44 in but one eye, and 14 two-thirds vision in each eye. Many of these cases of defective vision were due to old injuries or to disease of the interior of the eyes, making the correction of the error by means of glasses impossible. The cases showing two-thirds vision were not, as a rule, corrected by glasses unless they showed evidences of eye strain. The others were given glasses, although it was often difficult to impress upon the class of boy received at the Protectory the necessity of wearing the glasses. The same careful attention to hygiene and to cleanliness is still given by the Rev. Sisters and by the Rev. Brothers.

We are greatly indebted to the Infirmarians in each Department for their invaluable assistance in the care of the ocular cases, and also to the Directress and to the Director for their hearty cooperation and advice in the plans for the betterment of the condition of the children.

Report of the Attending Dental Surgeon, Male Department

NEW YORK, October 1st, 1908.

To the President and Board of Managers of the New York Catholic Protectory.

GENTLEMEN :

I respectfully beg to submit herewith the report of dental work done during the past year, the last three months of which have been under my care.

Extractions.....	3,002
Fillings, Cement.....	183
Fillings, Gutta Percha.....	24
Fillings, Amalgam.....	45

I note that in the public schools, there lately has been considerable interest aroused as to the condition of the teeth, for the reason that perfect school work cannot be expected from a child with toothache, nor can his mental powers be expected to improve while a child is handicapped by such a serious physical ailment.

The subject of dentistry in institutions is no less important. Institutions are not merely for the detention of their charges, but for building them up physically, and educating and teaching them a trade that will eventually insure them a livelihood ; and it is with pleasure I note the great interest taken by the authorities in charge of the boys in the Protectory with the above aims in view.

Criminologists tell us that mental defects are responsible for crimes. Let us go back. Nearly all mental defects are traceable to abnormal physical conditions, and these in turn to dental imperfections. Negligence in the care of the teeth means poor mastication of food, and decay left in and around the teeth affects the digestive organs and produces abnormal conditions of the entire system.

The boys in the N. Y. Catholic Protectory are examined weekly, and upon their entrance into the Institution their teeth are attended to as follows :

Extractions are immediately done and only when absolutely necessary. Cleanings, treatments and fillings made the following week with the material best suited to conditions.

It is worthy of comment that I find not one in one hundred mouths, upon examination, showing any evidence of having had any dental work done prior to their entrance into the Protectory other than extraction of teeth.

Materials used are of the best quality procurable, and I might add, from personal knowledge, that the dental services are equal in all respects to those rendered to the U. S. Army. Thanks to the cooperation of the Rev. Brother Infirmarian, this work is carried on systematically and intelligently, and the boys, no doubt, in time to come will often look back and thank the Protectory for services rendered, which are different from those being done, perhaps, in other institutions, where extraction of teeth is the only operation the dentist is expected to perform.

This work naturally incurs expense, but it certainly is money well spent, and it is gratifying to know that the boys' teeth are attended to to the best of our ability.

Our aim has also been to arouse in the boys a personal interest in the care of their teeth, and no doubt good results will follow.

In closing, I desire to thank all who assist me in this work, and also to state that as yet we have the first case of serious results, such as infection, etc., to report. Such gratifying results are undoubtedly due to the careful management and strict care as to hygiene which is followed in the Protectorsy.

Respectfully yours,

Report of the Placing Out Bureau

NEW YORK, October 1st, 1908.

To the President and Board of Managers of the New York Catholic Protectory.

GENTLEMEN :

I take pleasure in submitting to your Honorable Board a report on the work of the PLACING OUT BUREAU for the fiscal year ending on September 30th, 1908.

As heretofore, your Placing Out Bureau continues to exercise a special care and zeal to fit the children entrusted to it for placement in proper and suitable homes. The territory to which we devote our efforts, chiefly in the rural districts of the State of New York, continues to be very fruitful in opening new homes for your young wards. Many applications come to us unsolicited, as a result of the good and mannerly behaviour and industrious spirit of the boys whom we have previously placed in various sections, and also to the fact that the families realize and appreciate the ever watchful and solicitous attention on our part both for the welfare of the boy and the interest of the family. This is evidenced by the frequent visits and regular correspondence with both the families and the boys, thereby keeping in close touch with every varying condition which arises, and enabling us to make such changes from time to time as are for the welfare of all concerned. The number of transfers made during the year will show the absolute importance of this feature of our work and indicate the practical and individual "after care" maintained by the Placing Out Bureau in the interest of our boys.

Another condition which makes the matter of transferring from one home to another of such importance and frequency, is due to the class and age of boys your Bureau must necessarily handle. Many of them are difficult to place, having been rejected by other Placing Out agencies and having spent years in other institutions before coming to the Protectory. Had such boys come under the care of the Protectory when younger and been placed out through the medium of your Placing Out Bureau, little difficulty would have been encountered in their training and management; but, coming to us as they do, permanent homes are secured for them only after repeated trials.

A number of boys this year have been brought to New York to live in St. Philip's Home and work in the city. These boys, after a stay of several years in the country, showed more aptitude for commercial life, and we have secured positions for them best fitted to their respective abilities.

The question of attendance at school during the required age is one to which we give special attention, and with a view to keeping in touch with the attendance and progress of the boys, we provide postal-card school reports for the teachers in the respective district schools to fill out and forward to your Bureau from time to time.

Another feature lately inaugurated is a condensed set of regulations, printed for the benefit of the families and the boys. These are supplied at the time of placement, and they enable all concerned to have a thorough understanding of their respective obligations. They are very helpful in meeting and clearing up minor difficulties which might otherwise require a visit from our agent to adjust.

During the year, your Placing Out Bureau was visited and inspected by the representatives of the State Board of Charities. Our system for handling applications, placement of boys, visitation and correspondence and keeping of the records thereof was thoroughly gone into and met with their approval and commendation. A number of the homes in which your young wards were placed were selected by the Inspectors for visitation. Seven of these homes in various sections of the State were seen and the families and the boys interviewed. Their report, after giving in detail their observations on each home, states as follows:—"It is apparent that great care has been exercised by the Officers of the Bureau in order to find homes suited to the individual boy."

I beg to give below in detail the figures making up the year's work.

Report of St. Philip's Home for Industrious Boys, 417 Broome Street

---

NEW YORK, October 1st, 1908.

To the President and Board of Managers of the New York
Catholic Protectory.

GENTLEMEN :

We have the honor to submit to you a report on the work of St. Philip's Home for the fiscal year ending September 30th, 1908, being the sixth year of its existence.

We are pleased to report that the work is progressing in a most satisfactory manner, with results from the boys which are indeed gratifying. One feature, while not new with us, has been more fully developed than at any other period since the opening of the Home : that is, the evening educational work during the fall and winter. Realizing that some of the boys admitted to St. Philip's have not been as well prepared and fitted in common school branches of study as boys from family homes, due to neglect of their early training before entering the Institution or to their short stay in the latter, we have made a special point in our night school to develop each boy according to his individual needs, thus enabling him to profit by opportunities to advance in the employment in which he has found himself. Many of our boys are employed by first-class commercial houses, and advancement is assured them if they are able to figure and write well. In special cases we are providing outside courses of study. At present we have three boys attending classes in architectural drawing at Mechanics Institute, two boys following courses in stenography and book-keeping at a well-known business college, and another boy taking an academic course.

Boys Ready for Placement,

In their recreation, too, the boys have not been overlooked. Their musical evenings of song and orchestra selections by the members have continued throughout the year, and on several occasions they have invited their friends to enjoy an evening with them, arranging their own programme of entertainment, dancing and refreshment for their guests. In this we give the boys every encouragement, that they may develop their social qualities and learn how to meet and mingle with older people without bashfulness and embarrassment.

In athletics our boys have made an enviable record during the past year. The St. Philip's Athletic Association has been more fully and systematically organized and is now a registered club of the Amateur Athletic Union as well as of the Catholic Athletic League. The games which were held by the boys at the 22d Regiment Armory in April last were one of the events of the athletic season and were a most gratifying success.

The practice of athletics, we find, is putting our boys on their mettle, and, in bringing them in competition with young men of their own age, it has a broadening and wholesome effect upon them. These exercises, however, are conducted within reasonable bounds, so as not to distract the boys' minds from their daily work. Our object is to make them manly, active, wide awake and aggressive young men, and athletics and baseball are doing a full share in that direction.

St. Philip's Society, composed largely of our graduate boys, is active and flourishing. Regular meetings are held at the Home and are well attended. After these meetings the graduates mingle with the members of the Home, and by reason of their own progress and success since leaving us, offer encouragement and moral support to the boys who are now making their start in the world through the medium of St. Philip's Home.

The Summer Villa was opened in May and has been a source of continued delight and benefit to your young wards. It has removed them from the confinement and restriction necessarily a condition of city life, and, bringing them into the pure, fresh air, the open surroundings of the country, has given them a chance to expand and develop into robust and healthy boys.

This year, as last, the boys have taken a wonderful interest in their vegetable gardens. Having ample field space, we have been enabled to plan and lay out the gardens so that each boy would have a little section of his own to look after, which he would care for before going to work in the morning and after returning in the evening. In this way, it was not work to him, but rather a recreation—a change from the monotony of every day toil. The boys, too, did not fail to learn valuable lessons from Nature, as owing to the instruction we have given them about each vegetable—its species, class of soil, proper time to plant, process of growth and length of time before ripening for use—they were enabled to take an intelligent interest in their gardening, watching each day's progress and becoming enthusiastic over every good result. In some instances we have had as many as five different crops of the same vegetable; in others, two and three crops. With the new crops we would alternate the boys, so that each would have a knowledge of as many vegetables as possible.

In all this we have in view a plan. We want to show the boys the advantage of the right kind of living—a home with a little patch of green, as an offset to the life of the tenement, with its crowding and unwholesome surroundings. Giving them this view of normal living—instructing them in the knowledge of gardening, encouraging their love for it through an intelligent understanding of Nature's ways, we hope when they reach manhood, marry and become fathers of families, they will aspire to such a home, no matter how humbly they start. Interested in gardening, knowing how to raise vegetables, they will start early in the season and grow a supply sufficient for their needs all through the winter. They will thus save quite a snug sum, which they can apply towards the purchase of their little home. Such are the ideals of living which we are trying to put before our boys.

Cottage No. 1, Somers Centre.

The results from our gardens have been splendid. Every variety of vegetable has been raised and served on our own tables. They have had the unusual guarantee of absolute freshness, and were served plentifully to all. It is needless to add that this has been conducive to the health of our boys, and in fact we may here say that never has the health of the boys been so good. It is encouraging to see them with rosy cheeks, full of life and spirit, with keen appetite, restful sleep—in short, enjoying vigorous health. What better results could be obtained or expected!

In addition to the vegetables we have consumed, we have put away for winter use, 30 gallons of tomato ketchup, 50 jars of freshly stewed tomatoes, three big barrels of sauerkraut, as well as several dozen jars of grape jelly and stewed pears grown on our own grounds. The refuse from the farm went to fatten up our pigs, which will later on supply us with ham to go with the sauerkraut. Our four cows have furnished ample milk for all the boys. All the barns have been filled with a good quality of hay cut from the surrounding fields.

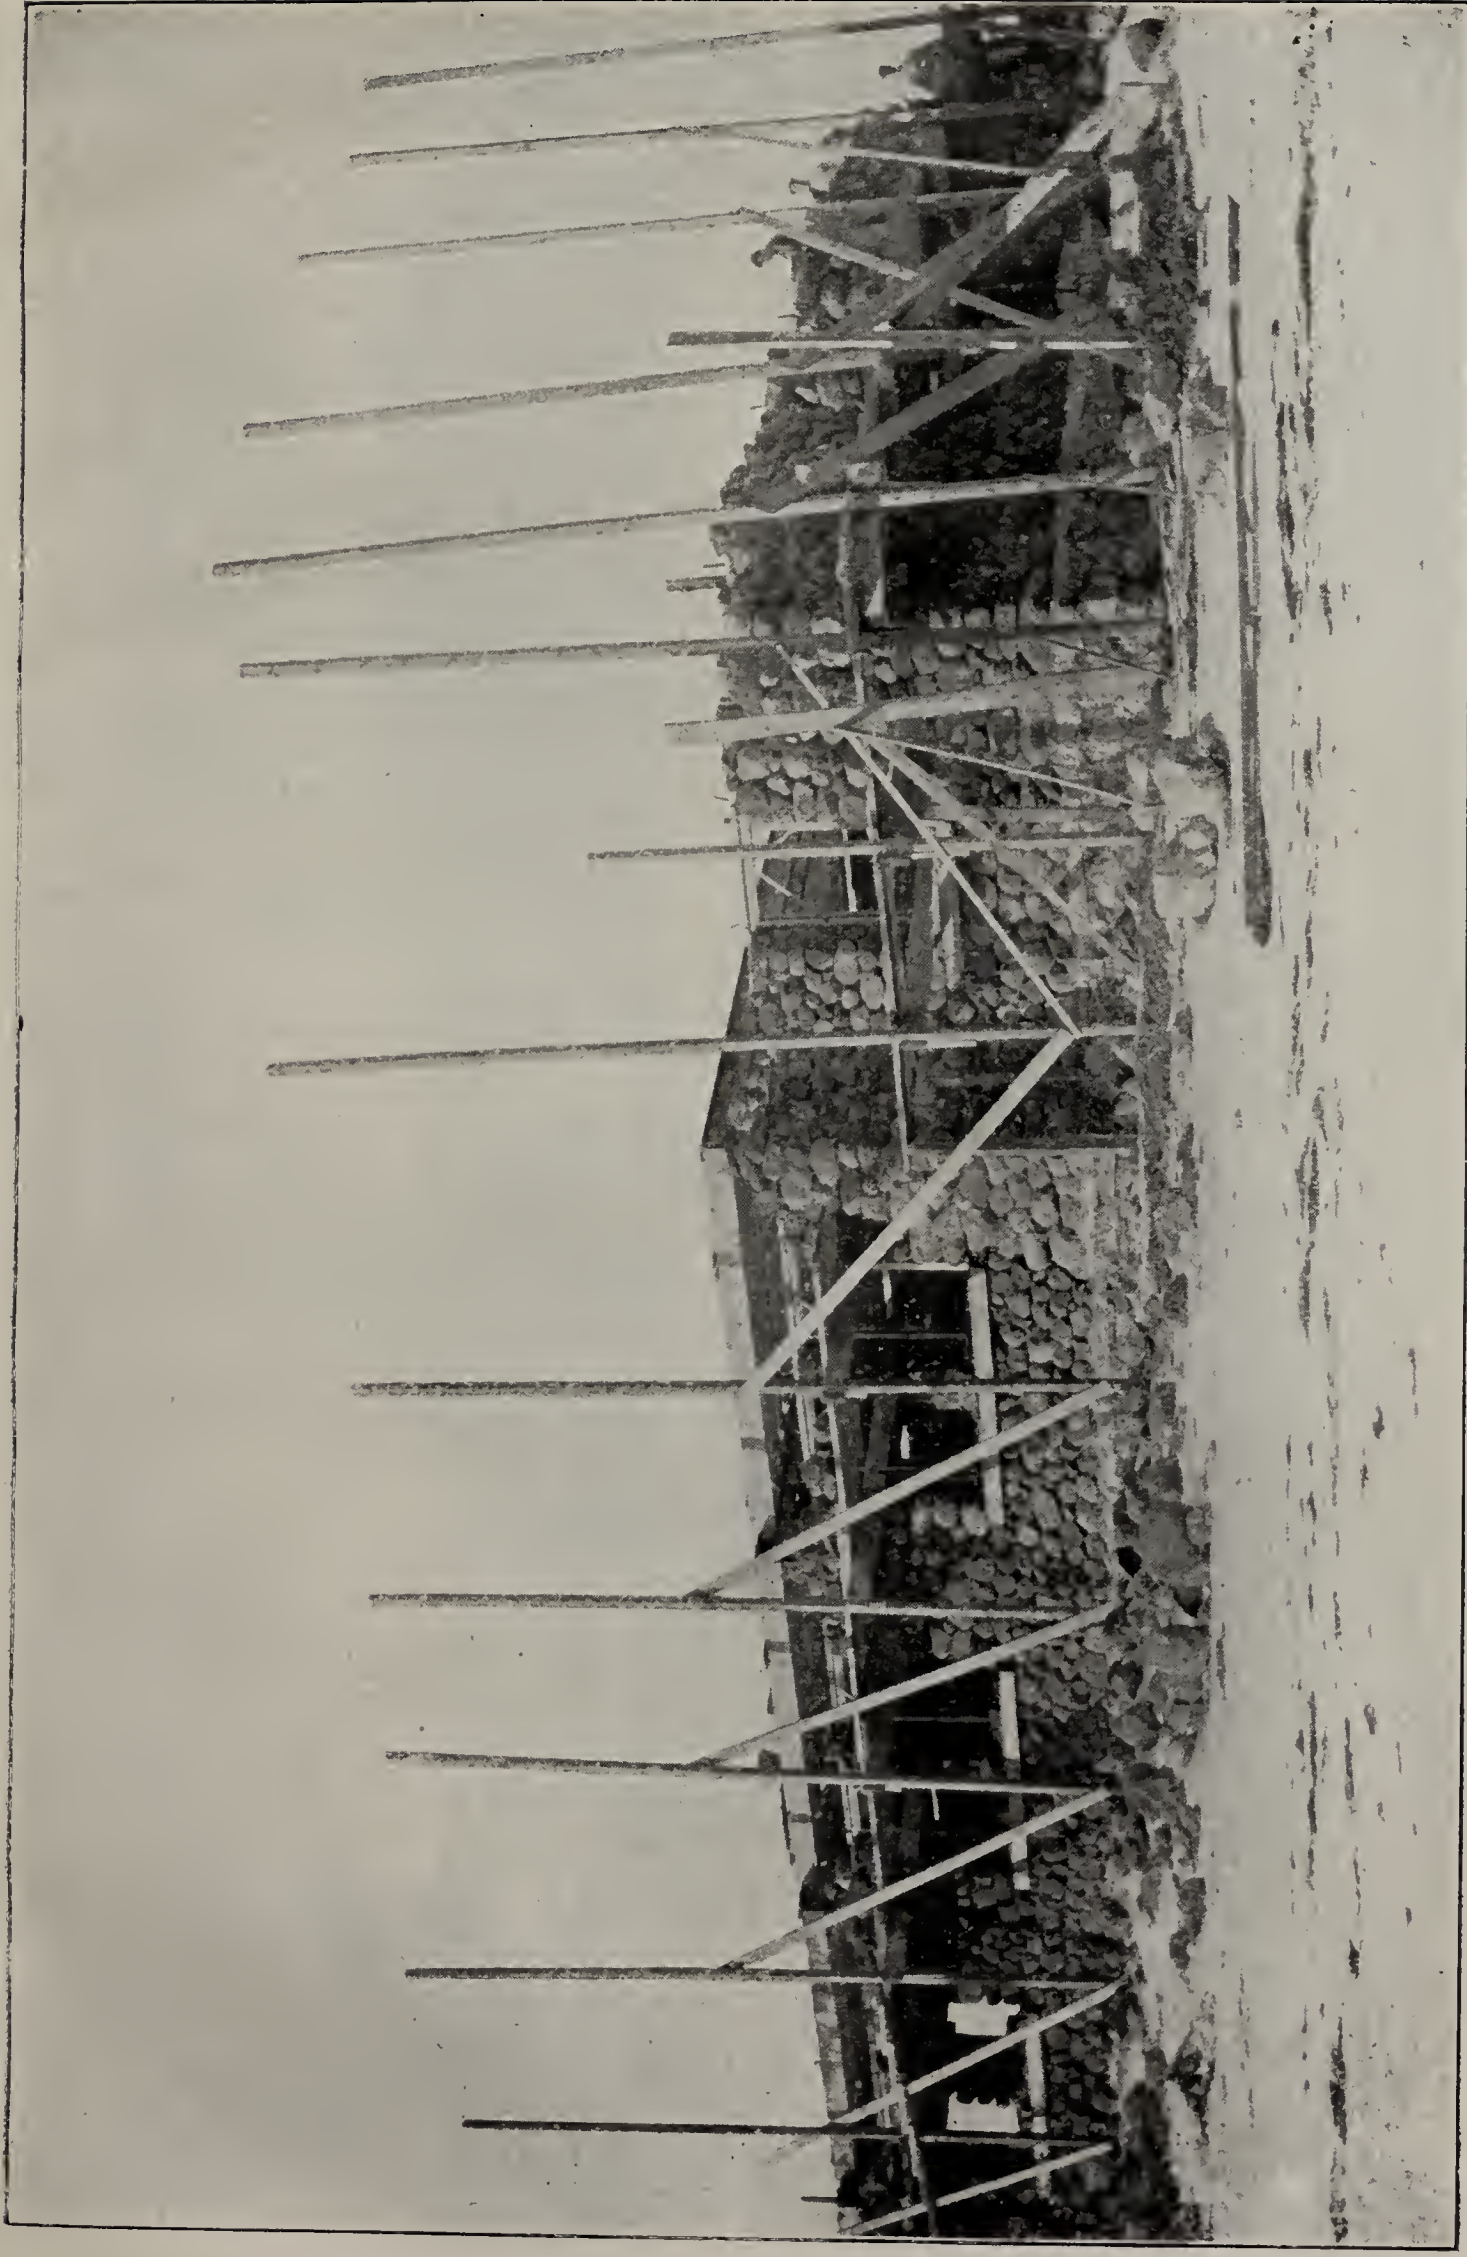

The garden work, as before stated, has been done by our boys without entailing any additional expense. The boys have also beautified and kept in perfect condition the lawns and grounds of the Villa. They have shown in every way their delight and appreciation of their Summer Home. It was purposed early in the season to increase the population at the Villa by using the two cottages in addition to the main house. This was delayed owing to the business conditions which made it difficult to obtain employment for new boys during the summer. Work was scarce and hundreds of boys were applying for every position offered. We also had to assist quite a number of our graduates who were affected by the general business depression, as we were particularly anxious to encourage and keep them on their feet. Those whom we could not assist with positions in the city we secured places for in the rural districts, where they could have a home and an average of $15.00 to $20.00 a month until such time as business picked up, so that they could return to their regular work. In this way we have prevented a number from drawing on their hard-earned savings.

With the coming of fall and since the schools have opened things have improved, and we have filled the three houses and will be able to secure employment for all the boys. We will in this way carry out the plan of benefiting as large a number as possible at the Villa. Each house is managed separately, except for meals. The boys seem to take pride in what they call "their own home," and they show it by the efforts they are making to enhance the comfort and attractiveness of their cottages. For example, the boys living in the cottages have painted and decorated the interiors, and those living in the stone cottage nearest the water have built a broad veranda, and here in the evening they gather together and talk over the events of the day while enjoying the cool air and quiet surroundings. We have thus stimulated a friendly rivalry amongst the boys and they vie with each other to see who will have the best kept house.

While at the Villa a three-day spiritual retreat was conducted for our boys by one of the Fathers of the Society of Lincoln Agricultural School Building, in Course of Erection.

Jesus. A large number of our graduates took part in the exercises and their edifying conduct was a source of pleasure to us and an example to the younger boys.

The boys for whom we have secured admission into the navy are giving a good account of themselves, and we have received very satisfactory reports from the officers regarding them. One of our boys writes us that were it not for the training he received at St. Philip's, he would not have known how to conduct himself at the receptions given to the sailors on the cruise round the world. Several of the boys now in the navy are sending in a portion of their wages, so that we may put same in the bank for them.

The reports from the employers of our boys throughout the year have been uniformly satisfactory and encouraging. The employers realize that we endeavor to cooperate with them in every way, to the end that the boys we supply them may become steady, reliable and competent workers.

On the following page is given in detail the number of boys benefited during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

BROTHER BARNABAS.

Report of the Director of the Lincoln Agricultural School, Somers Centre, N. Y.

---

SOMERS CENTRE, October 31st, 1908.

To the President and Board of Managers of the New York Catholic Protectory.

GENTLEMEN :

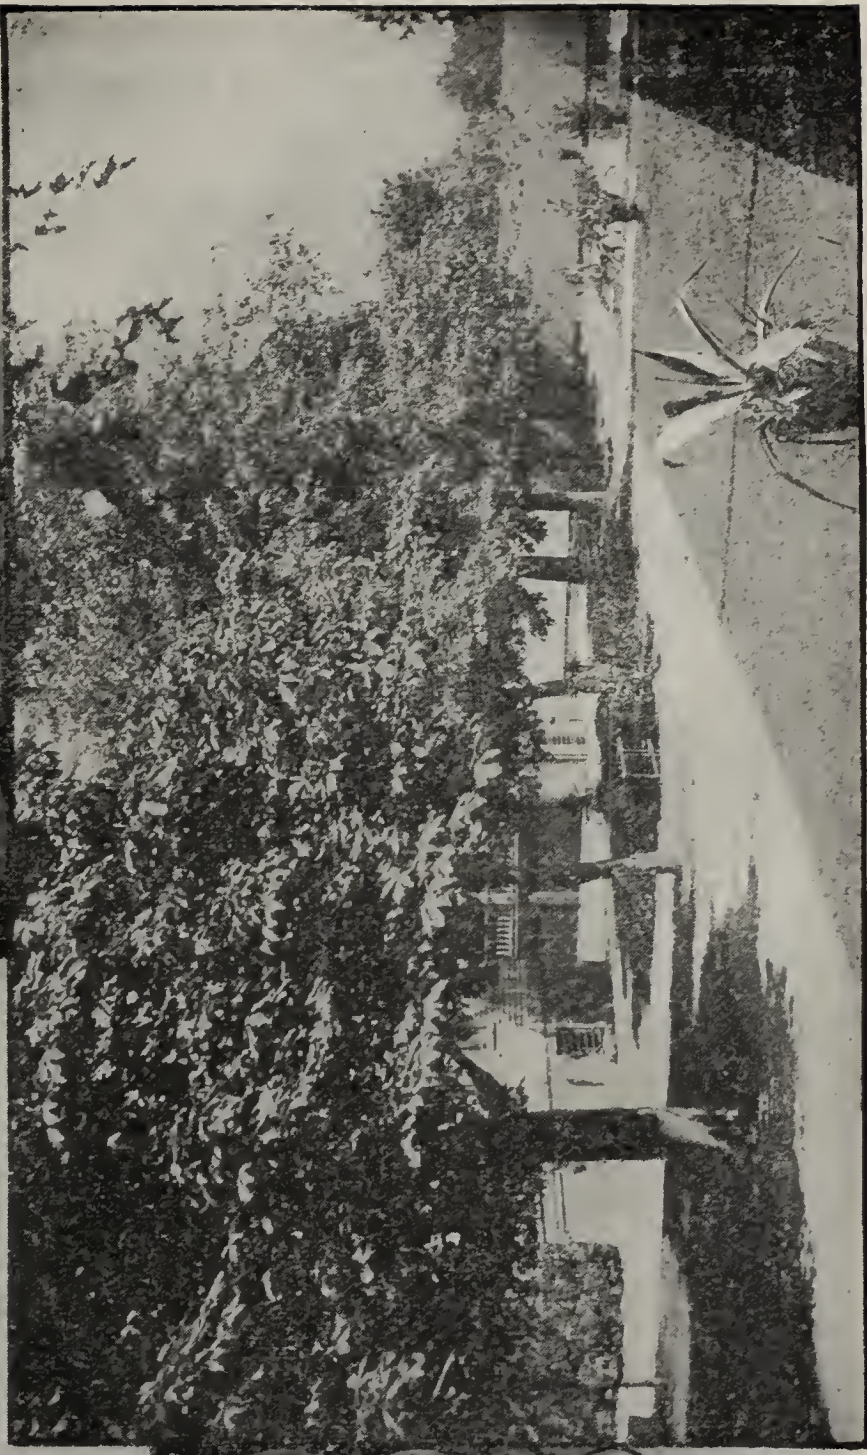

In submitting our initial report of the Lincoln Agricultural School, it is our aim to state briefly existing conditions, noting the gradual development which has taken place since the acquisition of the new property. In the purchase of the farm intended for agricultural training at Somers Centre, your Honored Board has no cause for regret. The property is unique in its adaptation to its intended purposes. From the many pretty eminences which add charm to the picturesqueness of the landscape, hills, valleys and lakes meet the eye. Its altitude of five hundred feet above the sea makes it admirably conducive to the health and physical development of our young people. Its value, considered from an ethical and utilitarian standpoint, is enhanced by a considerable acreage of valuable woodland which may serve as recreation grounds during the summer months. An artificial lake, adjacent to the site of the proposed buildings, not only produces a plentiful ice crop, but offers good skating facilities to the patrons of this healthful pastime. Immediately after securing possession of the property, the reconstruction of two houses was begun for the housing of forty children. These buildings had been neglected for many years, but now are converted into pleasant family residences. Much of the plumbing and painting was done by the larger boys from the Institution at Van Nest. On the 6th of December the first group of twenty-five boys was transferred to their new country home; eight months later the second colony of fifteen boys enjoyed for the first time the advantages of rural life. The interval which elapsed between the occupancy of the two cottages was owing to the insufficient water supply, since remedied by the erection of a pumping plant operated by a gasoline engine. Towards the latter part of June of the current year, the new barn providing for one hundred and four cows was completed; although a frame structure, its interior is finished in reinforced concrete, and it ranks foremost among the barns of modern sanitary construction. The completion, in January last, of a spacious ice house affords storage capacity for fifteen hundred tons. To afford direct access to the barn, one thousand feet of macadamized road has been constructed, equal to many of our State roads. Last spring, thirty acres of land were planted to corn, and notwithstanding the impoverished state of the soil the product averaged fifteen tons per acre. This was converted into ensilage, and is now being fed to the one hundred and twenty-five cows on the premises. Twenty acres were planted to potatoes, but owing to the unfavorable season the crop was nearly a failure. The four acres of garden supplied our boys with a plentiful supply of table vegetables through the summer and fall, with an abundant quantity to carry us through the winter.

The healthy condition of our boys, their contentment and cheerfulness, are largely due to an attractive and varied bill of fare, supplemented by healthy outdoor recreation. Pending the construction of a central power plant, the electric light is supplied by current from Croton Falls.

Fun in the Snow.

This branch of the Institution is not only intended to give the boy an education equal to that given in like grades of the public school, but in addition a thorough and practical knowledge of modern and advanced methods existing on progressive farms. The intrinsic value of this study will aid to arouse an interest in farm life, which will gradually develop into an appreciation of agricultural pursuits. In addition to the curriculum of school work, practical lessons on farm and dairy management are given daily. Boys are taught and encouraged to plant and operate their own gardens. It is interesting at times to witness the spirit of rivalry in comparing the value of their respective ownerships. Object lessons on the feeding and care of farm animals receive due attention. These lessons are imparted by competent teachers, whose ability is demonstrated by the success of their efforts. The major part of the milking is done by the boys. The operation of the separator and the butter churn is considered a privilege for the more advanced and deserving pupils. To cultivate a taste for sound, useful literature, careful study is exercised in the selection of books. Farm papers and periodicals form a large part of our little library. Whilst care is devoted to the intellectual, social and physical education of the boy to prepare him for a life of self-dependence and good citizenship, the higher duties devolving on the Christian are not neglected.

This report would be incomplete were we to omit to express our sincere gratitude to the members of the Lincoln Agricultural School Committee and the President of the Board for their encouragement and assistance ; and last, but not least, to the dear Brothers who have cooperated with me during the year in the arduous work of the education of God's little ones.

Respectfully submitted,

BROTHER DIONYSIUS.
